Sunday School Rooms Opened

The new Sunday School rooms of the Methodist Episcopal church, were thrown open to the members of the church Monday night, for inspection. All of the members of the Sunday School and church were especially invited, and a program was arranged for their entertainment. The building which has 25 class rooms is a large brick building of two stories, and has class rooms in the basement and at the end of the building; a sub-basement has been placed where the heating plant is located. This is one of the finest buildings in this section of the state from the standpoint of arrangement, equipment and construction. ## Closing In On Xmas Booze

Our officers are fully aware that the festive manipulator of the copper still is getting ready to furnish a liberal supply of booze for Christmas, but every now and then the officers slip in on his operations and disarrange his plans. This occurred last week when Messrs. Dillard and Whisman broke up a still in Kerns Valley, capturing a copper still, cap and worm and some 150 gallons of mash.

Again on Monday afternoon they broke up a plant that was in operation in the mountain about two miles from Thomas Bridge. This was a zinc outfit and they also got some 250 gallons of mash ready for the running. While they did not find any one at the still it was hot when the officers arrived on the scene. Messrs. Dillard, Whisman, Server and Castle were in the party that broke up the last plant.

The indications are that Smyth County officers will come pretty near making the Christmas holidays dry if they keep on the trail of the boot-legger.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Every member of the church should be present at 11:00 A. M. when the election of officers will be held and the pastor will preach on Holy Grounds. At 7:30 P. M. the Hon. W. H. Rouse of Bristol, Va., will speak. He is a very interesting and entertaining speaker. All who hear him will have a treat. The Sunday School will meet at 9:30 A. M. and the Young People at 6:30 P. M. Come and bring your friend.

Maiden Grose-close Dead.

On November 6th the Mt. Carmel community and town of Marion suffered a great shock, and is now overshadowed with gloom, caused by the sudden and untimely death of Maiden Groseclose. George Maiden Groseclose, second son of Jas. A. and Annie E. Groseclose, was born October 12, 1896 and slipped out of his frail tabernacle of flesh and entered his building of God, the house not made with hands eternal in the Heavens, a few minutes after 8 P. M., November 6th, 1924.

He was converted in a meeting conducted by Rev. J. S. W. Neel, and united with the Mt. Carmel M. E. church South, September 5, 1918. Maiden received his education from the schools of Marion, Emory and Henry College, and University of Virginia. Since his return from school he has been engaged in agriculture. He was a valuable citizen, possessing the sterling qualities that constitute a worthy man. He had office in the Sunday School at Mt. Carmel during the past year and was a regular attendant at Sunday School. He was also a member and officer in the Senior Epworth League at the time of his death.

As a member of four church and Sunday School, his presence and support will be greatly missed and his place will be very hard to fill. He enjoyed the association of his friends, who were many. He possessed a very kind disposition, he was respected and loved by all who knew him. Maiden was an obedient, dutiful son, a kind brother and a strong devoted factor in the home. As a business man he was well qualified and attended to business in a business way and at the right time, never neglecting business for pleasure. He was ever ready and willing to do anything and everything he could for the betterment and uplift of his Community. The day before his death he worked at the Mt. Carmel Cemetery near his home. He always found pleasure in relieving his father of business interests.

The high esteem in which he was held was attested by the large congregation and the elaborate and beautiful floral tribute in evidence at the funeral. The congregation was possibly the largest ever seen at Mt. Carmel church.

It is always sad to say goodbye to our departing loved ones, but much more so when they go in the bloom of youth.

He is survived by his father, two sisters, Mrs. Ralph Stone of Wytheville, and Emile, and one brother Roy E.

"Friends and loved ones sorrow not as those who have no hope, Say not to me goodbye; Bid me some fairer clime Bid me good morning."

The funeral services were conducted by his Pastor, Rev. Chas. E. Painter, assisted by Dr. L. L. Harlock, Rev. H. B. Brown, and Rev. E. H. Copenhaver, after which he was laid to rest in the Mt. Carmel Cemetery, beneath a bed of beautiful flowers, to await the resurrection morning.

THE MANDATE OF THE 1924 ELECTION

The election of Coolidge and Dawes was far more than a mere partisan victory. It was a triumph of principles and policies which rallied to their support millions of Democratic and independent voters, always to be depended on to place patriotism above partisanship when great issues are joined.

The result clearly demonstrated that when fundamental issues are raised, minor issues are forgotten.
Politicians who have believed that success in politics can be achieved only by catering to elements, must have learned on November 4th that there is no bloc in this country quite so important or so powerful as the American bloc—the bloc which is interested first of all in the general national welfare, and only second-arily in the special welfare of some group or interest or the exploitation of some academic fad.

It has been a theory often stated, that elections are determined not by noisy and selfish minorities, but by the great silent American majority which puts the general welfare first, and that the highest political strategy as well as the soundest patriotism requires that political leadership be firm in Lincoln's belief that the masses of the American people are sound in mind and heart and may be depended on to save the day for a cause inherently right if only they are appealed to clearly and courageously in a way that will arouse them from their usual lack of interest in public problems.

The words "conservative" and "progressive" have been so much the mere shibboleths of self-seeking political leaders, that they have become comparatively meaningless. Americans generally are both conservative and progressive. The fundamental division in politics in this and other countries is between the destructive and the constructive forces—between those who seek to build safely and patiently on the foundations of existing institutions, and those who would tear down these foundations on the mere promise of building better ones.

This is the most conservative—the most constructive—nation in the world. Existing institutions are the creation of public opinion, and in a government of public opinion there is no excuse for movements which attack those foundations of government which represent the slow accretions of public opinion. That conservatism in an autocratic government which represents a defense of arbitrary institutions is a thing entirely dissimilar to that conservatism that stands in defense of institutions which the people themselves have established, and which represent the evolution of their experience in self government.

The election result of November 4th was a clear mandate for constructive conservatism in government. Departure from that policy represent a betrayal of the cause which triumphed at the recent election. The people are weary of the disturbers, the trouble makers, the revolutionaries, the demagogical phrase makers. They are surfeited with theories and have expressed a preference for practical realities.
What the voters expect and demand of men in public life is that they should strive for results in public affairs generally beneficial to the people rather than for effects politicians believe will make a temporary popular appeal politically.

During the past 20 years we have witnessed a change in the theory of public service and the type of public servant. The doctrine has been exploited, as phrased by Mr. Bryan, that the public official is merely the people's "hired hand," subject at all times to the orders of vocal public opinion, whether wrong or right. The latter idea of an earlier day was that the public official was of the highest sense a representative—a representative chosen to put into effect fundamental policies, but in duty bound to use his best judgment as to the measures necessary to put these policies into effect. What has in recent years been preached by demagogues as the duty of the public official was in an earlier day considered dishonorable, that a man in public life should do that which he believes to be expedient regardless of whether or not his conscience tells him the thing is right and salutary. We need a return on the part of public men to the higher ideals of public service dominant in an earlier day, to the theory that politics is not a game, in which the voters are mere pawns, but a field of service to which every man elected to office owes his best intelligence and highest devotion to the permanent well being of the nation.

Without being frightened by catch words and phrases, without regard to demands or threats from this element or that supposed to represent a considerable body of voters, the government created by the voters on November 4th owes to the people the same undivided consideration for the national welfare registered by the people at the polls on Tuesday or last week. Politicians should remove their ears from the ground and listen to the voice of their own judgment and conscience, depending on the sober sense of the American people to vindicate them in the maintenance of their intellectual and moral integrity. The result of the last campaign proves clearly that this will be good strategy as well as common honesty and genuine patriotism.

The time ahead is not one for compromise with error merely because it bears the appearance of momentary popularity. It is difficult to realize that the Republican party so narrowly escaped being compromised into the equivocal position which brought humiliating defeat to the Democratic party in the recent election as the result of trying to stand for everything and at the same time stand for nothing. Temporizing with the same tactics which brought demoralization and the danger of defeat to the Republican party following the landslide of 1920, could easily despite the overwhelming victory of 1924, bring the party face to face with defeat again.

Radicalism may doubtless now be expected to abandon the third party effort and undertake the control of the Democratic party. United under one flag, to it was in the congressional elections of 1922, its forces will inevitably furnish far more formidable opposition in 1926 than they did in 1924. Looking forward to that situation, Republicanism should take

Buick Continues its Leadership

For the seventh consecutive year Buick has first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This signal honor is awarded annually by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to the manufacturer-member having the largest volume of business for the preceding twelve months.

In winning and in maintaining this enviable position year after year, Buick has demonstrated conclusively that the true value of any automobile is reflected in the consistency with which the public buys it.

Since the introduction of the 1925 Buick models, public patronage has increased to an even greater degree.

A tribute to the Buick engineering skill and manufacturing ability that have provided newer and better Buick cars without departing in any way from the fundamentals of power, economy and dependability for which all Buicks have been famous.

Free Powder.

Arrangements has been made by the V. P. I. Extension Division to secure for Virginia farmers the new government explosive, "Pyrotol." The purpose of this distribution is to put surplus war explosives directly into the hands of the individual farmers for use in improving his own land. The amount that any individual may secure is limited to 1,000 pounds.

Pyrotol is a comparatively safe, high explosive; has no toxic effects, and will give good results in all ordinary temperatures. A cartridge of Pyrotol weighs about six ounces and is approximately equal in strength for agricultural blasting to the usual cartridge of dynamite which weighs eight ounces. That is, in a 50 pound box of dynamite there are 100 cartridges, where in each box of Pyrotol there are about 150 cartridges each, one of which is approximately equal in strength to a cartridge of 20 per cent dynamite. Pyrotol can be completely detonated by a No. 6 cap of either the electric or fuse type. A supply of caps for use with fuse will be sent free with each order while they last.

No charge is made for this explosive itself, but there is a charge for freight and preparation. The cost will be $8.75 per hundred pounds F. O. B. Richmond. The total cost will be about one half that of agricultural dynamite. In cases where as much as a car load (10,000 lbs.) can be used in one section, the car load shipment can be made direct, thereby saving the individual freight charges on small amounts.

Farmers wishing to secure this explosive should get in touch with their county agent or agricultural high school teacher, or write direct to the Department of Agricultural Engineering for order blanks.

FOR SALE—One 5 room house and two lots located on Lincoln Hill, with town water, electric lights. For further information write

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE

Stephen Thompson was born March 23, 1834 and departed this life October 21, 1924, making his stay on earth 90 years, 6 months, and 29 days. At the age of 22 he was married to Miss Margaret Blevins and to this union were borned four children, three of whom with his companion preceded him to the spirit world. He joined the Baptist church about fifty years ago and lived a true christian life, and died in the triumph of a living faith. He was greatly beloved by all who knew him and his removal will long be left as a personal loss, and sorrow in this community. He was a devoted husband a loving father a faithful friend and a loyal citizen, and above all a conscientious devout, and upstanding Christian man. He leaves one son J. H. Thompson, of Marion, 23 grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

Funeral services were held at Hopkins View church by the Rev's. Chas. Tilson and R. F. Richardson, after which his remains were taken to the Sapp Cemetery and laid to rest beside his companion there to await the resurrection of the dead.

"My Children Just Love Liv-o-lax"

"For some time, I have been giving the children Liv-o-lax for the condition which I used to think called for calomel and castor oil," said a Charlotte mother.

"I think there is nothing more terrible than to have to give children those awful doses, which I wouldn't think of taking myself."

"Dr. Hand told me, in his drug store, how he worked up the formula of Liv-o-lax, just to do away with this unpleasant necessity, how Liv-o-lax, though a pleasant-tasting liquid remedy, acts on the liver in just the way required. Since I gave it one trial, I have been happy to have it in house, because the children just love to take it."

"And Liv-o-lax is an all-round family laxative. It is just as good for the grown-ups as it is for the children. Get Liv-o-lax at your drug store—30c. Just one trial will convince."

At Home and Abroad.

AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF THE THOMAS TOUR THROUGH THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA

By Z. V. Sherrill.

(ARTICLE EIGHT)

We left West Yellowstone over the U. P. Ry. on Sunday at 7:00 P. M. immediately after our excellent dinner of boiled speckled trout etc., at their U. P. Restaurant.

Our pullmans were waiting for us as well as John our porter and the other porters as well as the baggage we had left behind as when we entered the park. Everything was O. K. and the cars had been swept and renovated in our absence and we were glad to get back and start again over the same route which we had traveled a few nights before on our return to Salt Lake City. This return trip was made at night so I can give you little or no idea of the country through which we traveled but we were traveling in a mountainous section all the return trip and the country is high and the night was cool and clear very similar to those we had just spent in the park, and sleeping was of an excellent character. We arrived at Salt Lake City at 7:30 A. M. Monday, August 13th, and went direct to Hotel Utah, a magnificent hotel it is, where breakfast was served us in Cafeteria style. This hotel is owned and controlled by the Mormons, Latter Day Saints, as they are called. It is a hotel of 500 rooms, and it is said that it is strictly against the rules to "tip the waiters". After a trip through Yellowstone it came to me as a glad surprise. I would advise that of you ever go through the park to put a goodly number of quarters in your pocket and save your large change for other necessary expenses.

After breakfast, we boarded the Electric train for Saltair. Saltair is 17 miles west of the city and about one mile from the shores of the Great Salt Lake. The water is 22 per cent salt. You cannot sink, you float like cork. We all, or nearly all, went in bathing in this wonderful salt water. It was a beautiful clear morning and the air was balmy, not too cool or too hot, but just right.

The photographer in the west is like the poor "always with us" and while we were in the water bathing made some beautiful pictures of our crowd, and of course, we all bought one to half a dozen. One of the world's largest dance halls is located at Saltair in the amusement building 1000 couples can dance at one time. I remarked to our informant it wouldn't accommodate 1000 couples of the Thomas Party unless they were all the size of Johnny London, of Rock Hill, S. C.

The Great Salt Lake is a large body of water with no outlet, but an inlet the Jordan River, which runs from Utah Lake to Salt Lake, as the Jordan in the Holy Land flows into the Dead Sea, the Latter Day Saints tell us. This Lake is 50 miles wide and 75 miles in length.

In it are seven islands, but probably the most interesting one of these islands is Birds Island in the center of the Lake and is 40 miles from the main land; Sea Gulls, Pelicans and Cranes have established a rookery on this island. The parent bird must transport all their food for the young from the main land since none is available on the island or in the waters of the lake.

The Great Salt Lake cut off is just west of Ogden, where trains cross the northern arm of the lake on a thirty mile trestle and saves 43 miles of distance over the old line north of the lake and also saves a 1500 foot climb over Promontory Hill.

Salt Lake City is not a very large city only 147,000 population including Murray, Sandy and Midvale, but it has wonderfully wide streets and is a clean city and wonderful in many ways. Its elevation is 4,354 feet twice the altitude of Asheville N. C. It has more than 500 miles of streets, 90 of which are paved and 413 miles of side walks, 13 parks and playgrounds. Its streets are 132 feet wide.

There are 40 denominational Churches in the city, quite a good many churches other than Latter Day Saints. The daily water supply is more than 62,000,000 gallons. It was settled in 1847 by a small band of Mormons pioneers. The pioneers brought water from City Creek for irrigation and this is said to be the first irrigation for agriculture in the western hemisphere. The city is nestled in a horseshoe opening toward the west of the Wasatch Mountains. Seven beautiful canyons border the city, some only a few minutes drive from the center of the city.

In fact Salt Lake City is surrounded by mountains almost, at least, east and west. The valley of Salt Lake is not very wide. I do not know the average width, but I do not believe it is over 5 miles wide at the city. Salt Lake City has America's ideal four seasons. The midsummer normal temperature for last week of July and the first of August is the same as that in Atlanta Ga., and Kansas City Mo. Prolonged hot weather is unknown. The yearly average temperature is, for a period of 50 years, 61.4 degrees. The very coldest weather is 22 F. The average death rate per 1000 population averages about 10 per cent. They claim a high birth rate and a low sick rate. The number of tourists visiting the city in 1923 was 376,000. They also have well located Tourist Camps, with shade, water and sanitary accommodations.

They have the very best Public School buildings. They have 48 of them in the city, valued at nearly 7,000,000 dollars. Numerous institutions of higher learning and private schools are located here. University of Utah, Westminster College, Rowland Hall for girls and others.

Utah has great iron ore deposits and mountains of limestone for development of the steel industry. A capital of $10,000,000 is being expended for what seems to promise an industry along this line that would ultimately supply the needs of the West. Salt Lake City smelters handle more tonnage annually than any other city in the western hemisphere.

Utah produces one eighth of the nations copper, one sixth of its lead, one third of its arsenic, one eighth of its manganese ore, one sixth of its potash and in 1923 produced nearly 5,000,000 tons of coal and yet Utah has only 1-2 of 1 per cent of the population of the U. S. and 42nd in population.

Irrigation is the method for production in agricultural life. The approximated acres of the state of Utah is 53,000,000, but there are only 11 million acres in Utah a little over 5,000,000 acres. The number of irrigated farms is about 86 per cent. The capital invested for irrigation and drainage of these farms is more than $32,000,000.

The production of these farms seems wonderful, if irrigated. The average yield of wheat per acre is 24 bushels. Utah produces Sugar Beets in abundance and is second largest sugar beet producing state in the Union. There are 19 Sugar Beet factory plants in the state and in 1923 the yield was more than 1,000,000 tons.

It is the leading Alfalfa state especially as to seed, producing one third of the Alfalfa seed in the U. S. In 1923 it produced 137,000 bushels of seed and in 1923 there were in alfalfa, I mean under cultivation 29,000 acres. I never saw finer or larger fields of alfalfa any where in the east or west than those we saw in Utah.

Salt Lake City is the distributing center for merchandise in this inter mountain territory and embraces a radius of 350 miles. Nearly every national distributing sales organization has an office in Salt Lake City because of its position on the map of our country. Nearly 10,000 country merchants do business with the city's jobbers and manufacturers.

Utah with everything in it and accessible, having unlimited chemical oil, coal, water power, cattle, wheat etc., with so many national advantages it bids fair to become one of the leading manufacturing states in the west.

It is a fact though, that only about one tenth of the acreage of the state is tillable and not that unless irrigated. The many high barren mountains are only for scenery or iron or manganese ore or other metals or for irrigation for the plains below.

Salt Lake City is a great livestock center also. One of the greatest for cattle and sheep in America. Some of the adjoining states are great producers of sheep and cattle especially the former from Wyoming and Idaho. The annual Inter-mountain Livestock show is held at the stockyards in the city.

Many other points of interest in the Utah Valley and throughout the State of Utah might be referred to, but I must proceed to get you out of the water at Saltair Bathing Beach where I inadvertently left our party.

After removing the great excess of salt after the bath at Saltair, we again boarded the electric cars for the city. We went direct to the Temple Square wherein stand the Mormon Tabernacle, Temple and Assembly Hall. The Tabernacle is a marvel of architectural ingenuity and construction skill. It is built mainly of wood and devoid of pillars. The timbers of the great domed roof are secured by raw hide thongs, and wooden pegs are used instead of nails. The wonderful acoustics of this great hall are the wonder of the thousands who visit it. A mere whisper at the organ bench is audible in every part of the building, which seats 8000 people. The Tabernacle has in it one of the largest and very likely the widest known pipe organ in the world. Free concerts to the public are given about noon daily throughout the summer months.

Our party enjoyed the fine organ recital and while the Tabernacle was not crowded, yet there was a large audience present.

Immediately after the organ recital we were invited to hear a brief lecture, or harangue I call it, from one of the Mormon Elders, who by the way is a native of Tazewell County, Va. He pointed to the brazen image of Joseph Smith, which is attached high up on the steeple of the Mormon church within the Temple Square, and compared him with Samuel and Moses and other great Bible characters.

Visitors are not allowed within this sacred (?) church and not even second rate Mormons, but it is only for first class Mormons who are in good standing in their community and church.

There are a great many other places of interest in Salt Lake and the surrounding country, but I can only refer to a few of them in this paper. Salt Lake City is no longer ruled by the Latter Day Saints. The Gentiles are now in the ascendancy and the city government is controlled by the real Protestant people. Ogden however is yet controlled by the Mormons, the next largest city in Utah.

Other places of interest are Big Cottonwood Canyon, Parleys Canyon, Bingham Canyon and Copper mines. The copper mines here are said to be the largest in the world. The engineering feats accomplished here compare favorably with those of the Panama Canal. The Camp at Bingham is 5 miles long. It is a one street town and in places the street is so narrow that there is room for only one side walk. The mountains here are terraced by R. R. and the tracks leads over trestles and bridges hundreds of feet high.

Utah is a sparsely settled country, outside of the great Salt Lake region. I do not know the population of the State of Utah, but I know they have only four electoral votes, only two fifths of those of the State of Va. But there is an abundance of wealth, due no doubt first, probably to the thrift of her people and secondly to immense number of mining operations, mines rich gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc, coal and manganese, besides the great production of its soil after irrigation. We were very favorably impressed with all these natural advantages. We spent a full day in Salt Lake City and left late in the afternoon via the Denver and Rio Grande, Western.

Next week I hope to tell you something of our journey across the Rockies in our own U. S. to Colorado Springs.—Continued next week.

Don't fail to get acquainted with the Wild Child, coming November 22nd, with the Flapper Grandmother.

Xmas Money Made Easy.

When the Christmas Holidays roll around everyone wants to have a little extra spending money in their pocket, it maybe to give a present to a loved one or friend or to take a trip, but they do not like to dig down into a bank account, if they have one, or take it from the regular expense account. For this season the offer that we are making of $20.00 in Gold to the person that sends us the largest number of subscriptions before the 25th day of December, will be particularly attractive.

The great beauty of this offer is that it does not need any capital to invest in it, and the territory is unlimited. It is a splendid chance for the school boy or girl to earn the $20 in getting subscriptions before and after school hours. We furnish all the Blanks FREE and all they have to do is to go among their friends and solicit their subscriptions. Every yearly subscription to either the Marion Democrat or the Marion News will count for TEN Votes in the race, and every six months subscription will count for FIVE Votes. If you get as many as 20 subscriptions or over you will win a commission on the amount you send in even if you do not win the $20.00 in Gold; so you will make something if you will just go to work and if you send in the greatest number of subscriptions you will win the $20 and get the commissions also.

So get busy NOW. The time is short and the race is going to be a hot one. Every school in the county should enter the race, select a contestant, and all help her to win the Prize, which could be then donated to a Christmas Tree fund if desired, and buy a lot of presents for those that are not able to buy for themselves. Or a wide-awake lady, boy or girl could win for themselves enough money to buy themselves a big lot of good things for the Holidays.

REMEMBER some one will win this $20.00. So why not YOU? Write or call for a contentment book and enter the race today.

Mr. Beattie Gwyn, returned to Marion Sunday after spending the past week in New Orleans on a business trip.

Mrs. Cloyd Kent was hostess at a Forty-two party, Tuesday evening in her new home on Main Street. Quite a number of her friends were present and after spending a pleasant evening, dainty refreshments with a salad course were served.

Mr. C. C. Lincoln Sr., left Sunday for Chicago where he will spend a week on a business trip.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will have a Bake Sale next Saturday, November 23rd, in the Rummage Room of the Hankla building.

Resolutions.

From the Woman's Missionary Society of The Lutheran Church.

We extend to the family, the relatives and the friends of Mrs. M. M. Seaver our deep sympathy.

We express to this community our sense of their loss in the passing of one of the truest Christian and most helpful citizens Marion has ever known.

We recall with pride the many deeds of her active life which exemplified in an unusual way the spirit of Christ. Her splendid courage through the trying time of the first influenza epidemic is only one of many instances which now rebuke the selfish and inspire those who would follow in the way the Master's feet have trod.

We rejoice in having been privileged to know the vitality and beauty of her daily religion, not a dry-as-dust theory, but a life full of grace and truth, always sympathetic but never wounding by idle curiosity, always noble but never even conscious of superiority.

May the simple faith and self-sacrifice of her life exalt us today and give us new courage to take up our burdens and to share our joys throughout the years that remain to us on earth.

We send a copy of these resolutions to her family and to the Marion papers and request that they be written in our own minutes.

BACK GIVEN OUT? Then Follow the Advice of This Marion Resident.

Are you dragging along day after day with a dull, nagging backache? Do you feel tired, lame and achy; suffer sharp, torturing pains at every sudden move? Then look to your kidneys! Colds, strains and overwork weaken the kidneys and bring on throbbing backache and knife-like twinges. Don't risk serious kidney disease! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Read what this Marion resident says:

Mrs. T. J. Wolfe, 28 E. Phipps Ave., says: "I had some trouble with my back hurting. When I did considerable housework and stood long, my back gave out. I was often annoyed by headaches, which caused me to feel miserable. Specks came before my eyes, causing no end of annoyance. My kidneys were dreadfully inactive. I got Doan's Pills and they greatly benefited me."
