Road From Independence Located.

The Commissioners Select The Rye Valley Route.

At the hour of going to press Hon. B. F. Buchanan, State Senator for this Senatorial District, showed us a telegram he had just received from Hon. H. B. Sproul, of the State Highway Commission that the Commission had decided on the route of the State Highway from Independence to connect with the Lee Highway, and had selected what is known as the Rye Valley Route.

In light of the facts of the situation the Commission is to be congratulated on the choice of the route taken, as it is the logical solution of a difficult situation. The route selected will give to the people of Grayson the outlet that they had so long desired and needed, and will open up a most valuable section of country that stand in the utmost need of transportation facilities to market.

An Interesting Meeting.

All White Ribboners who were not present at the meeting of our W. C. T. U. Friday P. M. surely missed an evening worth while. Mrs. B. F. Buchanan conducted a beautiful and impressive devotional services. The splendid talk by Mrs. B. E. Copenhaver on the duty of every woman to serve her country to the best of her ability, was worthy, not only the attention of the women, but the other quota of voters as well. She impressed us that we should use our privilege by going to the polls and vote for Officers who stand behind good laws, as well as law enforcement.

World peace will never dawn as long as women are indifferent in their allegiance to the good of their own Country; as an organization we stand for that "righteousness which exalteth a nation," but each one must do her part.

EARL HAWK PLAYERS COMING NEXT WEEK

Well Known Company Will Be Here All Week

The well-known Earl Hawk Stock company will be here the week of May 19, opening on Monday with "When Dreams Come True." This company has a splendid reputation, always carrying a clean show, and over making friends at every point. There is always a retrain engagement asked for by the people wherever their tent is pitched, and the repertoire of the company is of a class that gives a wide scope of performances. The plays are staged appropriately, the performers able, and there is none of the evidences of the ordinary "road show" about any of the presentations.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. DeBord left Tuesday for their home in Eckman, W. Va. Mr. DeBord has been visiting here for the past few weeks.

Mother's Day.

The Second Sunday in May is observed as "Mother's Day" and a Happy thought it is that on this day the virtues and kindness of the best person on Earth is brought to mind. There is no one like Mother to every true soul, and to make glad her heart, help bear her burden, and smooth her path is one of those gracious duties that in turn sheds its fragrance upon the doer.

On the Anniversary of the death of her mother, Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia sat in her quiet home and thought of the noble, self-sacrificing life that had gone out from her, and in loving that serene and sainted one, she was emulating her virtues. How many, thought Miss Jarvis, yet have their mother with them; and thus she originated the idea of setting apart the second Sunday of May as "Mother's Day."

On this day the white rose or carnation is to be worn. The white is a symbol of Purity of the mother's life. The fragrance of the rose speaks of the sweetness of her love. Its form of her beauty; its wide field of growth blooming nearly everywhere; of her clarity; its lasting qualities of mother's fidelity; its appropriateness on all occasions, at the funeral and the marriage, of her Universal Service. All these are the virtues of Mother—the dearest being on earth.

The object of this day is to brighten the lives of the mothers and to help them in their tasks. If you are away from home, write Mother a cheering letter, telling her of your love and of all she has done for you. If the mother has been called to a higher home, recall the sacred memories, recount her virtues, and enter into the spiritual usefulness of that noble life.

This is a Day for all; for every one has a mother on earth or in heaven. And a Mother is God's greatest gift next to that of His Son. "God thought to give the sweetest thing

In His Almighty Power to earth. And deeply pondering what it should be—One Hour, In fondest joy and love of heart, Outweighing everything, He moved the gates of Heaven apart, And gave to earth—A Mother!"

There is a legend that three Angels were sent out to bring back to heaven the most beautiful thing. And all the earth they searched one angel caught up in her hands a dew-drop smiling on a flower and reflecting the Glory of the sun. One angel found the smile of an innocent child, and said, "This is the most beautiful thing on earth." The other angel took a Mother's Love. The three angels hurried back to Heaven. Where the pearly gates of Paradise were reached, the dewdrop had vanished; the smile of the child was gone; only the Mother's love remained unchanged. It is fresher than a dew-drop; sweeter than a child's smile, pure as the throne, as sweet as the song of the angels, as lasting as heaven.

A Mother's love is pure enough to be taken to Heaven.

Mr. A. A. Schaffner of Roanoke, Va., General Sales Agent, for the Automobile Sales Co., of Roanoke, spent several days the fore part of the week visiting his sister, Mrs. T. J. Maxwell.

The Young People's Missionary Society met at the Methodist Church on Monday evening, at 8:00. The meeting was very interesting with Miss Olive Painter, leading. Quite a number of the members were present.

With Old-Time Enthusiasm.

THE KIWANIS CLUB HELD A DELIGHTFUL BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT.

It reminded one of the best nights that the Marion Kiwanis Club have ever had, last Tuesday night, when the Club met at Greer's Cafe for their regular weekly meeting. The attendance was not full, and those that stayed away certainly missed a pleasant time, for everyone was in good spirits and the program of the evening was carried out with a vim and ginger that just made every one feel better.

The Club was honored by three guests from Bristol, Mr. N. G. Noff, Mr. J. W. DeBord, president of Intermont College, and Mr. C. L. Bowers, Bristol's prominent florist, who was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Louise. At the plate of each member was found a beautiful lappel bouquet of sweet peas and fern, which was presented by Mr. Bowers and was one of the prettiest "Silent Boosts" that has ever been presented to the Club.

President Copenhaver called the Club to order with the usual opening ceremonies. Rev. Mr. Brown of the Marion M. E. church offering the invocation. The Attendance Prize which was given by Mr. A. T. Lincoln, was drawn by Dr. C. B. Baughman, being a handsome pair of bedroom slippers.

The President then called on the chairman of the various committees for a report—Mr. J. D. Perkins reported on the National Park, that a questionnaire had been sent out and that the response had been a unanimous pledge of hearty support, and that the prospects were bright that the final location of the Park would be in this section of the State.

Rev. Mr. Brown reported for the committee on Crippled Children, a clinic having been held in Marion on the 3d of May for their examination. He also presented a list of the children examined, and the committees to which each of the children had been assigned to see what arrangements could be made towards carrying out the recommendation of the physicians making the examination.

The matter of improving the freight facilities of the Norfolk & Western depot was also taken up, and a committee composed of Hon. B. F. Buchanan, C. B. Blackwell and W. L. Lincoln was appointed to take up the matter with the Railway authorities.

A report was made in regard to securing the services of a Public Health Nurse, and that the funds necessary had been arranged for, the State coming to the aid with a handsome contribution; it would seem that there had been some communication with Miss Mildred Beatha, the former Health Nurse, in regard to her again assuming the position, but that she was not at present at liberty, as she was now holding such a position in Florida, but would be at liberty about the first of September, and would then be glad to resume her position here as formerly. We believe that she will be again offered the position.

The committee on the road from Independence had nothing to report. Mr. James D. Tate made a report for the Finance committee, which was referred to the Board of Directors.

At this point the chairman of the evening took charge. Messrs. Frank Peery and Chas. Greer. Dr. E. M. Copenhaver was introduced and gave some reminiscences of the "Old Home Town"—Marion, and the early days of some now prominent citizens, that just brought down the house. The Doctor's effort was the hit of the evening, and his stock of fun and humorous recollections seemed to be unlimited. He kept his hearers in a continual uproar, and everyone wanted him to keep on when he sat down.

He was followed by Miss Louise Bowers of Bristol, who gave a charming recital, delivered with a grace that won the hearty applause of the Club.

The closing number of the evening's program was an address by President Noffsinger of the Intermont College, of Bristol, whose subject was "Education," who showed that the true builders of life were those who were firmly grounded with a Christian education. The Dr's. remarks were delivered clearly, with the polish of an accomplished speaker, while his points were well taken and clearly expressed. It was a masterly address.

The next meeting of the Club will be held Tuesday night, May 20th, at 8:30 the hour being advanced one hour to allow the Club to attend the District Conference which will be in session at the M. E. church in town on that date, and Parson Brown extended a cordial invitation to all the Club members to attend.

With the singing of "Old Black Joe" closed as entertaining a meeting of the Marion Kiwanis Club as has yet been held.

Tragedy at Town Saltville

SHOOTS HUSBAND, MURDERS INFANT DAUGHTER AND THEN TURNS GUN ON HERSELF ENDING LIFE

Mrs. Rosa St. Clair, 36 years old, shot and killed her husband, Robert St. Clair and her little daughter, aged two years, early this morning and then turned the gun on herself ending her life.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Cole here. Mrs. Cole is Mrs. St. Clair's sister.

According to the information secured by the authorities here, Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair and two children, the tot who was killed and a nine-year-old daughter, came here from Roanoke Thursday, on a visit. They stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Cole.

On Thursday night the St. Clair family occupied rooms on the upper floor, but on Friday Mrs. St. Clair arranged to have the nine-year-old girl sleep that night in a downstairs room.

Tried to Get Pistol.

The little girl told the Saltville authorities that she was awakened about 1 o'clock in the morning by a shot that was fired upstairs. She rushed up the stairs to be confronted by her mother from whom she tried to wrest the gun. The mother however, ran from her, she said, and entered another room, closing the door. The shots rang out again when the door was opened and the mother lay dead on the floor.

Mr. Cole, who is a machinist here, was working on the night shift and was not at home at the time of the tragedy. Mrs. Cole was asleep in a room on the upper floor. She was unable to be of any assistance until the shooting was over, according to the Saltville authorities.

This morning the authorities here wired to Mr. St. Clair's son, J. R. St. Clair, 909 Sixteenth Street, Roanoke. A message was received shortly after noon instructing the authorities here to have the body of Mr. St. Clair embalmed and sent to Roanoke as soon as possible.

The bodies of Mrs. St. Clair and her infant daughter will be buried here.

According to information secured by the authorities, Mrs. St. Clair was married three times. Her first husband was Henry Bryant whose home was said to be in Bristol. They separated and Mrs. Bryant then married a man named Baker and lived for a time in Memphis, Tenn. Married on May.

A marriage certificate found among the family's effects here disclosed that the woman married Mr. St. Clair on May 5 of this year. The certificate did not disclose the place where the ceremony was performed, the authorities reported.

According to the mayor of Saltville who immediately investigated the case, Mrs. St. Clair was in rather a despondent mood. She had lost her father a short time ago, and according to the mayor, white she was at the Cole residence had remarked that she intended to shoot her daughters and then herself. However, nothing was thought of the threat at the time for it was made during a casual conversation.

The story told by the nine-year-old daughter, the authorities here said today, indicated that Mr. St. Clair was killed as he slept, but that the tot that was slain had been awakened.—Roanoke Times.

MRS. JAMES H. BUCK.

Mrs. Anna Eliza Buck, daughter of the late Jacob Wolfe, of Smyth County, died after a lingering illness Monday at her home on Buck Street. She is survived by her husband and five daughters, Mrs. E. H. Neff, Mrs. H. J. Greever, Mrs. W. O. McMullin, W. S. Dunn, sons-in-law and W. J. Cole, of Bluefield, W. Va.; Mrs. W. S. Dunn Bland; one brother, D. V. Wolfe, of Seven Mile Ford, and four half sisters and two half brothers.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the home by Rev. J. H. Richard, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, of which she was a member. At the home, the hymns, "How Firm a Foundation" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul" were sung by Mrs. J. H. Richard.

The pall-bearers were E. H. Neff, H. J. Greever, W. O. Greever, A. B. McMullin, W. S. Dunn, sons-in-law and W. J. Cole, of Bluefield, W. Va., nephew of the deceased.

FOR CONGRESS
Ninth Virginia District
L. P. SUMMERS
of Washington County
Election, November 4th 1924.

CREDIT TO COOLIDGE

President Coolidge has earned the respect of the country by his veto of the Bursum omnibus pension bill. Of all the scandals growing out of our government—that is, of all in which there has been no governmental corruption—the pension scandal is the most notorious and flagrant. Every glance at the cold figures is enough to create new amazement, new wonder; that even our Congress has permitted this scandal to continue and grow.

Take the most conservative possible figures omitting consideration of those of 1878, when the entire pension disbursement for pensioners was a paltry twenty-six millions and odd. Begin with 100, which includes pensioners of the War of 1812, the war with Mexico, Indian wars, the War Between the States and the war with Spain. In 1900, the total number on the pay roll was 993,529 and the sum paid out was $138,462,130.65. Now take 1917, which does not, of course, include any injured or ill persons connected with the World War; in that year the number of pensioners was reduced to 673,111, and yet pension payments amounted to nearly 179 millions. In 1923, the total number of pensioners was still further reduced to 539,756, but the pension rolls took their toll of the people's money to the extent of $263,012,500.

Now this Bursum omnibus pension bill, according to estimates, would have added $58,000,000 to that enormous sum for the first fiscal year and, in ten years, would have increased pension expenditures by $415,000,000. This said the President, "would bring the total pension bill of the country to a point higher than ever before reached, notwithstanding it is now nearly sixty years since the close of the Civil War." And, as the President might have remarked, the bonus must be added to that.

Of course, the majority in Congress was playing politics—ward politics on a large and shameful scale—when it passed the Bursum bill to the President, doubtless realizing he would veto it. Whatever else he does or does not do, it must stand forever to Calvin Coolidge's credit that in a presidential year he had the courage to withstand the bogey of the veterans' influence and do his duty to his country in the matter of the pension scandal.—Times Dispatch.

SOUTH TURNING TOWARD REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES

"Most of us in the South, although we call ourselves Democrats, really favor Republican principles on all but one question, the negro question," remarked Mayor Peery G. Wall of Tampa to me in a jesting tone. But I rather think he meant it.

Some developments in the South may interest the rest of the country at this particular stage of the 1924 Presidential campaign.

The first representative, influential Republican club ever formed in the South, I am told, has just been organized in Savannah. It has started off with 150 responsible members, and the expectation of the founders is that it will have 3,000 members long before November.

It is headed by J. C. Fetty, a lumber leader; the vice-president is Wright Hunter, a prominent cotton dealer and leading member of the Cotton Exchange, while a third officer is Henry Blun, president of the Liberty Bank, of Savannah.

Business men I've talked with would not be astonished were this example to be followed by other Southern cities. Something of fundamental importance has been taking place in the South economically and industrially, which is having a bearing upon the South's politics. It is this:

The South is energetically progressing from the agricultural to the industrial stage, a development common to most lands that have prospered during recent times.

And this is changing the South's attitude toward the tariff.

Whereas the South, as a whole, was against the high tariff apostles of the Republican party in former days, there are now interests in the South who desire a good, stiff tariff for their own protection and betterment. Let us take one concrete case.

George has wonderfully fine deposits of kaolin, ideal raw material for the manufacture of pottery. But those who ventured to establish pottery factories found themselves at a disadvantage, because Germany could, and did, ship kaolin into this country as ballast.

The Republicans came to the rescue of George by imposing a duty of $1 per ton on imports of foreign kaolin.

And now pottery manufacturing is becoming one of Georgia's prosperous industries, I am assured.

The Saltville Civic League.

The last meeting of the Saltville Civic League this season was held in the High School Auditorium on May 10th. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. Bunts, pastor of the Methodist church. Since this was the last meeting for the school year, reports from the committees were dispensed with.

The meeting was then thrown open for discussion. Miss Oaspaun told that the Senior Class of Saltville High School had left as a gift to the school an unabridged dictionary and three compartments of a cabinet book case. Other classes will follow their example from year to year. Mr. Tom Porterfield gave an inspiring talk on the progress that Saltville has made in recent years. Mr. Anderson announced the date of Commencement and the unusually high grades that have been made by Saltville graduates in College.

The Daughters of the Confederacy presented a picture of General Lee to the school. Mr. Anderson, in behalf of the school, thanked the C. D. of C. Rev. Bunts announced the 136 anniversary of the establishment of Methodism west of the Alleghenys which will be celebrated here next week.

Mr. Crafts, the president, gave four reasons for a person's living in Saltville, namely, for its scenic beauty, its good schools, and churches, and its nice people.

The election of officers was then in order: Mr. J. H. Hamilton was elected president; Mrs. Caroline Keese, vice-president; Mr. Barker Sanders, treasurer; and Miss Eleanor P. Jennings, chairman of the program-committee.

The following program was then given:

- Play "Sleeping Beauty" First Grade.
- Piano Solo—Mrs. D. E. Thomas, of Clinchburg.
- Piano Duet—Mrs. Bunts and Miss Fewell.
- Lincoln's Gettysburg Address—Margaret Fields.
- Japanese Drill—Girls of 5th, 6th and 7th Grades.
- Duet—Miss Fewell and Mr. Eugene Conrad.

MARION COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS.

The College is very fortunate to have secured three splendid speakers for its Commencement program. On Saturday, May 31, at 4:00 P. M. the address before the graduating class of the high school department will be delivered in the College Auditorium by Dr. Stuart French of Bristol. Dr. French is so well known and loved in Marion that the mention of his name on the program will make many people begin now to plan to reserve the time to hear Dr. French on the 31st of May.

On Sunday, June 1, the Baccalaureate Sermon of the College will be preached in the Presbyterian Church by Rev. Ira F. Frankensfield of Tower City, Pa. Rev. Frankensfield is a member of the Synod of Pennsylvania and is the pastor of a large congregation. He is a speaker of unusual ability.

Rev. Hugh Black, D. D., L. D. the speaker for Commencement Day, is a speaker of international reputation. While the College has had many noted speakers, it is probable that Dr. Black is the most widely known speaker that has been at Commencement. Dr. Black was born in Scotland and is now at the Union Theological Seminary in New York. He is known as a theologian, as a writer and as a lecturer. Many of our people have read Dr. Black's "Friendship." Those who have admired him for his writing will have the unusual opportunity of hearing him speak on Commencement Day. The Commencement address will be delivered in the Presbyterian Church on Monday May 2, at 10:30.

BETTER BEEF BY ELECTRIC PUMPS

Make Fresh Water Possible, and Iowa Man Finds Cattle's Weight Gains Accordingly.

It has been established conclusively, in the practice of successful farming, that fresh water, as distinguished from standing water, means better live-stock. And it has now been established, in addition, that an electrically operated pumping system on the farm is so efficient in providing a supply of fresh, running water, that it is comparable with that finest of all water supplies—a natural spring.

Electrically Operated Water Supply System for Farm Use.

In this matter has just come to notice. This farmer, who is also a local banker, was raising beef cattle.

He made tests on the relation of water to the weight of his stock and noted that his cattle drank more water when it was pumped fresh from the ground for them, than when they drank water that had stood long in the tank.

Following a study of the matter, he and a neighboring farmer put in an electric power line for their farms, extending together about $1,100. After a year's operation, from that particular station, 57 carloads of cattle were shipped. Seven of these carloads were from three farms—a farm with a spring and the two farms equipped with electricity.

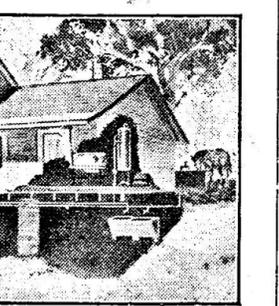

Differences Due to Water
The cattle in these seven carloads were the only cattle out of the entire 57 carloads that brought top prices on the market. Moreover, the average weight of the cattle in these seven cars was 58 pounds per head greater than the average weight of the cattle in the other cars. The banker-farmer attributed this entirely to his facilities for giving the cattle an adequate supply of fresh water at ground temperature, and he estimated that in this year alone he made approximately $400 on his investment.

FARMS AND CITIES A MODERN CONTRAST

Inequalities Noted by One Who Has Electric Light and Heat Within Finger Reach.

In the thinly settled regions are many folks who yearn for the time when electricity will reach them. This is made plain by a letter which appeared in the Michigan Patron, official organ of the Michigan State Grange, a short time ago. This correspondent said:

"Reading about the Grange investigation of water power for farm use has set me thinking about the inequalities of our present opportunities.

For instance, for three weeks I've been commanded to lie in bed and keep absolutely warm. Even though it has been 12 degrees below zero part of that time, at any moment I might do two things—with one hand I could reach up and by a twist of my fingers flood my room with brilliant light, while with the other hand I could turn a current of heat into an electric pad at my side. Thus somewhere, perhaps out in a distant river, water was working to send me light and heat.

"But I happen to know that not many miles away there are farm men and women dairying by lantern light and gasoline power. And I think, too, of another farm woman who lives so close to a city she sees its twinkling lights every night. One night at Grange the lecturer asked this woman to tell what she'd do if she had $50 to make her work easier, and she stood up and named more improvements than $1,000 would install—all electrical. Among other things she said: 'Every member of my family needs a lamp to study or work by every night, and every morning I must wash and fill those lamps. What a help it would be to me to be spared this daily task!'"

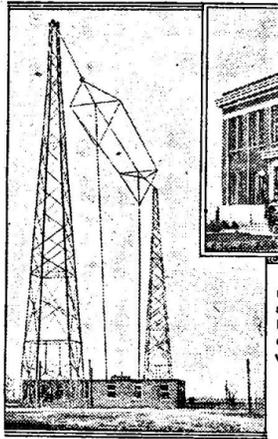

PLAY BASEBALL AND FOOTBALL AT NIGHT

Electric Floodlights and Searchlights Successfully Applied to Popular Outdoor Sports.

Baseball and football at night under the light of powerful floodlights and searchlights was successfully played last fall on the illuminated athletic field of the General Electric Company at West Lynn, Mass. The entire field was excellently lighted, so that both players and spectators were enabled to follow the ball, even when it was high in the air, without trouble.

Night baseball was so successful that a permanent installation of the lights has been made for this purpose, and games after dark will be part of a regular schedule in the spring.

Twenty floodlighting units and three eighteen-inch General Electric incandescent searchlights were used for the illumination. The incandescent

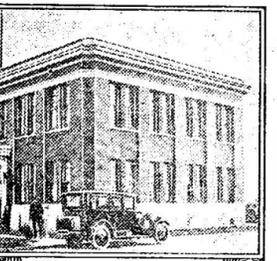

KGO OPENS ON PACIFIC COAST

New Radio Station of General Electric Co., Finely Equipped, Works on 312 Meters.

On the western edge of the United States at Oakland, Cal., two steel towers have arisen and from the antenna, on January 8, a new radio voice vibrated on the air. This voice, now heard regularly three nights every week, is that of KGO, the second link in a chain of three super-broadcasting stations planned by the General Electric Company. The first is WGY, at Schenectady, N. Y., now completing two years of popular broadcasting, and the third will be erected at Denver, Col.

For the first time in the brief history of radio broadcasting, an entire building has been constructed to house a great station and its equipment.

The Oakland station in its studio, control room and power station embodies the latest developments in the art. Its power and antenna systems, a thousand feet away from the studio building, include all the mechanical and technical refinements that have marked the new achievements in broadcasting. The engineering resources of a great electrical organization have been brought into the problem of making this station one which every listening radio fan may enjoy.

The Pacific Coast station is located on East Fourteenth street, Oakland, a site selected because of its technical advantages, the availability of musical talent and the nearness of San Francisco. It is a two-story brick building. On the first floor is the office of the studio manager, the correspondence room, and attractive reception room and the ladies' rest room.

On the second floor are two handsomely appointed studios, one large enough to accommodate a chorus or orchestra, and the other for the broadcasting of solos or addresses. The use of two studios makes continuous broadcasting possible, as the performer can prepare to broadcast while the preceding number is being given. Adjoining the studios is a "silent" room, where those taking part in the program await the call to the studio. There is also on this floor a control room, where operators listen to the broadcasting with headphones at ear.

The power house and antenna system are a thousand feet from the studio building. The station operates at 1,000 watts, and 312 meters. KGO will be in the air every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night.

For fifty cents a day—a mere half dollar—O. H. Caldwell, of Bronxville, N. Y., operates an all-electrical home in which every possible function is done electrically. Fifty-five operations in his home are so performed.

PUTTING HOSPITALITY INTO THE LIVING ROOM

Electricity Allows Attractive Lighting and Reading Nooks, Say General Electric Specialists.

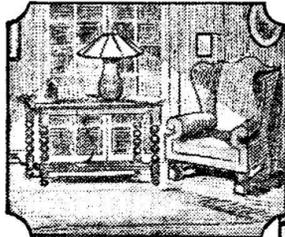

There is no special reason why the "best room" of a farmhouse should not be an attractive living room, which the farmer and his family can enjoy every evening instead of a formal parlor, never used except when the parson comes to make his semi-annual call. A living room is meant to live in, to spend leisure time in, and on the farm, as well as in the city, most of the leisure time comes in the evening—especially the long winter evenings.

With electric lights a farmhouse living room can be made as pleasant, as for such fixtures are pleasingly decorated and can be made to harmonize with the room decorations.

Indirect and Local Lights
The principle in such an arrangement, as pointed out by lighting authorities of the General Electric Company, is one of reflected light. The light itself shines directly on the ceiling and is reflected downward upon the room without the slightest glare nor any shadows. A white ceiling or one of light tint is the best for such a plan as this.

But a fine, clear, mellow light from happy, as any room in the house. This isn't so easy, however, with the center gas fixture or with a center fixture that combines gas and electricity. Nor can it be done successfully if the wiring is not sufficient to allow a bit of variety in the lights.

Bright Lights, Artistic Fixtures

The illustrations show specimens of living room lights which are good, bright lights and at the same time cheerfully attractive and artistic to see. Glass-shaded pendant lamps in the center of the room are economical and fairly decorative. The lamps should be frosted—that is, frosted bulbs should be used to decrease the glare.

There are other styles of fixtures that are even better looking. And some folks like semi-indirect fixtures, which give a wonderfully mellow, soft glow, no glare at all, while the light floods over the whole central part of the room. An electric lamp of high wattage—100 to 150 or even 200 watts—is necessary with a fixture of this sort, and that, of course, means more consumption of electricity and consequently a greater expense, but the delightful illumination which results is considered worth the cost. The shades the center of the room is not the only illumination possible or desirable in a living room. That serves excellently when there is company. It's a fine light under which to entertain the parson.

If the wiring of the house has been well planned, however, there will be one or two service outlets, or wall plugs, in the living room. And then a handsome, cozy electric reading lamp can be placed on a table in a corner or beside a comfortable chair, making a snug spot for dad to read the paper or the livestock weekly, or a pleasant nook for ma to darn stockings—and listen to the radio!

ELECTRIC IRRIGATION HELPS WESTERN FARMS

Provides Artificial "Rainfall" Whenever Needed for "Basic Industry" of Agriculture.

Progress in agriculture, particularly as applied to the western farmer, is symbolized by one thing, prosaic enough in itself—the irrigation ditch.

The farmer no longer blames the weather for crop failures, and "hopes for better conditions next season." Nowadays, if the rainfall does not suit him, he produces his own rainfall by a twist of the wrist, or the push of a button, in exactly the quantity he desires, and at precisely the time it is needed. Furthermore, he puts it on the particular piece of ground which he wishes to cultivate.

Desert Land from Lack of Rain

The application of electric power to irrigation, through the rugged electric motor, has simplified and economized the process for the farmer, especially the farmer with small holdings.

What electric power can mean is evident when it is realized that agriculture is a great "basic industry"; that hard times invariably follow crop failures; that irrigation is the solution of the western farmer's problem; and that electric power for irrigation pumps is making irrigation easier, more efficient, more reliable and less expensive.

It has been found, incidentally, that in most cases the farmer wants to install too large an irrigation system. The ideal plant is the one that operates continually and has a storage reservoir so that a large, expensive pump is not needed.

When a small installation of this sort is at work, with a storage reservoir capable of holding all the water pumped over a period of twelve hours, the plant could be run all night, and in the morning the farmer would find a full reservoir, from which he could water his land as needed through the day; and at night the reservoir would be empty, thus completing the cycle.

With the view of giving as many people as possible an opportunity to own a home site in this beautiful suburb, Mr. Staley has employed us to subdivide this land into about 40 LOTS, each fronting either on Lee Highway or on a wide street, and has authorized us to sell each and every Lot for the High Dollar—YOUR OWN PRICE—and this is exactly what we will do on

It is not necessary for us to tell the People of Marion and vicinity that Lee Highway, between the depot and the bridge, known as the Royal Oak Section, is now and always will be the most desirable residential section of the City. We have been advised that more money has been spent for homes in this one section than on all other streets of Marion during the past five years. Those who buy Lots at this Sale should do as well or better within the next five years.

Weak Nervous

"I was weak and nervous and run-down," writes Mrs. Edith Sellers, of 466 N. 21st St., East St. Louis, Ill. "I couldn't sleep nights, I was so restless. I felt tired and not in condition to do my work. I would have such pains in my stomach that I was afraid I would get down in bed. . . My mother came to see me and suggested that I use

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

I felt better after my first bottle. I had a better appetite. It seemed to strengthen and build me up. I am so glad to recommend Cardui for what it did for me. I haven't needed any medicine since I took Cardui, and I am feeling fine.

Nervousness, restlessness, sleeplessness—these symptoms so often are the result of a weak, run-down condition, and may develop more seriously if not treated in time.

If you are nervous and run-down, or suffering from some womanly weakness, take Cardui.

Cities Join In Health Crusade Through Clean-up Activities

"Brighten the corner where you are!" This is the message being broadcast by cities and towns in the United States and Canada, in an effort to have dirt attacked as a community problem to promote health.

Sanitarians declare a city is only as clean as its homes, and that mothers should remember that the immaculateness of their nurseries may be made dangerous for their babies by vagrant dirt from unclean places. It is pointed out that diseases bred in dirt are no respecters of persons.

Revival of the venerable, but slightly obsolete, custom of spring house-cleaning, and the extension of the ancient rite outside the walls of the house to back alleys and vacant lots, until there is a vast succession of Spotted Towns, is no mean undertaking.

Municipalities, women's clubs, civic and industrial organizations everywhere are preparing for clean-up activities. The Mayor of St. Louis once summarized the lasting benefits of such efforts by saying: "Paint a neglected back yard or vacant lot with the green of grass or shrubbery or a thrifty garden or publicly commit to another useful purpose and it will not revert to its former disorderliness. Otherwise it inevitably and speedily will do so."

In urging every municipality to proclaim its annual Clean-up week, the Welfare Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is instructing its twenty-thousand agents and its visiting nurses in 355 cities and towns to lend a hand. It is educating its policyholders which comprise one-seventh of the combined populations of the United States and Canada just how they can help to make their home towns a safer place to live in and a healthier place for their children.

If the suggestions are followed, the rats will find that many happy homesites under the rubbish heaps will be unavailable. The malarial mosquitoes will wander far from their erstwhile habitations to find an undrained puddle in which to breed. The house-flies will find many manure heaps missing when they come to lay their eggs and there will be far less danger of disastrous conflagrations starting in the waste and refuse heaped in the forgotten corners.

Here are the eight outstanding things suggested by the Metropolitan as a foundation for a clean-up crusade:

1. Have all rubbish removed from your cellar, back-yard and area-way, and placed in barrels or boxes for removal. Arrange to have it taken away.
2. Clean hallways of all obstructions. Ventilate damp cellars and closets.
3. Beat all carpets and hangings. Scrub floors and wash all wood-work.
4. Clean all windows and keep them open to fresh air and sunlight.
5. Ask your landlord to repair leaky roofs and plumbing, broken walls and ceilings.
6. Report stagnant pools, refuse and other nearby nuisances to the Health Department.
7. Do what you can to see that vacant lots are cleaned of all refuse, tin cans, boxes and other litter.
8. Compliance with these suggestions and with efforts of the Health Department will make your city a healthy and pleasant place for your children to grow up in.

FREE CHEST CLINICS TO BE HELD IN THE COUNTY

PEOPLE URGED TO ATTEND

Beginning Monday afternoon at 2.00 P. M. at the court house in Marion, a series of free chest clinics are to be continued thru out the week over the county. Note carefully the following dates:

Tuesday 27th, School House, Sugar Grove, morning and afternoon.

Wednesday 28th, Rooms over Chilhowie Drug Co., Chilhowie, morning and afternoon.

Thursday 29th, Community House, North Holston, morning and afternoon.

Friday 30th, Dr's Early and McKee Office, Saltville, morning and afternoon.

The money for this work was realized thru the sale of Christmas Seals in the county. Make the seals count by attending. May be you know of some one who is suspicious looking in regard to tuberculosis and who will not see this article—tell them about it. If people will take advantage of these clinics and find if they have any early signs of tuberculosis, the bigger chances are that they can be cured. Why take a chance with an incurable disease if developed too far—when by an examination, if found early, can be cured?

Every old Ford car in the United States receives care and attention that the human body never gets. The secret of Fords running daily and under all conditions is for the above reason. Use good sense and good judgement by attending the clinic nearest you.

Dr. Harper, a specialist of the State Board of Health will do the examining and the findings, if any, in your case will remain a secret.

A practical standard of Gasoline

There is a very simple, convenient and practical standard of gasoline just as there are standards of time, of weight, and of distance. It is a gallon of "Standard" gasoline.

"Standard" Gasoline is the product of over fifty years' experience in oil refining. Millions of dollars have been spent in research and experiment to make it worthy of the name "Standard".

It has successfully met the hardest test of all—the test of continued favor with the general public. "As good as Standard" is a claim one often hears because the trade recognizes "Standard" gasoline as a measure of quality.

To the lay motorist a gallon of "Standard" gasoline offers a very practical standard of comparison in motor fuels. It is easy to apply and easy to get. You can always make sure of getting it by simply asking for it by name.

Killed By A Train.

Roy James, who lives near Atkins, was killed by a train on the Norfolk & Western Railway on Friday night, May 9th. Exactly what time it happened or what train hit him is not known, as his body was not found until seven o'clock on Saturday morning. The body was not badly mangled or disfigured, there being only a hole on the hip and an injury to the jaw.

James was about 21 years of age, and was one of quite a large family, being survived by a father and mother, five sisters and one brother. The funeral was held on Sunday with the interment at the Wassum cemetery, witnessed by a very large gathering.

A GOOD WOMAN GONE TO HER REWARD

Martha Isabel Gillespie was born February 5, 1854 departed this life April 24, 1924 aged, 70 years, 2 months 19 days.

She was the daughter of the late Jas. and Jane Anderson. She was born and raised near Chatham Hill and had lived in this Community all her life. She was united in marriage to Geo. W. Gillespie July 19, 1908. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband one sister Mrs. Isaac Thompson two brothers, Wm. and Henry Anderson eight step children, David, Wm. and Charles Gillespie; Mrs. T. T. Stephenson; Mrs. Harley Roberts; Mrs. Geo. Burkett all of Chatham Hill, Mrs. Jas. Buchanan of Wansa, Nebraska, and Mrs. Jehu Brown of Panther W. Va., besides many other relatives and friends.

She was a dutiful daughter a loving sister a faithful wife, and good neighbor. We can say with the poet "To see her was to love her," and we all miss Mrs. Martha so much but hope to meet her in that celestial home where there'll be no parting.

Altho she had no children of her own she always had a mother's heart and raised three good girls, Mrs. Chas. Hancock of Nebo, Va., Mrs. Wm. Turley of Maryland and Mrs. Walter Cullop of Nebraska. All who loved her as a mother.

She was devoted to her step children and grand children and they all love her, and mourn her loss. She had been in declining health for several years and had been very sick for the past two months. She was nursed by Miss Anna Hancock of Nebo, and all that loving hands could do for her comfort was done by husband, relatives and friends.

She was converted in early girlhood and joined the M. E. church and lived a christian life and died with that blessed hope of meeting her Savior. Her remains were conveyed to Spratts Creek Cemetery where the funeral was conducted by her pastor Rev. Ross, the large concourse of relatives and friends gave evidence of her popularity.

We have a dear one less here, but God has an angel more.

HER FRIEND.

Mrs. John Shorts left Wednesday for Pulaski to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. B. Gibbs and also to be present at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Presbyterian church of that city.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbor. A. C. Crouse, gardener, 7 Railroad Ave., Marion, says: "I had some trouble with kidney complaint; my back ached and I felt just miserable. When I had any heavy lifting, stitches caught me in the small of my back and I was easily tired out. My kidneys didn't act as they should so I got a box of Doan's Pills at the Marion Drug Co. I had known of Doan's for years, as they had been used in our family. My back became much stronger and I could go about my work without fatigue. My kidneys acted more naturally again and finally became all right. Doan's Pills cured me."

MARION BASE BALL NEWS.

The Marion Cubs, of the Intra-County League did not get to play on the account of rain Saturday May 10th. This game will be played at Sheffey's Park Wednesday 14th. This will not be the busy day of the week, and the business people should turn out and back the home team.

Saturday May 17, the Marion Cubs go to Damascus, and the following week, expect to play two games in Marion. Wednesday, May 21st, Wytheville comes here, and Saturday May 24th, Abingdon plays the Marion-Cubs here.

"Lets back the new management, and the new team." The near-by towns, are backing their teams, and in fact spending money on them. Towns like Pulaski and Bristol, are backed by the business men to the extent of going down in their pockets, and handing out $25.00 to $100.00 for the support of the team. We do not expect to do this, but we only wish you to spend twenty five cents, and show the boys that Marion is back of them.

To the Citizens and Voters of the Town of Marion, Virginia:

This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. J. E. York, who at one time was an employee of the Troutdale M'g Co., during which time he was frequently called upon to do the work of the Town Sergeant. This work he did satisfactory, exemplifying a talent of the skilled officer. Mr. York is a man of cool, good judgment, and possesses all the courage needed in making a good officer; and, I do most heartily recommend him to you as a suitable man for the position of Town Sergeant, and trust you will elect him to that position at the coming June Election.

Sincerely,
R. L. GREER,
Acting Mayor Town of Troutdale.

The regular meeting of the U. D. C. will be held in the Court House, on Friday, May 16th at 3:30 P. M., at which time all members are requested to attend.
