

2
we got on board - none from home for something guess you are not writing as you said - the Homerie was an old German boat - the Columbus it is not very modern - the food is good but not like the Roma - there are about 10 people on I knew in America - a lot of young students and some miscellaneous people - they call this the school "teacher's special" - this morning it is rough and a lot are sick - there is plenty to drink on - there are putting whiskey in medicine bottles to get it thro customs - No one seems to know when we will get in -

White Star Line

On board S. S. "HOMERIC"

1
We got to Cherbourg <sup>Thursday</sup> at 2:30 after going thro customs we waited on a tender in the harbor until 6 - Finally we saw the Homerie which had been waiting outside perched way up high turn and enter - It was a pretty sight - I think I got to the harbor and see boats often - I got two letters from Estonia when 3

Morris just and Dudley Field Malone seem to be the only celebrities on - We saw a boy in handcuff on - The stewardess told us he was a naval lieutenant who had gone insane - On the last trip a dancer whose mother was a Christian Scientist and would not let her do anything but appendicitis - Finally they stopped the ship and operated but the appendix had burst & she died - The stewardess says they have British reports every trip who are insane -
One of my stateroom mates is a dancer - We are reading gentleman Mary Bunelles aloud - It is delightful - It mentions Sherwood -

4
We nearly had a storm last night but it fizzled out - We had church service this morning - the very handsome priest reading the Anglican Service & praying for King George & including as an after thought the president of the U.S.
A Jewish girl told me the Golden Rule was the heart of Judaism and asked me had I ever heard of it - There is a group of Wellesley College girls in housing - The fog will make us late getting in N York - If you know of anybody coming from NY let me know - I hope a satisfactory solution has been found at the College so that Aunt May will not have to worry -

6
line of rabbits for 15 centuries has offered to get some stuff through customs for me so wish I had brought more -

In addition to three big meals we have horillion at 11 and tea and cake at 4 so tho I am fatter than ever -

Wednesday - We have been having terribly storms and now the most atrocious heat - I haven't been able to sleep - I was discouraged but everyone else feels so bad -

a girl to whom I showed Maxie's veil said it would cost $200 in N.Y.

5

White Star Line

On board S.S. "HOMERIC"

We passed a lovely sail ship today - the first of any kind we have seen - We are supposed to stay 100 miles away from any other ship

Thursday - Its warm today and people are in the swimming pool - a Jewish girl whose family has an unbroken

[On Board S.S. Homeric]
Thursday

We got to Cherbourg at 2, 30 after going through customs we waited on a tender in the harbor until 6. Finally we saw The Homeric which had been waiting outside perched way up high turn and enter. It was a pretty sight. I think I'll go to the harbor and see boats often. I got two letters from Estonia when we got on board. None from home for sometime. Guess you are not writing as you said. The Homeric was an old German boat. The Columbus. It is not very modern. The food is good but not like the Roma. There are about 10 people on I knew in America. A lot of young students and some miscellaneous people. They call this the school "teachers special." This morning it is rough and a lot are sick. There is plenty to drink on. Men are putting whiskey in medicine bottles to get it through customs. No one seems to know when we will get in.

Morris Gest and Dudley Field Malone seem to be the only celebrities on. We saw a boy in handcuffs on. The stewardess told us he was a naval lieutenant who had gone insane. On the last trip a dancer whose mother was a Christian scientist and would not let her do anything had appendicitis. Finally they stopped the ship and operated but the appendix had bursts and she died. The stewardess says they have British deports every trip who are insane.

One of my stateroom mates is a dancer. We are reading Gentleman Marry Brunettes aloud. It is delightful. It mentions Sherwood.

We nearly has a storm last night but it fizzled out. We had church service this morning. The very handsome [illegible] reading the Anlican Service and praying for King George and including as an after though the pres of the U.S.A.

A Jewish girl told me the golden rule was the heart of Judaism and asked me had I ever heard of it.

There is a group of [illegible] college girls in tourist.

The fog will make us late getting in N York.

If you know of anybody coming from N Y let me know.

I hope a satisfactory solution has been found at the college so that Aunt May will not have to worry.

We passed a lovely sail ship today. The first of any king we have seen. We are supposed to stay 100 miles away from any other ship.

Monday – Its warm today and people are in the swimming pool.

A Jewish girl whose family has an unbroken line of rabbis for 15 centuries has offered to get some stuff through customs for me so I wish I had bought more.

I addition to three big meals we have bouillion at 11 and tea and cakes at 4 so That I am fatter than ever.

Tuesday – We have been having terrible storms and now the most [illegible] heat. I havent been able to sleep. I was discouraged but everyone else feels as bad.

A girl to whom I showed Mazies veil said it would cost $200 in N.Y.