THE SILENT HAND

Let our silent heroes rest On the bloody field of death; Let them rest forevermore All along the blood-stain'd shore Of our fallen Southern land— Let them rest, the silent band.

Let our silent heroes rest On the bloody field of death; Where they fought and where they fell, On mountain slope, in silent dell, On the day-late field of gore, Let them rest forevermore.

Let our silent heroes rest On the bloody field of death, And let their graves ever be The hallow'd spot of liberty, And let the nation e'er weep Where our fallen heroes sleep.

JAMES T. BRACKETT. MARION, VA.

EMPTY PURSES.

BY MAAY DWINELL CHELLIS.

"If I was in Hannah Ruskin's place I would have a new dress, or stay at home," said Etta Winkle to a young lady friend. "She has worn silk or black cashmere all winter; and for my part, I am sick of the sight of them."

"You are? Why, I was thinking only last evening, that she looked very nicely. I never thought but she had on a new dress. She received a great deal of attention."

"I know she did, but she was the plainest-dressed lady there. I wondered if she didn't wish she had on something more stylish."

"I presume she was perfectly satisfied with her dress, and so never gave it a thought. I wish I had independence enough to wear what I have, without making so many changes. It costs too much time, and where there is not an abundance of means, it requires close calculation to cut a garment according to the cloth, and still have it full regulation size, with trimmings."

"That is true, and I sometimes get so tired of it, I almost wish I could wear print wrappers the rest of my life. There are so many calls for money, too; the chapel needs a new carpet, and the mission school an addition to the library; and I wish not a penny to give. I was ashamed to refuse Mrs. Brown this morning, but I was obliged to tell her that my purse was quite empty."

"Is Mrs. Brown canvassing for both objects?" "Yes, you know she can collect more than anybody else, because she gives so liberally herself, when people know she is not rich. Her husband's income is small, compared with that of some others; but they seem to have a reserve fund for charity."

"Perhaps they have. I wish I could once get such a fund established."

"So do I. One feels ashamed not to give to a worthy object when its claims are presented."

"I suppose Mrs. Brown will come here." "Certainly. She told me she had a list of the names of the whole church and congregation, and she should call upon every one over fifteen years of age. She went from our house to Mrs. Dinsmoor's."

"Mrs. Dinsmoor doesn't have a cent but what she earns?" "For all that, she always gives, if it is no more than a dime, and when I have been there for money she always seemed glad to see me."

Mrs. Brown was always a successful collector, but this morning she met with so many refusals she was nearly discouraged when she reached Mrs. Dinsmoor's room.

"I was thinking you would be along pretty soon," said the good woman, cordially. "Yesterday, I had a chance to do an extra job of work, I got well paid for; so I am ready with my contribution. I began to think I couldn't give more than five cents apiece to those objects; but the Lord provided and here it is. I hope you find folks ready to give?"

"I am sorry to say that I have heard many complaints of empty purses this morning."

"There has been a good deal of money spent, this winter, Mrs. Brown. The storekeepers have done well. I ain't going to say anything against folks dressing well, but they'd better divide. It's a duty to give. It ain't very often I can have a new dress, but every patch I sew on, I say to myself, there's a cent saved, and I know the cent will be needed. If I didn't sew on a good many patches, I wouldn't have anything in my purse to give away, and it don't seem as though I could get along so."

"O Mrs. Dinsmoor, if everybody was like you, the gifts would all be brought into the treasury."

"Well, I don't know about that. I don't take any credit to myself, but when I was young, I used to wonder how it happened that there were so many empty pocket books and empty purses when there was a contribution called for. It's all the Lord's money only he lends us enough to make us comfortable."

"If people would only look at it in that light, they might be willing to pay better interest. But I must make one more call before I go home. I believe I will call at Mrs. Ruskin's."

"That's a nice place to go, and I know they'll be glad to see you."

"I do hope your purse is not empty," said Mrs. Brown, when Hannah came to the door.

"I am happy to say that it is not," was replied pleasantly, "I never allow it to reach that state. Come in and let me hear of your success."

"Do you find any time for study?" asked the visitor, as she observed a table spread with books.

"Not so much as I should like, but I manage to have an hour or two every day to myself."

"I was afraid you would be obliged to give up studying, after so much of the house-keeping came on your hands."

"Of course, I could not do everything. I was obliged to choose between elaborate dresses for the children and myself, and books. I was not willing to give up my books. Besides, with the necessary expenses of mother's ill health, we must economize somewhere, and we decided to economize where it would cost us the least. I presume some people think I dress very plainly. But I am talking of personal matters, when you are here on business."

"Business can wait a minute. I am thankful to hear of such personal matters. It does me good to know that one young lady is independent in the matter of dress. I am soliciting for two objects this morning."

"I expected you, and I have the offerings of the whole family ready. They are not very large, but they are what we can consistently give. Bertie was ashamed to give only two cents, but I told him better than that nothing. He accidentally broke a neighbor's window a few days ago, and payment for that nearly emptied his purse. Next time he hopes to do better."

"I am always sure of two resting places, when I go out to collect money," said Mrs. Brown to her husband, as they sat at the dinner table. "There is Mrs. Dinsmoor, good soul, who is so glad to see me, and then there is Hannah Ruskin, who is always cordial and sympathetic, as was her mother before being prostrated with ill health. Hannah is now really the head of the family, and she is a remarkably superior girl. She says she dresses very plainly, but I am sure I never thought of it. Her fine face and intelligent conversation make one quite forget her dress."

"It is a pity that can not be said of many others," replied Mr. Brown. "First among the things to be thankful for is a thankful spirit. Some people would grumble at the accommodations in heaven if they ever got there."

A big six-footer was lifting for all he was worth on a wagon wheel, which was stuck, when a little two-foot mite of humanity, nearly as broad as he was long, and just out of long dresses and into pants, with his hands in his pockets and a swaggering air, sang out: "Mister, do you want me to help you? I can grunt while you lift?"

An aged colored man was hastening home from church, and was asked why he was in so great a hurry. "O, nothin' particular, boss," was his answer, "on'y I jess heard at de confrence dat Sam Johnson's fell, I'm grace, an' I thought I'd get right down home's soon's I could'n look up my chickens; that's all."

A MUSCULAR CHRISTIAN

A few months ago a conductor on one of the Chicago street cars suddenly experienced religion and joined a small flock in the neighborhood of his residence. None more devout than he was to be found in the country around, and every spare moment from his business was put into something energetic towards strengthening up his little church into which he had projected himself. Noticing his interest his pastor, to encourage him, showed him along all he could, and in a short time the new convert was a shining light among his fellow-worshippers, and the grace which he passed, the contribution plate-evoked nickles from what before had been barren pockets.

One Sunday morning a hoodlum was noisy, and the conductor quietly ordered him out. He went, but last Sunday evening he appeared with a mob of dissolute companions bent on a difficulty.

The conductor kept an eye on the leader until the disturbance became unbearable.

"Put on brakes a moment, parson," said he, "fill I look after this fare."

Approaching the thug he went for him and wiped up several yards of aisle with him and then stood him on his legs.

"Five cents for the kingdom of God?" he demanded.

The hoodlum said he did not have to pay.

"Five cents for his ride on the gospel chariot," and he smashed the thug in the countenance.

"But, Brother," remonstrated the pastor, "you cannot compel him to contribute."

"Never you mind that, parson. You preach and I'll collect. This man can't deadhead on this orthodox through line without putting up. Besides, I'm responsible to the company for his fare. I've punched him and he's got to show coin."

A DEAD GIVE AWAY

She stood in the effulgent light of a short tallow dip, waiting for him at the front door at 1 a. m. He came. He was husky. She didn't mind that. He was drunk. She was used to it.

"Jim," she said, softly, knocking him down so as to drag him up to bed easier; "Jim, did you vote?"

"Yeah, dear."

"You've been a long-time."

"Yeah, love; poll didn't closetill jest now."

"Where's the money?"

"What?"

"The money."

"My dear, I don't understand."

"Didn't they pay you for your vote?"

"No."

"She looked at him playfully, with a box-constrictor tinkle in her eye.

"It's time woman had the franchise," she muttered; "the men ain't up to it." Then she rolled him under the bed, to out of the way, and in the morning she got him into an asylum, under the new Punch and Judycature act.

"He gave his vote for nothing," she said to the magistrate.

SOME LEADING QUESTIONS

A young man who looked as if he had a heap of things on his mind, but who had to appear outwardly calm, says the Detroit Free Press, put $5 on the desk of a Detroit lawyer, the other day, and said:

"I want to ask you a few leading questions."

"Go ahead," was the reply, as the money was quickly thrust out of sight.

"If I am engaged to a girl and I go back on her, what can she do?"

"Sue you for breach of promise."

"But if she goes back on me, what can I do?"

"Hunt up another."

"Um! Suppose I have presented her with a $2 fan, a pair of bracelets, a parasol, and a ring?"

"Then she's so much ahead."

"If I believe that her infatuation for another is but a passing whim, and I flourish a revolver and talk suicide, what then?"

"Her father will probably pick you up and drop you into the first mud puddle."

"Um! Suppose I had presented her mother with a twenty-shilling umbrella?"

"And her brother with an accordion?"

"Then he'll worry the neighbors."

"Suppose, sir, I had, for the purpose of making myself solid with the old man, presented him with $16 worth of watch-dog?"

"He'll set him upon you if you have any trouble."

"Um! Have I no redress?"

"Yes sir; go and lick the prairie ranger who has stolen away your girl's affections."

"I'll do it."

"Glad to hear it. I will defend your case for $20."

"Um!"

"Um!"

"Come to think of it, he is a bigger man than I am."

"Then, let him lick you, and I'll make it cost him $50!"

"Um! I'll think of it."

"Um! Office hours from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M."

And the young man trouble with inward agitation took himself out.

ANECDOTE OF DR. CHALMERS.

Between the years 128 and 1838 the works of Dr. Thomas Chalmers were chiefly printed in the establishment of Balfour & Co., of Edenburg, Scotland, the foreman of which tells the following anecdote of the Doctor:

"When a new pamphlet was about to be brought out he commonly received an invitation to call upon the Doctor, to consult with him about the size of type to be used and the number of pages to be made. In this case, perhaps, he was too late, as he met the Doctor with the manuscript under his arm in the lobby, and was invited into an adjoining room. In the centre of the room was an oval table covered with green baize, but every part so completely filled that it was evident nothing was expected from us. But the Doctor was not to be thwarted; with language which I do not quote verbatim, he said, 'Let us do this work on our knees,' and dropping down on his he placed the open bundle to his right hand, and lifting the uppermost sheet he handed it to me with some remarks upon the number of ems it contained, and so with at least half a dozen sheets.

"When lifting perhaps the seventh he leaped upon his feet like a young man and huzzaging and tossing the copy round his head exclaimed, 'This is what I have sought for year! I have told the people that the Town Council were continually driving the people out of the kirk into the meeting-houses by increasing the seat-rents upon them, and using the money for their own purposes, but I knew the truth of it so well that I never sought a case in point. Now here a man tells me how he and his mother were driven from one kirk to another by change of the seat-rent till he is made a Dissenter, and gives me what I never wish, matter to accuse my brethren."

The quotation is not verbatim, and need not be. The story is only told to show the earnestness with which he carried out his plans.—Presbyterian.

"What is the worst thing about riches?" asked a Sunday school superintendent. And the new boy in the bad class under the gallery, who had only come in last Sunday, stood up and said—"Their scarcity." And in his confusion the superintendent told the school to rise and sing, "Don't be weary, children."

"Will you be so kind, my little friend, as to tell your grandmother that the man who is taking the census would like to see her?" said a down-town census taker yesterday to a young miss of seven summers. The little one hesitated an instant and then replied: "Yes sir! I'll tell her, but I don't believe she has any."

A clergyman who had been traveling in a remote part of the west, and was asked by a pious old lady if he saw any encouraging signs of the spread of religion.

"I heard something," said he, rather hesitatingly, "which you might possibly call encouraging. As I passed a cabin a woman cried out to her daughter, 'Jerus Ann! you mean snarly headed cuss, come right in to prayers.'"

Mrs. Margaret Perry, of New Orleans, whose husband died four months ago, gave birth to triplets, two boys and a girl, on the day on which the Cincinnati Convention reached a nomination, and called the trio Hancock, English and America.

A bachelor advertised for a "Help mate. One who would prove a companion for his heart, his hand, and his lot." A fair one, replying, asked very earnestly: "How big is your lot?"

TRUE TO THEIR PRINCIPLES

Some of the young women employed in the caustic-soda department of the Pennsylvania Salt Works, at Southwark, declared their sympathies for the Democratic candidate last week by chalking on a large tank near the building these words: "Our choice for President, Gen. Winfield S. Hancock—Hancock forever." The circumstance was reported to the superintendent of the works who immediately ordered that the girls who had thus expressed their political preference should erase the name at once. None of the dozen female employees, however, would give the name of the offenders, and the superintendent finally decreed that they must either wash off the words or walk off themselves. Upon this announcement, one and all declared they would leave rather than obey such a command, whereupon they were ordered to go. This they did and as they marched away handkerchiefs were waved and three rounds cheers were sent up for Hancock.

NOTIONS,

No. 1208 Main Street RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.

SPRING 1880.

Dry Goods, Carpeting and Matting.

GUGGENHEIMER & CO'S.,

Show the most complete line of merchandise in their various departments in the State of Virginia, besides large additions that are being made daily. We have but one price to one and all, and pledge our patrons that none shall have a lower one. We mean just what we say—no more, no less—if, with the advantages we possess in buying and selling more dry goods than the combined dry good trade in this city, any one claims to undersell us, we would advise you to buy, if you are satisfied you are not misinformed. We call attention to 100 Pieces STRAW MATTING Plain, checked and fancy, which we offer from 10 to 25c per piece, less than we can buy the same to-day. Mattings are considerably higher, and we offer our present stock in store at the lowest price of the season. Let the wisest take a hint. We also offer the balance of our carpetings, oil cloth, rugs and crum cloth at about old prices. We cannot replace any of them at the price we sell them, and are the only firm in this city who keep a complete line of carpetings, oil cloth, and crum cloth. WHITE GOODS AND HOUSEKEEPING ARTICLES.

In them especially we are able to offer decided bargains, and are selling many of them at the lowest price, they were ever retailed in America. From a Linen House retiring in New York last October, we bought thousands of yards worth of linen goods, and offer our patrons the benefit of our fortunate purchase. We cannot possibly go into details of our immense assortment, though call attention to our stock of Table Linen, Napkins, Doilies, Crash, Wine Cloth, Marseilles, Bates, and Briljal quilts, Pillow case linen and cotton, linen and cotton sheeting, linen and cotton bed sheeting, linen, curtain, lace and lace curtains; also to Piques from 84c. to the best goods imported; Lace striped Piques at 12c. upwards; checked and striped Nainsooks from 14 to 35 cents; Victoria Lawns, Linen Lawns, in many grades, and a great many new white goods etc. Our immense stock of HAMBURG EDGING & INSERTIONS in Cambric, Nainsook, Swiss and Linen (heretofore unequalled in design and patterns) cannot be surpassed by any house in or out of the State, and are lower in price than ever before.

Our line of Trenchon Edging and Insertions, to which we have lately added largely will be found very attractive and cheap in price.

200 pieces Garter's best Persepolis, all new goods, at 12c. cents, worth that by the case to-day.

200 pieces 4-4 Grass Cloth, in the best quality made, at last season's prices.

REDUCTION IN HATS & SILKS. At no time since 1860 have we offered Black Silks as low as we are offering them now. We secured at a peremptory sale November 1879, 25 pieces of Bellon's celebrated silks including a line of goods from 75 cents to $3.

A full line of Black and colored Bindings every style of Black goods; 230 dozen Kid gloves, Hosiery, Underwear, etc.

Samples sent to any part of the country on application from parties desiring to purchase. All orders in the future must be accompanied with the money, and they will be promptly filled.

RE-ADJUSTERS' TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT: GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT HANCOCK. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT: HON. WILLIAM H. ENGLISH.

DISTRICT ELECTORS: I. Col. Robt. L. Mayo, of Westmoreland. II. Col. Wm. Lamb, of Norfolk.

THE REAL ISSUE IN VIRGINIA.

From the very first it has been evident to our mind that the real issue in Virginia in the coming presidential contest would be Funderism vs. Readjustment.

CONGRESS.

It is now settled that there will be next month, perhaps, at Marion or elsewhere, a Congressional Convention of Readjusters, to name their nominee for Congress in this district.

than before. Although they have professed that the success of the Democratic party in Virginia is paramount to all other things...

No, let us fight it out now! There is no better time, and we never will have so good an opportunity again.

This expression of the State shows most clearly that the Funderers have been looking forward with fond hope, expecting that "no better time" would ever be afforded them for gaining a victory over Readjusters.

RE-ADJUSTERS' ELECTOR FOR THE NINTH DISTRICT.

The Readjusters' electoral ticket as a whole is composed of gentlemen of worth and ability. The "elector for this, the 9th Congressional district, is Maj. JAMES C. TAYLOR, of Montgomery.

ATTENTION RE-ADJUSTERS.

For the benefit of good Conservatives or Democrats who have acted with the Readjusters, we copy the following from the Washington Star.

THE CHILD IS BORN.

The child is born and its name is PILEGAR, frequently called by the Readjusters of the Montgomery and Floyd Senatorial district "Flicker."

IT IS NOW VERY CERTAIN THAT CAPT. GEO. D. WISE WILL BE NOMINATED BY THE FUNDERS FOR CONGRESS IN THE RICHMOND DISTRICT.

It is now very certain that Capt. Geo. D. Wise will be nominated by the Funderers for Congress in the Richmond district. He and Capt. Jno. S. Wise, who will run as the Readjusters candidate, are first cousins.

Why have not the Committee for the 9th Congressional district called a Convention? It is time for them to call it. We want our candidate in the field long enough to make a thorough canvass of the district.

How disgusting to hear what the Funding leaders now say about the "honest and true Readjusters of Virginia!" Last year there were no honest men in the party.

COMMISSIONERS NOTICE.

Presented a decree of the Circuit Court of Smyth County pronounced on the 3rd day of October 1879 in the chancery cause of B. F. Aker and others against F. J. Stoneman...

J. BELL BIGGER SENDS FORTH HIS ORDERS FROM THE "ROOMS" STATE CENTRAL CONSERVATIVE COMMITTEE.

The Democratic party had just as well look the following facts squarely in the face. General MAHONEY is a United States Senator from Virginia.

THE ENTIRE GREENBACK AND COMMUNE ELEMENT OF THE WEST AND NORTH WILL VOTE FOR IT.

The entire Greenback and Commune element of the West and North will vote for it and when it is agitated and the people are made to understand that the Government only got four hundred dollars for its present obligation to pay one thousand dollars, it will be found that the farmers of Illinois and Ohio will take the same view of the subject that many farmers of Virginia have taken of our State debt.

MEMORIALISM.

HARRISBURG, July 17.—William F. Darrab, one of the Annapolis naval cadets, visited this city and while in a fit of somnambulism, last night stepped from the fourth story window of Balton's Hotel.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The New York Tribune, the official Garfield organ, has not mentioned the name of Arthur editorially, since his nomination.

THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS (REP.) SAYS THAT EX-SENATOR CONOVER, A CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR, IS A LOAD ON THE REPUBLICANS OF FLORIDA.

Gen. Hancock having been interviewed by an Associated Press reporter at Governor's Island, New York, Friday, in regard to his letter of acceptance, said that it would not be ready for probably a fortnight or more; that he had not commenced it yet, visitors and business taking up his time.

GOVERNOR WITZ, OF LOUISIANA, HAS RECOVERED HIS HEALTH IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.

Gen. Daniel Butterfield, of New York who was chief of staff of the Army of the Potomac, and an office-holder Grant's administration, says he will not only vote for Hancock, but will do all he can towards his election.

READJUSTERS TAKE NOTICE.

On Monday, the 16th day of August (that being court day), Capt. H. H. RIDDLEBERGER, of Shenandoah, and Maj. JAMES C. TAYLOR, of Montgomery, will address the Readjusters and citizens of Smyth County. Other distinguished speakers will probably be present. Let there be a full turnout of the Readjusters.

Respectfully, GEO. W. HUBBLE, Chairman Readjusters Smyth Co.

Briefs.

Dr. Wm. Farmer has been in town this week on professional business.

Splendid showers of rain are now falling almost daily, and vegetation is much refreshed and benefited.

Choice wheat is now worth 92 cents in this market.

The mild yet thorough action of DR. CLARK'S PILLS make them very popular.

Mrs. Cochran and family, of Memphis, left this place on Friday last to spend some time at the Yellow Sulphur.

Corn crops are very promising. If the season continues favorable, the yield will be immense.

A. G. Pendleton, Sup't. Public Schools for Smyth County has been examining some of the teachers for the Public Schools.

Judge Miller did not adjourn his court until yesterday.

Helping the Bees.

On Monday Mr. A. F. Bonham showed us large sheets of what he called "comb foundation." It is moulded from wax, and is indented something like the foundation made by bees. By placing sheets of this artificial foundation in the hives, the bees are relieved from the labor of going all around the country to gather wax for their comb, and of course they are able to make honey more rapidly, and more of it.

Indictments.

The grand jury on last Monday and Tuesday found twenty-four indictments and presentments. Twelve of them were for assault and battery, eight for selling liquor without license and four for adultery.

Wool Wanted!

200,000 lbs. WASHED OR UNWASHED WOOL on consignment, with which to fill Eastern manufacturer's orders. Parties preferring to sell their wool to consigning, we will pay the Highest Market Price in Cash.

New Advertisements.

J. S. Copenhaver, Commissioner advertises valuable land for sale.

The American Book Exchange has two advertisements in this issue.

Fudge & Richardson publish their law card, in this issue. This firm is composed of young, active men, and all business entrusted to them is attended to with promptness.

Settle and Robinson Caught.

Last week we published an account of the shooting of two young men by the name of Gilmer, in Russell county. We have received information that Settle was captured on Saturday near Lyons Gap, in this county. He had a wound in his cheek, received in the encounter with the Gilmers. Robinson we learn was also captured in Kentucky. Both of them are now in jail at Russell C. H. The condition of the Gilmer boys is still very critical.

Mr. H. C. MERCHANT, President of Charlottesville Woolen Mills, recommends SYRUP OF HORBHOUND and TAR. See what he says: "After using your remedy for several months past in my family for relief of coughs and colds, we have found it far superior to anything we have tried. You are at liberty to give it my unqualified endorsement."

We are manufacturing large quantities of this popular medicine. It is put up in 25c, 50c and $1. FAULKNER & CRAIGHILL, Wholesale Druggists, Lynchburg, Virginia. For sale by Druggists and Country Merchants everywhere.

Literary Revolution.

Heretofore books, good books, have been so high that only persons with considerable means could purchase literature sufficient, and of the proper character, to satisfy them. Now, however, a different order of affairs exists. A literary revolution has been produced by the "American Book Exchange." By reference to its advertisements, it will be seen that the prices of choice literature have been reduced so much, that the poor as well as the rich can gratify their literary tastes.

District Conference.

The District Conference for the Wytheville District of the Holston Conference, M. E. Church South, will be held in the Methodist Church at this place during the present week, commencing on to-day (Thursday). We are sorry to hear that Bishop Pierce will not be able to attend, owing to ill health. Dr. McFerrin, however, will be here, and he is one of the most popular and able ministers in the church South.

Some Rattlesnakes.

Mr. J. B. Harmon, who lives in the upper end of Rich Valley, in this county, killed on last Friday sixteen rattlesnakes. Ten of them were young ones and six were old. There were four more old ones that escaped. Quite a little colony of the venomous serpents.

Visiting Lawyers.

On Monday Messrs Daniel Trigg and Selden Longley of the Abingdon bar, and Messrs Yost, Thomas, Lindamood and Capt. Blair, of the Wytheville bar were in attendance upon Smyth county court.

Cheap Clothing.

I am now selling good Cottonade suits for $5.50; better for $6; good Cassimere suits for $7, $8, $9 and $12. Fine Diagonal Coat and Vest for $7.50. Pants from $1 to $7; vests from $1 to $3. Call and see them. C. H. MAURY.

Fine Wheat Sale.

Messrs. Gilliam & Co., Commission Merchants Lynchburg Va., sold on Monday the 19th, for Messrs Neff & Dungan, Fultz wheat at $1.15. This is the highest price of the season. This is a reliable house and will get the highest prices and make prompt returns.

Death of Mrs. Minter Jackson.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock Mrs. Belle Jackson, wife of Mr. Minter Jackson, died at the Exchange Hotel, in Marion, in the 50th year of her age. The deceased was an excellent christian lady. She was the daughter of Col. Robert Beattie deceased, who was the first Clerk of Smyth County, and one of the best citizens the County ever had. Services will be held over the remains at the Exchange at 9 o'clock this (Thursday) morning after which they will be taken to the Beattie burial ground, near Sulphur Springs. On next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the Rev. J. C. Lowe will preach the funeral of the deceased at Sulphur Springs church.

We advise every one to keep a bottle of Ramon's Relief in the family, for cramps, colic, headache, &c., at this season of the year.

Old Rockingham Sold For Readjustment.

HARRISONBURG, VA., July 19, 1880. Old Rockingham held the largest meeting to-day ever assembled in the county. Massey, Riddleberger, Colonel Jones, Paul, and Colonel Deval were the speakers. The Funder faction held a meeting at the same time. They refused to join in the discussion. We had four to one in our meeting. Pat old Rockingham down solid for Readjustment. Whig OBSERVER.

Healthy Fruits.

We have reliable assurance that Auditor Massey will save to the State not less than $100,000 this year in the administration of his office by cutting off expenses of various kinds stopping leaks, and arresting pecuniary delinquencies upon the Treasury. Superintendent Williams, of the penitentiary, we are informed, expects, before the year closes, to have the penitentiary upon a self-supporting basis. Heretofore it has required an annual appropriation of from $60,000 to 70,000 to meet the expenses of that institution. This looks like business and State devotion. If Readjustment means this kind of work the people will flock to its support. Here is a sum approximating $200,000 saved to the people's pockets. Let the good work go on. Such fidelity to public trusts will be appreciated. Valley Virginian.

A match game of quoits for $100 a side, between B. Doid, of London Ont., and W. W. Wingham, the champion of the Dominion was played at London Ont., Wednesday, resulting in favor of Doid by 61 to 42. The Thirty-eighth Virginia Confederate Regiment is to have a reunion at Danville, July 22.

Mixing.

Political amalgamation in Virginia is as destructive of political prosperity as miscegenation is of social order. Lynchburg Advance.

Yes, The crossing of Rives on Beverly in 1878 is what destroyed the Conservative party; and in 1879 the Funder were brought to shame and grief when Daniel and Yankee Allen became political bed-fellows. Richmond Whig.

This is a good dodge, but it will not do. Every one knows that amalgamation and miscegenation applies to a mixture of Black and white. Rives and Beverly, Daniel and Allan are all white. Advance.

We thought political amalgamation was your theme. However, if you want it in white and black, how will Rev. Dr. CURRY and Rev. DANIEL do? How about ECHOLS and PETER J. CARTER at Staunton? How about the grand Funder flocking to that black political ram, ROSS HAMILTON? What sort of a mixture was that which was too much for Hon. JOHN E. MASSEY in the Albemarle district? Whig.

What evidence have we that the Mahone electoral ticket would vote for Hancock and English even if they were to be elected? Danville Post.

The men who compose that ticket have always opposed Hugh McCulloch; they opposed the breaking up of the Conservative party in 1878, when Echols & Co. deserted and allied themselves with Rives & Co.; they fought the State and National Republican Machines last year, when these were in alliance with Echols & Co.; they opposed the election of a Republican to the United States Senate, when Echols & Co. were credited with doing all they could to that end; they stood by the will of the people as expressed last November, when Echols & Co. were willing and anxious to overthrow that will by following Ross Hamilton; and, finally, they opposed the putting up of the Grip-Sack Republican electoral ticket at Staunton, and Echols & Co. were too much for them—Staunton being Echols' own dung-hill, so to speak. There is a little evidence of the kind the Post asks for, although, to be sure, is cuts the McCulloch electoral ticket pretty deeply at the same time. Whig.

The Democratic Readjusters in this county have no lot or part in Mahone's ticket.—Mecklenburg Democrat.

Meaning the People's Readjuster ticket of July 7th, The Democrat ventured to speak for these Readjusters last year—but it slipped up badly. Better dry up! Whig.

Let the clarion voice of Daniel the irresistible logic of Henry Allen, the golden words of Goodé, and the thundering satire of Kan. Tucker, be again heard arousing our people to a sense of their danger.—Funder Letter from Pulaski.

These be terrible giants of old, and if they were in sympathy with the people, their tread would shake the earth over all Virginia, but the fact that they are united by one supreme motive to yoke Virginia to the coupon outrage deprives them of all influence. Some figments of glory indeed they inherit, but the trail of the coupon is over them all. Bristol News.

Readjusters can vote the true Democratic electoral ticket without yielding their right to vote against the Conservative party on the State debt. Louisa News.

That's nothing. They can vote the true Hancock ticket and vote against the Funder at the same time. That's better! Whig.

The Readjuster Elector in the Seventh District.

The State Convention of Readjusters has presented to the people of Virginia an able and highly respected electoral ticket. Some of them are well-known throughout the Commonwealth as speakers of force and influence, and others whose names are familiar in their respective districts. In the Seventh district the elector is a young man not very well known outside of his own county, but we venture the assertion, that before this canvass closes, he will march up a step higher and count his friends by the thousands among the people who compose his constituents. S. Brown Allen is a grandson of James Frazier, deceased who died upon the farm at Jennings' Gap, in Augusta county, where Mr. Allen now lives. His pursuit is farming, and anything connected with that important calling receives his critical attention. He is known as a liberal, having first commenced in a printing office at Charlottesville, and thence to Washington College, where he stood high in all of his classes. Until the question of Readjustment was broached in Virginia he had never taken any prominent part in local politics. A close reader and earnest student, he familiarized himself with the financial situation of Virginia, and was early in taking a position against the unjust Funder Bill of 1871. He was among the leading participants in the first Readjuster meeting ever held in Virginia—that of the farmers of Augusta in the spring 1877. It was there where the ball of Readjustment was started. In the fall of that year he canvassed the county for the Readjuster ticket, headed by Mr. George Seavright, for the State Senate. In the fall of 1879 he was put forward by the Readjusters for the State Senate against Major A. Koerner, receiving a majority of the votes cast outside of the city of Staunton. When the State organization of Readjusters was effected at Mozart Hall, Richmond, Mr. Allen was chosen chairman of the County Committee of the Readjuster party, which place he now holds.

Mr. Allen is a young man of decided talent and well informed, and a graceful and forcible speaker. He will make an active and effective canvass of the district. Earnest, aggressive and self-poised, he will do good work for the cause he represents and maintain it with dignity and courtesy. He is a gentleman by instinct, and will indulge in no "mud-fighting"—nor allow himself to be drawn into mere personal disputes. Valley Virginian.

General News.

LONDON July 17.—The House of Commons in Committee of the Whole last night, resumed the consideration of compensation for disturbance bill.

Mr. Gladstone moved an amendment of which he gave notice last Monday viz: that the last clause of the bill shall read as follows: And the tenant shall be liable to compensation in the discretion of the county court judge, if non-payment of rent is caused by prevailing distress and the tenant is willing to continue in occupation upon reasonable terms of rent, arrears of rent and otherwise and if such terms are refused by the landlord without reasonable alternative. Mr. Parnell moved to add after the word "alternative" the following: comprising just and reasonable terms as to rent arrears, rent and otherwise to incoming tenant if any? Mr. Gladstone objected. After a warm discussion Mr. Parnell withdrew his amendment, and Mr. Gladstone's amendment was adopted by a vote of 225 to 25.

Mr. Briggs, liberal member for Blackburn, moved that the erection of a statue to the Prince Louis Napoleon in Westminster Abbey, is inconsistent with the national character of the edifice and is calculated to impair good feeling between England and France.

Mr. Gladstone said excepting certain royal chapels the Dean's authority over Westminster Abbey was absolute. He advised the house not to interfere.

It is rumored that the Indians around Deep Creek and Medical Lake, Washington Territory, have murdered several families in that vicinity, and are now on the war-path.

Chambers' Encyclopaedia.

15 VOLS. OVER 13,000 PAGES. PRICE DURING JULY, $6.25. Among the many wonderful things which have been accomplished for lovers of good books by the "Literary Revolution," perhaps the most wonderful is the reproduction of this great Encyclopaedia at a mere nominal cost. It is a veritable reprint of the last English edition, in 15 beautiful volumes, clear non-parallel type, handsomely bound in cloth, for $7.50; the same printed on a heavier paper, wide margins, and bound in half Russia, gilt top, price $10.00. The first ten volumes are ready for delivery. Vol. 11 will be ready July 19. The remaining volumes will be completed by October next.

An Amazing Offer $6.25. The more widely and rapidly these volumes are scattered, the greater is their influence in inducing other purchasers of this and our many standard publications. Accordingly, those who order and money sent, will receive the 15 volumes in cloth for $6.25, and in half Russia, gilt top, for $12.50. To any one sending from any place, where we have no special agent (usually the leading book-seller of the town) a club of five orders, we will allow a commission of 10 per cent. The volumes issued will be sent at once by express, and the remaining volumes when completed.

A specimen volume in cloth will be sent, post paid for 50 cents, or in half Russia, gilt top for $1 and must be returned at once if not satisfactory. The "CHAMBERS' ENCYCLOPAEDIA" comprising the first 15 volumes of our "Library of Universal Knowledge," and the remaining volumes, complete in themselves, will be sold separately when published.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Exercise your judgment.—A never and better philosophy.—To pull down all absurd and antiquated notions of diseases and their cures, and to establish a rational system on the ruins, has been the chief object of HOLLOWAY through his Pills. Hence the origin of his celebrated Pills and Ointment—remedies in keeping with common sense, because subservient to nature, rather than at variance with her laws, like those in general use. To the stomach we trace dyspepsia, headache and general debility; to the liver, bile, jaundice, and yellow fever; to the bowels, diarrhoea, dysentery, constipation, piles and fistula; to the lungs, consumption, etc.; to the blood, scrofula, curvey, and all cutaneous eruptions. By keeping these organs and vital fluid pure and healthy we may safely defy the attacks of disease, and no medicine yet prepared for this purpose can equal the action of these Pills and Ointment, as they drive to the seat of the disorder, and extracting its cause, destroy its effect.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HOLLOWAY, as agent for the United States, surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents, and $1 each.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., NEW YORK. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Possessed of this REMEDY, every man may be his own Doctor. It may be rubbed into the system, so as to reach any internal complaint; by these means it cures Sores or Ulcers in the THROAT, STOMACH, LIVER, SKIN, or other parts. It is an infallible Remedy for HAIR LOSS, BALDNESS, Contracted or Stiff Joints, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, and ALL SKIN DISEASES.

THE FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

USEFUL TO KNOW.

Excellent Bread Cakes.—One cup butter, two cups brown sugar, one half cup raisins, stoned and chopped one and a half cups dough, as raised for bread, mix thoroughly and let it rise in the pans before baking. Spices of all sorts.

Borax.—A teaspoonful or more of powdered borax thrown into the bath tub while bathing will communicate a velvety softness of the water and at the same time invigorate and rest the bather. Persons troubled with nervousness or wake nights will find this kind of a bath a great benefit.

Rice Cakes.—Boil rice until it is soft, and while warm make it into cakes or flat balls. Dip the balls into a beaten egg, and then roll them in Indian meal till thoroughly coated. This done, fry them in lard, which is better than butter for this purpose. Serve them with sauce, or with cream and sugar.

Preserved Blackberries.—Pound for pound of berries and sugar. Put them in a preserving kettle over a slow fire until the sugar melts. Boil 25 minutes fast. Take out the fruit in a perforated skimmer and fill a number of small cans three-quarters full. Boil and skim the syrup five minutes longer, fill up the jars and seal while hot. Keep in a cool dry place.

Cold Tea.—As usually made, cold tea is an unwholesome drink. The tea is made in the teapot, as usual, and then cooled therein, and perhaps allowed to stand in the teapot for many hours before being drunk; by this process the tannin of the tea leaves is extracted and the result is a strong decoction of tannin. To make it properly, the tea should be drawn the usual length of time, say 5 minutes for green tea, 8 minutes for Oolong tea, and fifteen minutes for English breakfast; then pour it off into a pitcher or other suitable vessel, allow it to become cool, then place it in the ice chest.

Ginger Beer.—A good family beer for warm weather may be thus made: Lump sugar, five pounds; crushed Jamaica ginger, five ounces; cream tartar, four ounces; ten lemons, sliced and five gallons of boiling water. These should be mixed in a vessel that can be securely covered until cool, but should be freely stirred from time to time as the cooling progresses; when lukewarm add ten ounces of yeast, and keep in a warm place to encourage the fermentation strain through a flannel filter, and let it stand to ferment again for a short time, then take off the scum and bottle, the corks being tied or wired down.

Cleanse Immediately.

There is a good fraction of the success in butter making dependent on the proper cleaning of dairy utensils. Some appear to think it will do just as well to wait a few hours before the milkpails are washed and scalded; that the churn may stand a half or whole day before being washed and the germs of decay killed by heat; that the cream-pail may be used for several batches of cream, before thorough cleansing, because sweet cream is going into it again; that the butter-worker may stand until you want to use it again before scalding, because it will be then freshly cleansed when you use it, etc.

There is altogether too much of this heedless way of carrying on butter making. The nitrogenous portion of milk (casein) furnishes just the substance required for ferments, for the development of germs wholly inimical to pure milk or butter. These ferments remain in the crevices of wood, or the seams of tin vessels, and unless they are dislodged by immediate cleansing, it requires boiling or steaming, for a considerable length of time, to dislodge them. Every utensil, after each use, must be immediately cleansed if you wish to prevent taints in your milk, cream, or butter. Wooden pails are now discarded from use by the cheese factories, because they cannot be trusted to properly cleanse them.

If they were immediately subjected to steam heat or boiling water after each use, they would be sweet; but this steam or boiling water requires to penetrate every pore. The dairy-maid or operator cannot be too prompt in cleansing dairy utensils.—Live-Stock Journal.

Potato flour sells in Liverpool for nearly twice as much as that from wheat. It is the dry, evaporated pulp of the common potato, and is used for several manufacturing purposes, including starch, sizing and dressing for silk.

Prevention is surely better than cure; and to prevent the diseases of babyhood from attacking your child, use in season Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup the safest and best remedy for children. All druggists sell it.

CATARRH.
 CATARRH is the forerunner of Consumption, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Female Debility, and many other diseases. It is a disease of the mucous membrane, and is characterized by a running or discharge from the front or back portion of the nose, by a running or discharge from the throat, loss of voice, loss of smell, loss of taste, nasal catarrh, and a feeling of fullness in the throat and nose, bad smell of the breath and nose, ringing in the ears, dizziness, faint feelings, coughing, hoarseness, irritation of the throat, and a general feeling of weakness, with more or less loss of memory. These symptoms may also be attended with a discharge from the eyes, and a general feeling of weakness.
 Catarrh is produced by specific GERMS or PARASITES lodged in the mucous membrane, producing Catarrh, DYSPEPSIA, BRONCHITIS, and CONSUMPTION. In all cases the parasites are in the blood, and produce every conceivable form of blood poisoning, being forms of the Catarrh germs produce ASTHMA, HAY FEVER, and violent fits of coughing, while others cause Malaria, Inflammation of the Lungs, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Skin Diseases, Falling of the Hair and Premature Greyness.

FOR SKIN DISEASES use Prof. Paine's Catarrh Vapor as directed on each bottle. FOR FULL TREATMENT send for Prof. Paine's Positive, Never-Failing Treatment of Catarrh, Bronchitis, and Consumption, etc., read the leaflet enclosed.
 The most wonderful cures ever known in Catarrh, Consumption, etc., read the leaflet enclosed.
Things That Never Did and Never Will Cure Catarrh.
 Oxygen gas, oxygen inhalants, powders and snuffs, nasal douche with salt and other irritants, carbolic acid, mercuric iodine, fumes of nitrous oxide, electricity and galvanism, irritating oils, tar, the pretended cure for the hair, honey, alcohol, and all other remedies. Those pretended cures have been thoroughly tried, and have proven a failure. No great and universal has been the failure in the treatment of cases of Catarrh, Bronchitis, and Consumption. I was obliged to begin a systematic investigation of the whole subject. After numerous experiments, protracted observations and investigation, I have at last made grand discoveries of Catarrh Vapor and the Antiseptic Tonic. Without any pretension I offer these remedies to the public justified by the experience of ten years' study and practice and the successful treatment of 30,000 cases. So far as I know not a single failure to cure has occurred in my practice.
 For Description and Cure of All Diseases, send for Prof. Paine's Large Practice of Medicine; 1,000 pages, $1.00.
FOR HOME TREATMENT, send for Prof. Paine's Domestic Practice or New School Remedies; 500 pages, $1.00.
 For Personal Examination and Treatment, call or write to Prof. Paine, 231 S. Ninth street, Philadelphia.
For Positive, Never-Failing Cure of FEVER AND AGUE, CHILL FEVER, NEURALGIA AND RHEUMATISM, use Prof. Paine's Antiseptic Powders and Antiseptic Tonic.
For Positive Care of all forms of NEWSPAPER DEBILITY, use Prof. Paine's S. P. Pill or Nerve Tonic Syrup.
 Medicines may be ordered through druggists, agents, or directly from the main office, 250 SOUTH NINTH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

BEST IN THE WORLD!
CHURCH & CO'S
SODA
PURE
 Impure Bi-Carb Soda is of a slightly dirty white color. It may be distinguished by its taste, it is not so sweet as a comparison with CHURCH & CO'S SODA and HEADLINES BRAND will show the difference.
 See that your Baking Soda is white and PURE, as should be ALL SIMILAR SUBSTANCES used for food.
 A simple but severe test of the comparative value of different brands of Soda is to dissolve a dessert spoonful of each kind with about a pint of water in the presence of clear glass, stirring until all is thoroughly dissolved. The delicate insoluble matter in the inferior Soda will be shown after settling some twenty minutes or sooner, by the milky appearance of the solution and the quantity of floating frothy matter according to quality.
 Be sure and ask for Church & Co's Soda and see that their name is on the package and you will get the purest and whiteest Soda. Two ounces of this with four ounces of water, in preference to Baking Powder, saves twenty times its cost.
 See one pound package for valuable information and read carefully.

 Having made valuable improvements in my store house and increased my stock, I am now better prepared than ever to exhibit one of the handsomest and cheapest stocks of stoves and tinware to be found in the city.
THE ENTERPRISE COOK

 Is growing in favor as it becomes known, doing the cooking satisfactorily and consuming less fuel than any stove in this market. Country merchants will find it to their interest to give me a trial on tinware. Good ware at low figures is bound to win.
