Won't You Look at Our Buggies and Surries? They are fairly priced, buy not little priced, because good buggies cannot be bought for little figures, and we prefer to give you permanent satisfaction to temporary deception

A principle which is as good in retailing Hardware as in any other phase of life, is to try all things and hold fast to that which is good. In years of buggy seeking we have found a buggy that we know and have proven without equal. If you want the best you want the BROWN; if you get the best you must get the BROWN. They possess that peculiar something that stamps them as "it". They look, ride and wear like a buggy ought to look, ride and wear. They are the ideal creation of a perfect vehicle. They are guaranteed from end to end. WATCH THE MAN WHO SELLS THE "JUST AS GOOD."

Let us demonstrate our Money-Saving Power on Lawn Mowers, Screen Doors and Windows, Spray Pumps, Saddles, Collars, Paint, Oil and Varnish; Alabastine for the walls. In fact everything in Hardware and kindred lines.

Emory News Notes.

Emory, Va., May 20.—Exercises were held at the State cemetery here yesterday in honor of the two hundred and six Confederate soldiers buried during the sixties. The memorial oration was delivered by the Hon. James W. Marshall, ex-Congressman from the Ninth district. Also fitting music was rendered for the occasion, and general appreciation shown to "boys in gray" who fought so nobly and fell for the cause of Southern honor. This cemetery is well kept, and beautiful pines stand guard over their dust, pointing ever upward to where their spirits have fled, ever whispering sounds of assurance to those who come to mourn these brave departed.

Prof. Fred Allison, who left here last year to attend Johns Hopkins University, is back again due to illness that necessitated his coming here having completed his course.

The Gospel of Good Roads

It is reported that up in Holston, in a certain community where the second blessing was much in vogue under the high sounding phrase of "a full gospel," the presiding elder one day asked the pastor in the Quarterly conference if he thought he had preached a full gospel to his people. The pastor said he thought he had. Then the presiding elder asked him if he had preached "the gospel of good roads." The pastor had not. That gave the presiding elder a chance to talk to the officials a little on the gospel of good roads. We were not present and do not know what the presiding elder said in the course of his remarks, but the story furnishes us with a text to do a little preaching of our own on the same subject.

We had heard the question asked at a good many District conferences: "Do your Sunday schools run all the year?" To which, in substance, this answer was given: "No; the roads are in such condition most of the winter that we have to suspend." Sometimes it is said also that "the creeks have no bridges, and the children cannot get to the church." So the whole religious training of the children in Sunday school work has to stop because of bad roads and bridgeless streams! That is only the religious side of this question, but it is a large side nevertheless. This does not touch the industrial economic sides of it.

There is nothing that advertises a country more than its roads and public buildings. It can be set down as a rule that a county that will not build good roads is behind in almost every else. The farms are generally in a poor state of cultivation, the stock is scrubby, fences are falling down, houses unpainted and the schools and churches unkept. All public interests are neglected and the farms are valueless. Strangers passing through such a county laugh at the people and advertise it far and wide as a thriftless, ne'er-do-well sort of citizenship. On the other hand, good roads advertise the people as thrifty, industrious and up-to-date. We could name a few counties, not so rich in natural resources as some others, that are known far and wide simply by the roads they have built.

Some people are so afraid of taxes that they would rather kill their horses over muddy roads and steep hills than to tax themselves to save their stock and to work with ease. So many people are "peenny wise and pound foolish." They are like the "Arkansas Traveler"—they don't cover the house in dry weather, because it doesn't leak then; and when it rains they can't cover it, because it rains too hard. They tear up wagons and buggies and kill or break down horses and mules enough in five years to build good roads, just to keep from taxing themselves a few cents on the hundred dollars' worth of property to build roads and thereby save their stock and wagon. The increase in valuation to their farms and homes alone is worth far more than the cost of building the roads. Besides, with good roads they could haul much more with the same team and hurt it less—not to mention the ease of travel.

We are persuaded that the gospel of good roads needs to be preached. People who will not build good roads deserve to be laughed at and laughed at till they become ashamed of themselves. A few years ago we talked with a farmer whose county had voted down bonds for good roads. He said: "I would pay ten dollars a year the rest of my lifetime for a road to the county town, five or six miles away, rather than haul my produce over such a road as we have, and make money by doing it." But, alas! the majority of the citizens were against him, and they are pulling through mud to this day.—Midland Methodist.

Alvah Martin to Name Postmaster.

Norfolk, Va., May 23.—It was settled today that Postmaster Carney, of Norfolk, will not be appointed for a new term but it was also settled that those who have been fighting him will get the plum, and that Republican National Committeeman Alvah H. Martin, upon whom such a great patronage fight has been made in Virginia wins out completely.

Wills Fortune to Nurse.

New York, May 20.—Legacies of $1,800,000 have been left to Miss Eleanor Peregrine, a trained nurse, by the will of Walter E. Duryea, a crippled athlete, who recently died in this city.

For twelve years, since Mr. Duryea broke his neck by a dive into shallow water, Miss Peregrine has acted as nurse, housekeeper, secretary and confidant of the helpless. It is said that she steadfastly refused Mr. Duryea's repeated offers of marriage annuities for her hand.

Under the will Miss Peregrine receives $50,000 outright, $30,000 in trust, an estate in Montclair, N. J., and the residue of the estate after certain other legacies are paid. The estate is estimated at about $2,000,000, having been greatly increased by Mr. Duryea since he inherited it from his father, the starch manufacturer.

STARTS TROUBLE

If all people knew that neglect of digestion would result in severe indigestion, yellow jaundice, or virulent liver trouble they would soon take Dr. King's New Life Pills and end it. Its the only safe way. Best for biliousness, headache, dyspepsia, chills and debility.—25c. at Carson Drug Co.

Control Wire Snapped.

Bristol, Va., May 20.—Over five thousand people saw Aviator Eells fall here Thursday afternoon in his first effort to fly from the golf links. He had sailed beautifully for nearly a mile when a control wire snapped and the Curtis biplane in which he was riding, turned on ends and fell to the ground, a distance of fifty feet. Eells, although painfully bruised, was able to examine the machine following the fall, finding it a complete wreck, aside from the motor which was uninjured. The crowd was disappointed but all realized that it was not the aviator's fault.

Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach and tone up the whole digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy action. For sale by all dealers.

Glade Spring Suffers from Disastrous Fire.

Glade Spring, Va., May 22.—While Dr. A. F. Horne, of this place, was in Bristol to witness the aviation events, fire destroyed three handsome cottages belonging to him here last Thursday afternoon, and one that was the property of Mrs. Lucy Cunningham. The loss is estimated at $8,000.00. Of this amount Mrs. Cunningham loses $2,000, her property being uninsured. Dr. Horne carried insurance on his buildings.

Will Recover from Railway Accident.

Mr. J. R. Anderson, who was seriously injured in a railway accident near Welch, W. Va., on the Norfolk and Western three weeks ago, and whose life was despaired of, is doing nicely and soon will be able to leave the hospital at Welch to which he was taken. His sons have returned to Roanoke College to resume their studies and say that, barring unforeseen complications, their father soon will be able to return home, although he had a close call and a narrow escape from death.

Mr. Anderson and several other men were overtaken on a curve by a fast freight train and the motor car on which they were riding was demolished and one of the men killed and the others injured more or less seriously. Mr. Anderson was hurled about forty feet and says he does not see how he escaped being run over. The first the men knew of the approaching train was a sudden roar behind them and they turned to see what looked like a huge black mountain bearing down upon them. The next moment they were struck a crushing blow and consciousness fled.—Roanoke Times.

Stimson Becomes War Secretary.

Washington, May 23.—Henry L. Stimson, of New York, has been sworn in as Secretary of War, succeeding Jacob M. Dickinson, who resigned to take charge of his coal interests in Tennessee. The oath of office was administered by John Randolph, Assistant Chief Clerk Schofield, of the War Dept.

Va. Besieged by Influx of 17-Year Locusts.

The advent of the seventeen-year-old locust has caused considerable uneasiness in the agricultural districts of Virginia, and it is difficult to estimate how much damage will be done by the pests.

The visitation this year is more widespread, and the charts of the agricultural department show that the pests will be seen in Albemarle, Alexandria, Amherst, Appomattox, Bedford, Buckingham, Campbell, Caroline, Charlotte, Culpeper, Fairfax, Fauquier, Fluvanna, Goochland, Hanover, Henrico, James City, Loudoun, Louisa, Lunenburg, Madison, Page, Pittsylvania, Powhatan, Prince Edward, Rappahannock, Spotsylvania and Stafford counties.

In the Wake of the Measles

The little son of Mrs. O. B. Palmer, Little Rock, Ark., had the measles. The result was a severe cough which grew worse and he could not sleep. She says: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound completely cured him and he has never been bothered since." Croup, whooping cough, measles cough all yield to Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The genuine is in a yellow package always. Refuse substitutes. Carson Drug Co.

The Inauguration Date.

Washington, May 22.—A revised draft of the proposed constitutional amendment changing date of the President's inauguration to the last Thursday in April, providing for the convening of Congress the second Tuesday of each January, and eliminating the biennial short session of that body, was presented to the House several days ago by Chairman Henry, of the committee on rules. The new resolution is the result of a prolonged conference to reach a satisfactory solution of the inauguration problem.

The Henry resolution, besides extending the terms of the President and Vice-President from March 4th to the last Thursday in April, and making their terms begin and end on that date, changes the sessions of congress so that the newly elected congress will convene in January instead of the following December. Congress thereafter would sit in long session in each year, the inauguration of a President taking place without the breaking of the session.

Victory.

Though dead the flower, That, from her tower, Love flung you in some perfect hour. Though quenched the light, That, on the height, Faith built, a beacon in the night. Though gone the star, That, seen afar, Hope lit to guide you through war.

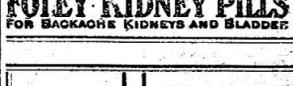

Yet draw your sword, And shout your word, And plunge into the battling herd. Give Fate the lie, And, live or die, Yet yours shall be the victory.

—Madison Cawein in Hampton's Magazine.

What Jones Said About the Virginia Judges.

"In announcing my candidacy for the Senate, as long ago as January last, I affirmed that there was an office brokerage trust in Virginia. In most, if not in all, of the public addresses which I have delivered since that time I have charged that the 'machine,' of which Senator Martin is the acknowledged head, arrogantly and impudently undertook to control and dispense the public offices of our State, the emoluments of which were sufficient to make them desirable. I have declared that this 'machine' had even laid its polluting hands upon the judiciary and had attempted to drag judgeships into the mire of sordid and filthy politics.

"In a speech which I delivered in our capital city on the 5th of this month I said in substance that so universal had this belief become that those desiring positions, either appointive by the Governor or elective by the legislature felt it necessary to apply, either in person or through their friends, for Senator Martin's endorsement. I expressed in the strongest terms I could employ, my condemnation of the political system which had brought about this deplorable condition of affairs. I have asserted upon more than one occasion and at more than one place and I now repeat, that this office brokerage business has so long existed that the belief is widespread that no man can now successfully aspire to any position, even to a judgeship, who has not the endorsement of Senator Martin. I have charged, and it is true, that so strong is this conviction that gentlemen whose qualifications for the bench were conceded on all sides, men of irreproachable character and high legal attainments, had felt that it was necessary, either in person or through their friends, to secure Senator Martin's endorsement before asking for an appointment or an election to a judgeship. This, I have asserted, was even true in cases where the aspirants for the judgeships were endorsed by their local bars and had the support of the members of the legislature from their districts.

The Farmer's Boy.

At a meeting of the presidents of twenty of the nation's largest corporations held in New York the other day it was a matter of comment that of those present twelve were "farmer's boys."

When the youngster at home on the farm gets "the blues" and fancies that there is no longer the chance that there used to be to rise above the monotony and drudgery of a tiller of the soil, he can think of those twelve captains of industry who started as he is starting and remember that when they were boys there were times when they too imagined that it was a hopeless ambition to aspire to win their way to the front in the city.

He wants to remember that the farm has evolved some of the world's greatest men and some of its most conspicuously useful ones and that with the increasing activities of the nation in all directions there is now, more than ever, room at the top for the exceptional man.

In the contemplation of the stirring achievements of the farmer's boy, past and present, if he has imagination and soul he will find helpful inspiration, when the day seems dark and the future full of gloom. Let him recollect, as the world surely does, that it was the farm that gave us Abraham Lincoln, one of the world's most majestic figures; that gave us Andrew Jackson, Millard Fillmore, the martyred Garfield, Horace Grooley, Sir Isaac Newton and the brilliant Carlyle. It was a farmer's son—Eli Whitney, who created the cotton gin, which laid the foundation for the growth of the cotton industry, now worth $900,000,000 a year to the United States and a farmer's boy—Elias Howe, who emancipated womanhood from the slavery of the needle by inventing the sewing machine.

Long before Robert Fulton sailed his steamboat, the Clermont, up the Hudson, John Fitch, the ingenious product of a Pennsylvania farm, demonstrated that a boat could be propelled by steam by equipping a skiff with an engine and sailing his craft up the Delaware with its aid. Another brainy farmer's boy—Oliver Evans—sometimes called the Watt of America, was the first to build and operate a locomotive in the United States. Cyrus McCormick, inventor of the reaper, the whirl of which is to-day heard 'round the earth, was the modest son of an Illinois farmer. From a Wisconsin farm came C. L. Sholes, the inventor of the typewriter, which revolutionized the business methods of the world.

Where service is the only credential that commands recognition and a man's ability must square with his responsibility, the "farmer's boy," who has harkened to the call of the big city will be found to-day in the front rank of the world's useful workers in every large city on the face of the earth—for he makes good and the world needs him.

BARGAIN!

The farm described below is an especially attractive proposition and will sell to the first buyer who sees it who has sufficient money to buy it. It is situated within two miles of a thriving railroad town and five miles from Ethens, Tenn. A pike road has been surveyed through the place and will be built within a year.

DESCRIPTION:

Contains 350 acres—about fifty acres in timber which is worth from $1,000 to $2,000 on stump; about 300 acres cleared and under good state of cultivation. Not an acre of waste land on the place, in fact, not acre which will not produce a paying crop of corn, wheat, rye, peas, oats or other crops. Nearly 5,000 bushels of corn was raised on the place last year. From 3,500 to 4,000 bushels will be raised this year. There will be about 1,000 bushels of wheat and about $1,000 worth of peas and soy beans. Small dairy is being operated on place which paid owner over $1,600 last year, and which should pay more this year because some cows have been added. Owner also sold about $800 worth of hogs which were fattened with milk from dairy. The total gross income from the place last year was about $5,000. Land all lays so that machinery can be driven over it. Good orchard and well watered. There is one of the finest springs in the county at the house. It is large enough to turn a small mill and is used to furnish power for operating separator. The improved ments consist of a good residence of about ten rooms, well built and well arranged, some tenant houses, a good dairy building and two large barns—both good ones; also good out-buildings.

We have been able to list this farm for a short time only for a remarkable price. You can buy it for $13,000. If you pay $6,000 Cash, can make you terms of $1,000 a year on balance. This includes the land's share of the growing crops. Renter's interest, dairy, hogs and equipment can be purchased at a reasonable figure. We have a great many good propositions at all times, but have few as good as this one. If you want it, write or wire now.

Marion Band Concert.

The largest audience of the season greeted the members of the Marion Concert Band at their entertainment given at the Court House Auditorium last Friday night. The program, under the direction of Prof. E. A. Barre, was well rendered and the result showed that Marion has the best band in the Southwest. The exciting feature of the occasion was the award of a prize doll to the little girl who had sold the greatest number of tickets, thereby obtaining the largest number of votes in the contest. Six little girls canvassed faithfully, and after some boasting on the part of good friends during the last minutes of the contest, the final vote stood: Nellie Staley, 7,850; Rose Greer, 7,485; Josephine Anderson, 3,240; Janie Johnston, 3,140; Elizabeth Greer, 2,405; Bessie Mitchell, 790. The first and second prizes were handsome dolls; the third prize a gold ring set with pearls; the last three each received a box of fine candy. Rev. M. M. McFerrin delivered the prizes.

The financial success of the concert was due to the energy and faithful work of the six little girls above mentioned. The gross receipts were $236. This money goes toward paying for instruments recently purchased by the band.

WM. D. LOFER AND FAMILY

The U. S. Government in its "Pure Food Law" does not "indorse" or "guarantee" any preparation, as some manufacturers in their advertisements would make it appear. In the case of medicines the law provides that certain drugs shall be mentioned on the labels if they are ingredients of the preparation. Ely's Cream Balm, the well-known family remedy for cold in the head, hay fever and nasal catarrh, doesn't contain a single injurious drug, so the makers have simply to print the fact that it complies fully with all the requirements of the law.

A Woman Who Got Tired of Walking Around.

Lately the efficiency experts have reminded us of the thousands of useless motions we make in our work. In the June Woman's Home Companion is a department of household news in which a number of practical suggestions appear. Here is one from a woman who has devised away to save steps while making her bed: "I use a smooth stick, about three fourths of a yard long, which serves as a long arm to place sheets and blankets and saves making so many journeys around the bed. It also smooths the bedclothes nicely."

SAVED MANY FROM DEATH
W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes has saved many lives in his twenty-five years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard coughs, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it is the best throat and lung medicine that is made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c or $1 bottle. Guaranteed by Carson Drug Company.
