

Senators Criticize President.

Washington, July 13.—President Wilson and his trust program were sharply criticized in the Senate last Thursday by Senators Townsend and Olcott. Both attacked general conditions in the Senate surrounding the trust bills, and Senator Olcott declared a "power outside of the chamber" was responsible for the failure of the Senate to attend to business.

Senator Townsend said the people wanted Congress to quit and go home.

"Business is sick, and all the psychological mental healers cannot cure it," he said, "and especially will it not recover so long as it is made the shuttlecock of political weavers."

"Much legislation already written into law and in the process of enactment is an impeachment of the intelligence and independence of Congress, for it never would have been enacted if the national legislature had followed the dictates of its own judgment."

"I will not charge the President with being unpatriotic or insincere. I do assert, however, that he is a theorist who, without constructive business experience of his own, nevertheless flies into the face of all experience and insists in driving his docile congressional adherents on a dangerous and untenable ground."

To Vote on Dispensary.
Abingdon, Va., July 11.—Judge Preston W. Campbell on Wednesday upon the presentation of a petition signed by one hundred and three voters of the town of Abingdon, ordered a special election to be held on August 11 to decide the fate of the Abingdon dispensary. This promise to be a most interesting contest. The argument of those opposed to abolishing the dispensary is that it would be a useless thing to do so long as Bristol has saloons.

Unexpected Elopement.

Among those leaving Emory supposedly for the purpose of taking in the 4th of July celebration at Abingdon, were Miss Anna Belle Horne and Mr. John W. Parks. Instead of stopping off at Abingdon, however, they went on to Bristol on No. 29 where they were met by Rev. A. H. Burroughs and were united in the happy bonds of matrimony. They returned on No. 12 to Abingdon and came back on No. 30 with the other normalites without many people being the wiser. They will remain at the normal until its close when they will visit their parents until school opens. They have a school in Russell county where they will teach next session.—Glade Springs Vidette.

Miss Margaret White Dies.

Abingdon, Va., July 14.—Miss Margaret White died Sunday morning at her home, after a lingering and painful illness of several months. She was seventy-four years old. Miss White was well known in this part of State and in Richmond, where she had repeatedly visited. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. T. P. Trigg, with whom she formerly made her home, and a brother, Captain J. L. White. A number of her nephews and nieces will gather to do honor to her memory.

Severe Attack of Colic Cured.

E. E. Cross, who travels in Virginia and other Southern States, was taken suddenly and severely ill with colic. At the first store he came to the merchant recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Two doses of it cured him. No one should leave home on a journey without a bottle of this preparation. For sale by all dealers.

Slemp Nominated at Love Feast.

Republicans and Progressives Unite Upon the Ninth District Representative.

HE DECLARES HE "WILL WIN" IN NOVEMBER.

Says In His Speech of Acceptance He Feels Obligated to Respond to the Enthusiastic Call.

Hon. C. Bascom Slemp, the Nominee.

Bristol, Va., July 10.—In the largest and demonstratively the most enthusiastic political convention held here in recent years, the Republicans and Progressives jointly re-nominated Representative C. Bascom Slemp to represent the Ninth Virginia district in Congress. The nomination was made at four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Fully a thousand persons thronged into the Harmeling Theatre, and of this number upwards of six hundred were delegates and visitors. It was apparent, as the delegations arrived, that there could be but one outcome.

Chairman C. N. Pendleton called the convention to order at 12:30 and announced that it would be opened with a prayer by Rev. T. J. Crumley.

After the conclusion of the prayer, Mayor G. M. Warren addressed the audience with a speech of welcome.

WELCOMED BY MAYOR WARREN

He said that it made no difference whether he stood before Democrats or Republicans he was addressing the flower of citizenship of the Ninth district, and said that he hoped Bristol would welcome them many times in the future.

Walter Dickenson, of Russell, responded to Mayor Warren's speech in a humorous vein and thanked Mr. Warren for the welcome.

Bailey Elected Temporary Chairman

In response to Chairman Pendleton's call for the nominations for a temporary chairman, R. A. Anderson of Smyth, nominated D. F. Bailey, of Bristol.

There was no opposition and Mr. Bailey was elected unanimously.

Bailey Talks.

Mr. Bailey was introduced by R. A. Anderson as an "old war horse and the brains of the Republican party of the Ninth district," and his appearance was greeted with cheers. In his speech of acceptance Mr. Bailey alluded to the Ninth district as the fairest daughter of Virginia, and he added that she was not so comfortable just now. He called attention to the dead fires in the furnaces and coke ovens, he said that not since the "Cleveland deluge" was the balance of trade against the United States as it is now; that not since "Cleveland's destruction had so many idle bread winners walked the streets. He further recited a list of alleged grievances that the country had against the present administration, that the country would not in the future stand for anything but a protective tariff, which he characterized as the "heart and soul of our nation." He predicted a "home-coming" in the next Presidential election. In conclusion he stated that the convention was not exactly a "home-coming," because they were already at home. He called the convention a meeting of Republicans who were all progressives, and that they were there to "get together."

Someone in the audience shouted "everybody's for Slemp," and the cheering lasted for several moments.

ELECT SECRETARY

H. P. Wyrain, of Bristol, nominated George F. Cook, of Smyth county, for secretary of the convention. L. P. Summers moved an amendment to this to include the press representatives as assistant secretaries. Both motions were carried and Mr. Cook was elected secretary.

COMMITTEES CHOSEN

Mr. Summers arose and moved that committees on credentials, resolutions and temporary organization be chosen by the chairman of the different delegations and to consist of one member from each delegation. The motion carried and the convention adjourned for five minutes while the delegates retired to make their choices for the committees.

After the roll call of the counties and the names of the committeemen announced the reports were unanimously accepted.

The committees were instructed to meet at Hotel Bristol at once and Senator J. C. Noel moved that the convention take a recess until 2 o'clock, which was adopted, and the convention adjourned at 1:10 p. m.

At 2:30 p. m. Chairman Bailey called the convention to order and the committee on credentials reported that all the counties and city of Bristol were represented and that there was no contest.

The committee on temporary organization recommended that the organization be permanent.

COL. BROWNING'S SPEECH

While the convention awaited the report of the committee on resolutions Col. James M. Browning, a former resident of the Ninth district in response to a call said that the Ninth was confronting a crisis, and emphasized the necessity of getting together in order to beat the Democrats. His remark that there was only one man that the district could get together on brought a long cheer from the audience, which greeted every sally with cheers and laughter. Enumerating the advantages obtained under Republican administrations, was interrupted by some one in the audience who shouted, "We get our mail in Bristol, Va." "Yes," said Mr. Browning, "and our females" and there was more laughter.

RESOLUTIONS RECEIVED BOISTEROUSLY.

R. A. Anderson read the report of the committee on resolutions, which was received with boisterous elation. Senator Tom J. Muncy, arising to move the adoption of the report, predicted a landslide for the Republicans this year. Like his predecessors, he attacked the administration and concluded with the prediction that prosperity would arrive with protection.

RECOMMENDS WAITING ON PROGRESSIVES.

C. N. Pendleton announced that the Progressives were awaiting an invitation to the convention and recommended that a committee be appointed to escort them to the convention hall.

A member of the Dickenson delegation arose and stated that the permanent chairman of the Progressives was in the house and would be glad to be heard. The announcement was greeted with cheers and E. H. Witter, of Buchanan, a late legislative candidate from Buchanan and Tazewell, was lifted to the stage and was greeted with loud cheering.

Mr. Witten's opening statement that he wanted to get back into the Republican party was greeted vociferously by the enthusiastic house. Mr. Witten said that he was a Progressive but that he did not want to be an aid society to the Democrats. He said that the Progressives must be practical. He said that C. Bascom Slemp had struck him like "a striped snake" and that he had made every effort to discover something in his private or political life with which to wreak vengeance.

"Like Pontius Pilot said of the Savior of Mankind, 'I can find no fault in him,'" said Mr. Witten.

Rev. Mr. Craft, who is pastor of the Baptist church at Big Stone Gap, said that he always watched and saw what the Democrats were going to do; then did the opposite; and insisted that there was only one course open to the Republican Progressives, and that was to put a solid front against Democrats.

SENATOR J. N. HARMON, OF WELL, TOLD OF THE BUSINESS TRIANGLE

in the Progressive convention attempt to find common ground which the two parties could but since harmony had no prevailing there, he said, "my colleagues had decided over to the Republican side." L. P. Summers offered a motion that every Progressive into the convention and a vote. The resolution was carried.

Col. Browning motion to hurry the man we are going

SLEMP IS

Senator J. C. Noel moved that the policy, nominated C. Bascom Slemp for candidate for Congress from the Ninth district. The name was greeted with cheering and hat-waving, but the house soon subsided into quiet when the band began playing.

A. P. Crockett introduced A. N. Kilgore, of Norton, as a man who was attending his first Republican convention, and who had previously fought for the Democrats in Wise county. Mr. Kilgore said that Wise would be in the thick of the fight and concluded by seconding the nomination of Mr. Slemp.

Representative A. T. Lincoln said that Mr. Slemp would be nominated over his own protests.

When the vote was taken not a dissenting voice was heard, and when Mr. Slemp was led on the stage the cheering lasted for several minutes.

SLEMP'S ACCEPTANCE

Mr. Slemp accepted the nomination, and after saying that his health was not the best, declared that he would be obliged to respond to such an enthusiastic call as he had received from the party, though he should feel physically so bad as to imagine himself walking on tombstones from now until November. He declared he would enter the fight to win, and that he only craved a continuance of such enthusiasm on the part of the rank and file of the party as he had witnessed in the scenes of the convention. He declared that the fight had to be not only for the sake of the district but for the sake of the State.

RESOLUTION

The adoption of the resolution was announced. The convention went into session and the delegates were instructed to meet at Hotel Bristol at once and Senator J. C. Noel moved that the

Another Letter About Post Offices.

Mr. Editor:
I read with interest "J. B. W's" letter of Washington, D. C., in your issue of July 3rd, in which he said that Republicans and anti-machine Democrats have been discriminated against by the Democratic machine faction in the appointment of fourth-class postmasters. As I am familiar with this subject I will state why all applicants for the offices, irrespective of politics, expected to be treated fairly in the matter:—

Local Self-Government.

The Liquor Traffic, The Patriotic Liberty Loving, The Local Self Government Saloon, The Democratic, Jeffersonian Sky Blue Brewers are now sending forth in trumpet blasts and bugling notes their lofty and ancient principals of liberty to the "poor misguided" people of Virginia. The handsome faces of their disinterested, generous, knightly orators are smiling down on the "hysterical" people while the band plays and old glory is unfurled to the breezes. All the saints listen to the Trumpet. Danger!! "Religious excitement leads to insanity". Oh how grateful we are in our ignorance for this bugle blast. Remedy—Vote for Saloons.

Many people in this section will remember that just a little while ago there was a wet and dry election in Bristol, and this same Local Option, Liberty Loving, Jeff Davis, Jeffersonian Democratic Liquor Traffic were trumpeting, sneering, hissing, snarling and snapping at the hypocrites in Abingdon because of a hateful dispensary, and unjust, undemocratic, lawless, hypocritical institution, but just now this same crowd with red-tot patriotism are shouting for "Local Self-Government". Why the change, if "Local Self-Government" was so bad while Abingdon had it and Bristol did not. Now, just now, why is local option so good!

Quit Taking Risky Calomel.

Here is a vegetable tonic that is far better for you to take than the dangerous drug and poison called calomel. You can never tell when calomel is going to "get you." That is the worst thing about taking so uncertain and dangerous a drug for constipation and liver trouble. Calomel is liable to salivate you or "knock you out" for at least a day the very next time you try it.

Marion Drug Company and D. M. Smith Drug Company have the mild vegetable remedy that successfully takes the place of calomel. This remedy is Dodson's Liver Tonic, a very pleasant taking liquid that gives quick but gentle relief from constipation, torpid or "lazy" liver.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is fully guaranteed, and if you buy a large bottle for fifty cents and it does not entirely satisfy you, the drug store where you bought it will promptly give you your money back with a smile.

Dodson's is fine for both children and grown people.

WHY WEAK LUNGS?

The toll of tuberculosis is claiming more than 350 victims every day in the United States, yet few realize their grave condition until the critical period arrives. Overwork, worry, weakness after sickness, catarrh, bronchitis, tender throats—all exert the weakening influence that invites consumption.

To guard against consumption, thousands of people take Scott's Emulsion after meals because its rich medicinal nourishment strengthens the lungs, puts vigor in the blood, and rebuilds strength to resist tuberculosis. Scott's Emulsion is nature's strength-builder. Refuse substitutes.

Washington Letter.
By JONATHAN B. WISE.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—A bold and desperate effort is being made by the machine politicians of Virginia to set themselves in a better light before the people of the Ninth district, by giving their consent to the plan suggested long ago by Postmaster General Burleson, to have postmasters for the presidential offices at Lebanon, Graham, Honaker, Pocahontas, North Tazewell, Dante and Big Stone Gap, selected through a primary of the Democratic voters of those towns.

By those at all familiar with Ninth district politics this is easily recognized as a belated effort on the part of R. Tate Irvine, the Democratic congressional nominee and those who were instrumental in having Irvine named by the Bristol convention against the wishes of the people, to regain a small part of the ground lost by the Democrats in the Ninth by their policy of foisting upon the patrons of the larger offices, postmasters who were not wanted by the people.

Those in control of Democratic politics in the Ninth have flaunted and violated the wishes of the people of Jonesville, Wytheville, Gate City and innumerable fourth class offices where machine politicians have been put into office as a reward for party service regardless of their character, standing in the community or wishes of the patrons.

In well informed circles in Washington the acceptance of the primary plan by those controlling Ninth district democratic politics is plainly recognized as a pretext of doing something for the people when as a matter of fact, that faction has lost considerable ground by the appointments made thus far, and fears the wrath of voters were the same tactics to be used at Jonesville, Honaker, Big North Tazewell, Dante, Graham. At these places they have already some with regard to offices above the fourth class. Of the ten largest offices in the state, those of the first class with salaries above $3000, three of them—Roanoke, Petersburg and Staunton will receive increases of $100 per year. Roanoke is increased from $3400 to $3500, Petersburg from $3200 to $3300, and Staunton from $3000 to $3100. The other seven, Charlottesville $3100, Danville $3100, Lynchburg $3500, Newport News $3100, Norfolk $3800, Portsmouth $3300, and Richmond $9000, remain the same.

Arbon R. Grigsby has been appointed rural carrier on Route 2, at Nickelsville, Scott county, to succeed Wm. B. Addington.

They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Marion Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Tellington's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Marion adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it: David Malley, painter, College St., Marion, Va., says: "I had been annoyed for a long time by irregular action of my kidneys and at times also suffered severely from weakness across my back. I often found it almost impossible to straighten. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Carson Drug Co., I have been greatly relieved."

WARNING AGAINST PROHIBITION LAW

Statewide Measure Would Affect Only People Who Do Not Desire It.

WOULD IGNORE LOCAL WILL.

Association For Local Self Government Declares Proposed Law Subversive of American Principles.

Richmond, Va., July 15.—"The only part of the State that can be affected at all by a State-wide prohibition law is the part that does not want it, and the proposition is to force the law upon it against its will by the power of the State."

In these words the Virginia Association for Local Self Government, in a statement issued today, sums up its case against the enabling act which the voters of the State will be asked to ratify at the special election to be held next September. It declares the proposed law to be in conflict with the principle of local self government which forms the cornerstone of American institutions.

The statement continues with this exposition of the issue:

"The State-wide law is designed to prohibit the sale of liquor. It could produce no change whatever in nine-tenths of the State since eighty-five of the 100 counties in Virginia already prohibit the sale by the use of the present local option law. The remaining counties could also have prohibition if a majority of their citizens favored it, by exercising the same law."

"Some of these remaining counties have already voted against prohibition, showing that they do not want it. It is now proposed to force prohibition upon them against their will, by the power of the State. They are not to have the same right that the 'dry' counties had of deciding this question for themselves in their own way."

"The local option law, now in force, was designed to prevent the wet counties from imposing their will on the counties that wanted to be 'dry.' The same reason exists why the 'dry' counties should not force their will upon those who do not desire prohibition."

"It is a well-established principle of Democratic government, that government is derived from the consent of the governed—that only those should vote on a law who can be affected by its passage. The ratification of the enabling act would not affect the dry counties in the least, yet the vote of the dry counties in the coming election will help determine the issue in counties where prohibition would be unwelcome. This is manifestly unfair and against the principle of local self government which is the corner-stone of our institutions.

"The experience of years in Maine and elsewhere has demonstrated that prohibition cannot be enforced where local sentiment, and therefore the local government, are against it. To enact a law is one thing and to enforce it is another. When local sentiment is against a law the State government is powerless to enforce it. There arises at once a conflict of authority, a wholesale violation of law, a prohibition that does not prohibit, and the substitution of innumerable lawless dives for the comparatively few well-regulated places of the old order."

"To summarize: The voters in nine-tenths of the State have no direct moral interest whatever in the passage or defeat of the prohibition law since their condition will remain exactly as it is now whichever way the election results. In the remaining one-tenth of the State where an anti-prohibition majority prevails, the passage of the law would force upon them an obnoxious system which, without advancing the cause of prohibition or temperance, would make conditions infinitely worse."

"The enabling act attempts to substitute centralized force for local self-government. It proposes to substitute in Virginia for the local option system which has worked admirably and demonstrated its worth, a dangerous experiment which has nowhere succeeded and which no less than sixteen States have abandoned after disastrous experiences with it. It proposes, moreover, to do all this at a tremendous expense and incalculable loss and damage to the Commonwealth. For these reasons the law should be overwhelmingly defeated next September.—Adv.
