

J. BELL BIGGER is beginning to send out his communications again to the faithful of the great Conservative-Democratic party.

THE Richmond State refers to the Readjuster ticket as a "little ticket of postage-stamp size."

WE have been travelling around a good deal since the State Convention, and find the Readjusters standing firm everywhere in support of our ticket.

THE RAILWAY IN RICH VALLEY.

Sure enough, a corps of engineers was organized by Gen. G. C. WHARTON on last Monday, at Saltville, and put in charge of Mr. Jacob D. PIERCE, of Amhurst county.

So let the people over there be up and doing their part. Gen. WHARTON has gone over to Tazewell to organize another corps, and will then have one east and one west of that county, making four locating corps in all.

EVENTS are on the wing, and they often result contrary to general expectation. While we do not pretend to cast a horoscope of the political future, nor concede, by any means, that the cause of the Conservatives in this State is hopeless, but on the contrary, believe that the Mahone ticket is a very weak one, and that we have enough of reserve strength in the State to be brought out in a great emergency to defeat the Mahoneites and Republicans combined.

From the above it will be seen that the Funders are willing to make any kind of a combination, even with Republicans, to defeat Readjustment; and this after all their cry about the Readjusters putting LEWIS on their ticket.

ties that had existed for so many years in the basement offices of the capitol, while they were under control of Funder officials, men who were the pets of the Funder party, and whom that party used every effort to keep in office.

SPEECH OF THE NOMINEES.

"William E. Cameron, was born in Petersburg November 29th 1842.—His father was Walker Anderson Cameron, of that place. He is connected with and descended from some of the oldest families in Virginia.

"He is the Mayor of Petersburg by three successive elections, in the last of which he received a large proportion of vote of both parties and both races. He has been prominent in politics since the war. During the war he entered when a mere youth as a private in an infantry company from Petersburg, he arose to be adjutant-general of the brigade with which Mahone laid the foundation of his military reputation.

"Since the canvass of 1877 Colonel Cameron has been the staunch friend of Gen. Mahone, with whose financial theories he is in full accord. His position on the Debt question is embraced in the Riddleberger bill.

"Col. Cameron is also a gentleman of literary attainments, and has in his career filled the position of reporter, correspondent and editor of the press."

NOMINEE FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Hon. John F. Lewis, nominee for the second place on the ticket, is a native of Rockingham, and is a grand son of Genl. Andrew Lewis, whose stature adorns the Washington monument in Capitol Square, Richmond. Before the war, in the strong Democratic county of Rockingham, he was an old line Whig. In 1869 he was nominated by the Conservative party of Virginia as the nominee for Lieutenant-Governor on the celebrated Conservative ticket of Gilbert C. Walker for Governor, John F. Lewis for Lieut. Governor and Major Jas. C. Taylor for Attorney-General, and he was then elected by Conservative votes; and after presiding for some time over the State Senate, he was nominated by a Conservative caucus and elected by a General Assembly to the United States Senate. He is now United States Marshal, of Virginia, and is the father of United States District Attorney L. L. Lewis, Esq., and father-in-law of J. Ambler, Smith Esq. He is now Chairman of the Republican State Committee of Virginia. He is strong Readjuster, and heartily favors a support of the Readjuster movement by all Republicans in the Va. in State matters.

NOMINEE FOR ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

He is the son of the late Hon. Jno. Blair, a staunch Democrat, who, for fourteen years represented the upper Tennessee District in Congress, and brother-in-law of Dr. Sullins, now President of Emory and Henry College. Born about 1840, educated at Washington College, and Emory and Henry, and was graduated at the University of Tenn. Entered the army June 1861, and saw first service in Kentucky, where Zollikoffer fell. Was subsequently under Breckinridge until reorganization, having followed him through Shiloh, evacuation of Corinth, Vicksburg, and his campaign in Louisiana, in 1862. Was made a Captain company A, 60th Tennessee Regiment fall of 1862, and again was through the Western campaign, wounded at Chickasaw Bayou and captured at Vicksburg before the surrender, and taken to prison at Johnson's Island, where he was kept until March, 1865. On his exchange he was made Lieutenant-Colonel of his regiment, and was en route to join Genl. Jo. Johnston in North Carolina, when he heard of the surrender of the army. He located in Wye in 1865, married Miss Sallie K. Peirce, daughter of the late Alex. Peirce near the Lead Mines, and has a family.

He has devoted his entire time to the law and has a very large and profitable business. He is a large farmer and is public-spirited as a citizen. He has been an active Readjuster since 1871, and only missed the Readjuster nomination for Congress, last year, by one-and-a-half votes at Abingdon, where he added many cubits to his political stature by harmonizing that Convention and making Col. Fulkerson's nomination unanimous. Captain Blair has twice canvassed nearly all of Virginia, meeting the ablest orators of the other side in debate, and always held his own. He was temporary Chairman of the Mozart Hall Convention, the cradle of Readjustment, and his unanimous and enthusiastic nomination at Richmond, on the 3rd of June, was but a merited compliment. He is an able lawyer and a splendid advocate and immensely popular.

Albert Angee was shot and robbed of $250 by a German named Reinheimer, near Irish Grove, Aetehison county, Mo., on the 10th inst. The murderer afterward stole a horse and endeavored to escape, but was captured and hung to a tree by twenty unknown men. Angee will probably recover.

SPEECH OF COL. CAMERON.

[Richmond State, Funder.]

Col. Cameron being introduced to the convention said: "I hope I may be allowed, before I enter upon the weighty issues with which you have burdened me, to return thanks to partial friends who have conferred the greatest honor on me that could have been conferred on any man. If loyalty, zeal, or courage can win, your cause shall succeed. He sheddered lest in his hands the sacred rights of the people might come to harm. The contest we have had, said he, was a family one, and there was not a moment when he was not ready to take the stump for any of the other candidates. He returned thanks to his competitors for coming to the front and endorsing his nomination, and paid a high tribute to Mr. Massey; saying he did not lay claim to the services he had performed. The other gentleman is always at the front when there is danger. [Some one said "Wise."] Yes, you have named him, said Cameron. He said he had seen the platform and he approved it. I will not dwell on the debt question, said he, because the men who have revealed us are only waiting to take any position on it that will secure success. We only want to find what our old mother owes, and then pay it. We want to find what is right and do it. They will be here and they will ignore the debt question. The Funders say when we try to get the colored vote we are not Republicans, and when we want to get our own people we are not Democrats. I am a Democrat, and I am a Republican; for I am for the rule of the people, and for a representative government. I am not to be frightened from doing what I think right because Republicans agree with me. I don't propose to be put on the defensive. I don't propose to carry the war into Africa, Africa into the war. When there was a war between the races I went with my race. Thank God, we don't have that now; but men have reached a position when they can go for the right without regard to race and antecedents. I am going forward to preach liberalism, and I regard the sovereignty of the State as a great deal more sacred than the Bourbon would make it.

He welcomed Mr. Lewis as an associate on their ticket, and said he had his respect and confidence. As for Blair he had honor enough to furnish breakfast for fifteen thousand and Funder Pharisees.

SPEECH OF HON. JOHN F. LEWIS.

Hon. John F. Lewis was next introduced, and spoke as follows: Gentlemen of the Convention:—I am here to express my profound acknowledgements for the honor you have conferred upon me in presenting in so flattering a manner my name for the second place upon the ticket you have nominated to-day. It is an honor which, because unsought, I the more appreciate. I am here to say to you that I accept the nomination, and shall do my utmost to secure the success of the ticket.

As you well know, I was a Union man; as you also know, I am a Republican, but I have never forgotten that I am a Virginia. Believing it to be to the best interest of my country and of my native State, I am also a Readjuster.

I heartily endorse the platform you have framed, and believing that it presents the first proposition that has yet been presented by any party for an honest, fair and final settlement of the vexed question of the State debt.

A HOT WATER RIVER.

The great Suro tunnel, cut to relieve the celebrated Comstock mines at Virginia City, Nev., of the vast quantities of hot water which is encountered in them, affords an outlet to 12,000 tons every 24 hours, or about 3,000 per hour. Some of the water, as it finds its way into the mines, has a temperature of 195 deg., while four miles from the mouth of the tunnel the temperature ranges 130 to 135 degrees. To obviate the inconvenience which would arise from the vapor such a vast quantity of water would give off, the flow is conducted through the entire tunnel four miles, in a tight flume made of pine. At the point of exit the water has lost but 7 degrees of heat. Sixty feet below the mouth of the tunnel the hot water is utilized for turning machinery belonging to the company, from whence it is carried off by a tunnel 1,100 feet in length, which serves as a water way. Leaving the waste way tunnel, the water flows to the Carson river, a mile and a half distant. This hot water is being utilized for many purposes. The boys have arranged several pools where they indulged in hot baths. The miners and others use it for laundry purposes, and arrangements are being made whereby a thousand acres belonging to the company are being irrigated. It is proposed to conduct the hot water through iron pipes, beneath the surface of the soil, under the roots of thousand of fruit trees which are to be planted, and in a similar manner give the necessary warmth to a number of hot houses to be used for the propagation of early fruits and vegetables.

Englishmen and Writers.

An Englishman who publicly adored the memory of Spenser, or Dryden, or Chaucer or Pope or Byron, as the Spanish Court and Church and people have been burning incense before the sepulchre of Calderon, would in the act blush at the images of his future criticisms upon his raptures. It may, perhaps, be fortunate, therefore, that Englishmen as a nation have never evinced any symptom of a temptation to indulge in personal worship of a great writer. They have awarded national honors to warriors and statesmen, not to authors and artists. In English literary annals the Stafford Jubilee in the last century has always worn a rather comic aspect of burlesque inflation, though no representation of royalty was present to exalt the popular passion. Englishmen are not behindhand in loving literary master-pieces. But they reserve their devotion for them; they have seldom enough and to spare for the authors. A writer's tomb in this country is more likely to be strewn with sarcasms a defects in his temper than with laudatory verses collected from the four quarters of the earth. —London Times.

The comments of the Richmond press upon the Re-Adjuster ticket indicate that the campaign, though earnest and animated, is to be fought upon principle, and free from the demoralizing personalities that so often mark an exciting canvass. The Dispatch, while opposing the movement vigorously, speaks well of Mr. Cameron personally, saying "the worst thing we know about him is his Mahoneism." Of Mr. Lewis, also it says that "he is a man of good name and fame, barring his Radical proclivities and his unreasoning hatred of the Democratic party." The Whig, which supports the ticket with enthusiasm, reminds the Bourbons that Mr. Lewis, to whom they object most strenuously, was a good enough Virginian for them to elect to the Senate in 1869 on the same ticket with Mr. Johnston. There can be no doubt that the counterers in Virginia have gained strength at home and sympathy throughout the country by the able management and united spirit of their convention. —Boston Herald.

The rage for white costumes increases as the summer advances, most of these being devoid of a single color to brighten them, white lace, pearl, and white jet trimmings, white flowers and white satin ribbon, being the most fashionable adornments. The present elegant materials in surah, brocade, satin de Lyon, nun's veiling, grenadine, and Algerian gauze exceeding appropriate for these toilet and they are equally becoming to blondes and brunettes. White surah covered with white tulle, embroidered with pearls and crystal beads, and having a cinrass bodice with beaded tulle sleeves, makes a very beautiful toilet. Some of these dresses are also made in the princess style, laced up the back, with a full scarf drapery just below the waist, or falling from the back of the skirt half across the front in a point, and trimmed with cascades of lace and pearl passementeries.

LONDON, June 8.—The rumor that Father Murphy, of Schull, had been arrested proves to be unfounded, but it threw the people into a violent state of ferment. Thousands of men and women crowded into the village of Schull, wrecked the police station and postoffice, tore down the telegraph wires and cut up portions of the road. The excitement was taken up by the people of Skibbereen, who at last accounts were engaged in a fearful riot. They wrecked the house of the car owner who had supplied the cars to the police, and their indignation became unbounded when they discovered that a special train with 300 military had been sent from Cork and they tore down the telegraph wires to Bally Dehob.

A dispatch from Cork to the Standard says: Bally Dehob and Schull are inaccessible by the ordinary roads which are broken up and the bridges pulled down. Five hundred foot soldiers, twenty dragoons and seventy service corps men with one gun have been sent to the scene from the west.

A dispatch to the Daily News from Skibbereen says: Father Murphy has given no definite intimation of his arrest to the public, fearing a collision with the police, but grounds for suspecting that he is under arrest are very strong. He was seen with the police several times on Monday when a document of some kind was handed to him. A force has been sent into the disturbed district fully provisioned for a month.

Great preparations are making for the reception of Archbishop Croke in Tipperary on Thursday.

The Standard's correspondent at Berlin reports that a dynamite mine has been discovered under the metals close to the Gateland Railroad Station, connected with the battery in the railway telegraph office officials have been arrested.

At 7 A. M. yesterday a break occurred in the Erie canal, near Albon, N. Y., caused by a defective culvert. Forty feet of the canal bank was torn away. The water flooded the country around, carrying away fences and bridges and working general destruction. A woman and two children saved themselves by getting on top of a pigpen, which floated off about a mile before they were rescued. The stop-gates are not shut down, and the water is nearly out of the canal. Repairing has been commenced. The damage is estimated at $30,000.

Midnight Outrage.

Last night at midnight Joshua Shipley, known as "Bunch" Shipley, the well-known owner of Shipley's Ferry, in Sullivan county, Tennessee, was found waltering in a pool of blood in Mosby Grove, Goodson. He was shot under the right eye, the ball entering near the nose and raging slightly below the brain. His head was terribly cut and bruised with sharp limestone rocks taken from the Narrow Gauge cut, and his skull fractured in four places. He was, and up to this time has remained, widely delirious, and the chances are against his recovery. He was found by Messrs. John B. Keller, John B. Templin, and John Merriam, and taken to his hotel, the Speer House which he left slightly under the influence of liquor at 10 P. M. He is aged about 55 and has a large family. This afternoon he was taken to his son's house, some five miles out on the Blountville road. The police have a clue which is likely to lead to the discovery of the murderers. A tremendous scuffle had taken place and two pistols shots were fired. —Bristol News.

In spite of the feeble wranglings of the "Readjuster" snake, foreign capitalists seem to be convinced that there is nothing more to fear from that quarter, and are boldly seeking investments in every section in the Old Dominion. —Danville News.

Rediculous! From the passing of the Funding Bill in 1871, until the passage of the Brokers' Bill in 1879, Funders and Funderism held full sway in Virginia, and during that whole period "foreign capitalists" both invested in nothing but our necessities and misfortunes, our vexations and our Legislatures. But no sooner did the Readjuster triumph in 1879 give assurance that the debt would and should be equitably adjusted, without a resort to ruinous taxation, than capital rushed in from abroad to "boldly invest" in all our natural resources and in all advantages of geographical position. Such is the brief and true story—so well fortified by all the facts, that only Funderism itself dedicated to fraud and falsehood, can misconstrue and misstate the case. Let Bourbonism and Funderism again rise to power in our affairs, and once more the sources of our recent prosperity will fall, and paralysis will seize upon all the energies and enterprises now so happily carrying us along the road of progress. —Whig.

Yesterday the great Readjuster party of Virginia met in convention to name the next Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and Attorney-General for Virginia. Those within telegraphic communication know ere this reaches our readers who they are to be. The ticket put in the field has been selected with that care and precision from the bright galaxy of unflinching Readjusters who adorn every quarter of the State, which will ensure the grandest victory ever achieved for a free people since the bloody days of 1776. Every Readjuster knows his duty, and they will do it well. To arms! is now the battle cry. Victory! the watchword. —Lee County Sentinel.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT

Tazewell High School—Closing Exercises.

We had the pleasure of attending a portion of the closing exercises of Tazewell High School that took place last week. This school has been one of the best, yes, we believe the very best, in the Southwest by the industry and superior attainments of Prof. Evans. He has done much for Tazewell county, and his citizens have shown their appreciation by giving him a most creditable patronage.

On Wednesday we arrived at Jeffersonville, in time to witness the contest that night for the "Pendleton Prize Medal," which was gallantly fought for by twenty-one intelligent, good looking young men who constituted the Oratorical Class.

On Thursday at 2 o'clock in the evening the Carleylean Literary Society held its annual celebration and was addressed by Selden Longley, Esq., of Washington county. On Thursday night a composition class composed of sixteen beautiful and sprightly young ladies who boarded with Prof. Evans contended for a medal, after which the Commencement Exercises proper came off.

The following from the Clinch Valley News describes the exercises better than we can:

THE AWARD OF MEDALS. The pleasure feature of the evening, the award of Medals was next in order and Rev. Mr. Johnston, after a graceful and well deserved tribute to the boys and girls of the High School for their splendid progress, proceeded to award the handsome medals given the poetry class by the lady teachers, Misses Harman and Lyons, to Josie Smythe. A gift from "a friend" was also awarded in this class to Belle Lawson.

In the Junior Composition Class, J. H. Stuart, Esq., awarded the medal given by Dr. T. G. Witten to Belle Kilgore. Jno. Will Chapman, Esq., awarded a medal given by Mrs. T. G. Witten, in her music class, to Eva Thompson.

Boarder's Grade Medal was awarded by A. D. Estill, Esq., with a few appropriate remarks to Miss Josie Albert, of Russell. The day school Grade Medal was awarded by W. C. Penitton, Esq., to Miss Floss Thompson.

Both these medals were given by Prof. Evans. A special Grade Prize was awarded to Nannie Witten by Mr. A. P. Brown, for almost perfect grade—she being debarré from the regular contest by having taken the medal last year.

Selden Longley, Esq., awarded to Miss Mollie Shaver the Medal in Senior Composition Class, and made a neat little speech to boot. At the same time, he presented Mrs. J. C. Spotts's Music Medal to Laura Lyons.

Mr. J. Sprle Lyons, in a handsome manner presented the Medal given to the Boarder's Composition Class, to Miss Alice Aehbrook, of Russell, and was succeeded on the stage by Col. R. A. Richardson, who, after a very spirited and appropriate address presented the Pendleton Prize Medal to T. F. Suthers.

The medals being awarded, the dominus donned his beaver and with a long rignarole of some outlandish gibberish, gave a full diploma to Miss Floss Thompson, and special diplomas to Misses Helen Buckhannan, Ella Baylor, Rose Witten, Ida Dodd and Beck Rose Peery, and to Messrs. J. E. Baylor, A. C. Spotts, H. E. Harman, and J. H. Brown.

A very tasteful Valedictory by W. A. Davidson, of West Virginia, after which the school was arrayed on the stage and sang in full chorus the "Sweet By-and-By." At 11 o'clock the Session of 1881, was closed.

Court House Friday Night.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Richmond & McElreth, who propose performing at the Court House on to-morrow night, (Friday). It is a company that comes with better credentials than probably any troupe travelling. We publish below some of the many flattering notices of the Southern Press. We hope to see our citizens show their appreciation of a good thing by turning out en masse, and filling the Court House to its utmost capacity. The following is clipped from Southern Exchange:

"Durham has been feasting for several days upon the entertainments given by Richmond & McElreth's Dramatic Company. They fully sustained their reputation as a first class troupe. No company ever visited this city that gave more universal satisfaction."

"Hazel Kirk was quite well put upon the stage at the Opera House last night by Richmond & McElreth's Company, the acting of Dunstan Kirke, Hazel Kirke &c., was more than good. Pittans Green found a perfect exemplification of the author's idea in Mr. McElreth's personation, the balance of the support was fine.—Lynchburg Advance.

"The comedy-drama 'Hazel Kirke' was performed at the Opera House last night by Richmond & McElreth's Dramatic Company and scored an unquestioned success.—Lynchburg Virginian.

Good and cheap domestics, calicoes, cassimers, dress goods, collarettes &c can be had at J. B. RHEA'S.

Marion High School—Declarations—Reading—Award of Medals.

Marion High School closed its session on Friday night. The exercises were interesting from beginning to end, and each student acquitted himself with honor to himself as well as to his instructor. The speech of Judge D. C. Miller was a fine effort and was received with applause. The music on the occasion was kindly furnished by the ladies and gentlemen of the town and added much to the enjoyment. We regret that we have not room to write a lengthy account of all the exercises. Prof. Cassell may well feel proud of his labors during the past session, and we bespeak for him the support of all the people of our town and country who have sons to educate. The knowledge of each branch of study displayed by the pupils speaks well of his ability as an instructor. We give below the names of the medalists and those who acquitted themselves with honor.

MEDALISTS. Joseph L. Thomas received the Mathematical Medal; W. N. Britton, the Gold Medal for Declamation; and C. S. Treadway, the Silver Medal for Declamation; Freddie, son of Rev. R. B. Boatwright, won the Reader's Medal, and Master Creed Fudge bore off the prize in Declamation.

Mr. John V. Thomas, of this place, presented one of the pupils, C. S. Treadway, with a beautiful bible, in token of his appreciation of young Treadway's proficiency in Physical Geography, as evinced in public oral examination.

NESTORIAN SOCIETY. The Annual Celebration of this Society came off on Friday night. The question, "Is the Mind of Woman Inferior to that of Man?" was well argued by the youthful disputants.

"The Cyclopaedia War."

The Cyclopaedia War and the Literary Revolution are working wonders and happy results for the readers of books, and searchers after knowledge. The great "Library of Universal Knowledge," is announced to be completed, ready for delivery to purchasers, the early part of July. It is probably the largest and most important literary work this country and century have seen.

It is based upon Chambers' Encyclopaedia, the last London edition of which is printed entire as a portion of its contents, a large corps of American editors and writers adding thereto, a vast amount of information upon about 15,000 subjects in every department of human knowledge. Chambers' Encyclopaedia, whose distinguished merit is universally known, is the laborious product of the ripest British and European scholarship, but being a work of foreign production it has been naturally deficient in the adaptation to the wants of American readers. In this new form it is most thoroughly Americanized, and becomes at once the largest and most complete encyclopaedia in this field, at a mere fraction of the cost of any similar works which have preceded it, containing about 10 per cent, more matter than Appleton's Encyclopaedia, at less than one-fifth its cost, and 20 per cent. more than Johnson's Cyclopaedia at a little more than one-fourth its cost.

The superlative value and importance of this great Encyclopaedia, however, lies especially in the fact that it is brought within the reach of every one who aspires after knowledge and culture. It really is a library of universal knowledge. It brings a liberal education easily within the reach of every plain boy. Every farmer and every mechanic owes it to himself and to his children that such a cyclopaedia shall henceforward form a part of the outfit of his home. To the intelligent man in every walk of life a Cyclopaedia is indispensable. It is issued in various styles, in 15 large beautiful octavo volumes, varying in price from $15 for the edition in cloth to $15 for the edition in full library sheep binding. Liberal discounts are even from these extraordinary prices are allowed to clubs, and the publishers besides profiting during the next two months to distribute 10,000 cash in special reward clubs of five, the, or more subscribers. The American Book Exchange, 764 Broadway New York, are the publishers, who will send sample pages and full particulars free on request.

The cheapest groceries, Queensware, and Tinware ever brought to Marion will be found at J. B. RHEA'S.

Meeting of Smyth County Readjusters.

On next Monday, the 20th inst., the Readjusters of Smyth County will meet at the Court House for the purpose of considering matters in connection with the Legislative ticket for this and Blaine counties, and other important business. The meeting will assemble immediately after court adjourns for dinner.

Respectfully,

Attempt to Bribe Legislators.

ALBANY, June 9.—In the Assembly, this morning, Mr. Bradley (Rep), rose to a question of privilege and said that he had received $2,000 to pay him if he would vote for Chauncey M. Depew instead of Platt, which sum he had handed over to the Speaker. He therefore asked for a committee of investigation. The Speaker corroborated this statement, and said he had had the money in his pocket. Mr. Brooks hoped the committee would be appointed, attended by the stenographer and Sergeant-at-arms and have the power to send for persons and papers.

The resolution to appoint a committee of investigation was adopted unanimously.

After the dissolution of the joint convention, and when the Assembly had re-convened, Mr. Armstrong, in a question of privilege, stated that he had been approached by a man, who holding up an envelope, said he (Mr. Armstrong) could have twenty times that amount if he would turn around and go against Conkling; that his influence would be great, as he came from Oneida.

Mr. Alvord: "Name the man." Speaker Sharpe: "The gentleman from Onondaga has no right to make such interruptions." Mr. Alvord: "The gentleman from Onondaga has that right."

Speaker Sharpe: "The gentleman should not have that right in this house." [Applause.] Mr. Sisson stated that he had been offered money to vote for Chauncey M. Depew.

Mr. Browning offered a concurrent resolution for a final adjournment on the 11th inst. Tabled under the rules.

The Chairman announced the following named gentleman as the Committee on Bribery Investigation: Messrs. Scott, Boardman, E. A. Carpenter, Skinner, Shouting and Draper.

Adjourned to 11 a. m., to-morrow.

Yorktown Celebration.

Col. G. T. Rogers, agent of the Yorktown Centennial Association, states that of the $75,000 has wanted to make the centennial a success, $60,000 has already been secured, and the other will be had without doubt before the summer is half gone. In a short time the work of constructing suitable buildings for the accommodation of visitors will be commenced. He apprehends that there will be sufficient accommodations for all who attend. Arrangements are also now in progress to place the hotel in proper hands that all who come may get plenty to eat.

The funders who wanted Wickham for United States Senator, and who are ready, or were a few days ago, to unite with the New York Administration Republicans, to re-elect Conkling to the Senate, cannot stand Colonel Lewis for Lieutenant Governor, because he is a Republican. They voted for him for the same office in '79, and afterward made him United States Senator, and even gave him the LONG term over Hon. John W. Johnston. Their true objection is that while he was then a "True Republican" he is now a true Readjuster.—Bristol News.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Mr. Brooks of Virginia, once mayor of Norfolk but for some time past a resident of Capitol Hill, in this city, died very suddenly yesterday morning. He got out of bed at the usual time and washed and dressed, and then lay on a sofa to read a newspaper, but when his wife, who had gone to see about breakfast, returned, she found him dead.

Gov. Conell, of New York, Saturday vetoed the act passed by the Legislature to secure to inmates of institutions for the care of the poor freedom of worship. He believes that to expose the management of such institutions by law to the interference of different persons in the fusion and render discipline almost impossible; that the inmates were not brought together primarily for religious instruction, but charitable support or correction. He also returned, without approval, an act fixing the salaries of city prison-keepers asserting that the rule of retrenchment once broken, it would be impossible to find a stopping place.

At Bennington, on the Valley road, 12 miles northwest of Solomon City, a farmer named Frothingham, his wife and a hired hand were killed and the house completely demolished. H. C. JONES, Com'r. JUNE 2d-Jw. THE VALLEY MUTUAL LIFE ASSOCIATION OF VIRGINIA. Home Office,—STAUNTON, VA. Policies Guaranteed for their Full Face Value, Secured by an Ample Fund, which is increased Every Year from Annual payments.

Presents the following plan to such persons as desire to become members: The payment of $8.00 for membership, $5.00 annually, for three years, commencing one year from date of policy, and thereafter $2.00 annually during life, with pro rata mortality assessments at the death of each member, will entitle a member to a certificate of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, to be paid in ninety days from the date of death notice to the legal heirs or assigns, whenever such death may occur.

TABLE OF ASSESSMENTS FOR A MEMBERSHIP OF $1,000. Age. Ass't. Age. Ass't. 21 80 46 33 80 65 22 47 34 67 69 23 48 35 70 71 24 49 36 71 72 25 50 37 72 73 26 51 38 73 74 27 52 39 74 75 28 53 40 75 76 29 54 41 76 77 30 55 42 77 78 31 56 43 78 79 32 57 44 79 80

And in proportion to the age of sixty-five. A membership for two thousand dollars will cost double the above; for three thousand, three times as much. Should a member die before the three payments of $8.00 are made, the remaining unpaid part will be deducted from the one thousand dollars due the heirs. The mortality assessment remains the same as the age of first insurance. In other words, a member pays the same pro rata assessment during life. Our plan is so arranged that no member will ever be assessed for more deaths than occur in one thousand years.
