GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Marion Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Marion people. Profit by this Marion resident's experience:

A. C. Ford, carpenter, W. Railroad Ave., says: "Heavy lifting disordered my kidneys and I felt miserable. When I stooped, I couldn't straighten without a lot of trouble and my kidneys were in dreadful shape. I had heard how much Doan's Pills had helped other people, so I got some. A couple boxes of Doan's drove away every symptom of the trouble."

Tuberculosis Christmas Seals

The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale will begin about Thanksgiving. This seal sale is in no way connected with the Red Cross Campaign, and the two campaigns should not conflict, according to the agreement between the two national organizations.

The Marion Tuberculosis Committee has paid the board for four patients at Sanatoria this year, 1924.

Marion and Smyth County will have permanent quarterly chest clinics next year. The committee has been officially notified by the Virginia Tuberculosis Association and the Bureau of Tuberculosis Education that Smyth County will get 75 per cent of the money, realized this year from the seal sales, for local work.

There were about 100,000 deaths from Tuberculosis in the U. S. last year. The money loss was about 25 million dollars. This disease is preventable. The suffering and loss can be prevented if every community teaches its citizens.

1. The danger of careless spitting, coughing, and sneezing.
2. The need for plenty of fresh air, for open windows day and night.
3. The value of good food and proper care of the body.
4. The need for a periodic physical examination at least once a year in order to detect the disease at the start.

The death rate in Virginia from Tuberculosis has been reduced 27 per cent in nine years. Let us keep up the good work.

MRS. Z. T. ATKINS,
Chairman for Smyth County, Marion, Va.

MARION COLLEGE NOTES

The rivalry at Marion College between the Evens and the Odds reached a climax on Monday evening when the first public basketball game of the season was played in the Athletic Building. The people who had predicted that a game between two teams that had been practicing together would not be exciting found that they were mistaken. All day long there were secret conferences between groups from both sides and notwithstanding the entreaties of the voice and expression teachers the girls made themselves hoarse with their songs and with their cheering. The girls planned well for their sides. At dinner on Monday evening the Odds quietly slipped into seats at one end of the dining room and left the other end for the Evens. All during the meal there were songs from both sides declaring the intention of each side to the winners. When the time for the game came the Odds appeared in purple caps that had been made by Mrs. McDaniel who has been a guest at the college for several days. Mrs. McDaniel's daughter, Miss Margaret, is Captain of the Odd Team. The Evens forces came with their flying golden streamers, bearing their banner of gold. When the guests who came to the game reached the front door they were met by girls offering purple or gold badges according to the year of their graduation or proposed graduation. All of the spectators were in this way divided into the Odd and Even Groups and all caught the enthusiasm of the girls. Following a cheer from the girls belonging to the Odds, the visitors wearing the colors of the Odds gave a long and loud cheer for the team. The same was true for the spectators wearing the gold streamers. The game was refereed by Mr. C. H. Jennings whose splendid refereeing always adds interest to any game. Though all of the College prophets who had watched the practice games had predicted victory for the Odds, the score after the last quarter had been played stood 13 to 9 in favor of the Odds.

The line-up was as follows:

Odds	Forward	Evens
Martha Hale	Florence Sanders
Helen Snider	Elizabeth Anderson
Mae Duncan	Center	Gladys Williams
Margaret McDaniel	Mary Ferguson	Guard
Virginia Stickley	Mary Sibold	Guard
Rose Steffy	Virginia Quick

Games between the two opposing teams are to be played each month. The people of the town are being divided, so far as athletics are concerned, into Odds and Evens. The next game will be played the 15th of December.

Fredericksburg.—A yield of 75 bushels of Irish potatoes on a plot of one-quarter acre in which two bushels of seed potatoes had been planted was the extraordinary record made by Deputy Treasurer J. W. Payne, of Stafford county, on his farm near Brooke.

Is It Worth While?

Is it worth while—the endless search
For what is poorly termed "success"?
Is it worth while to concentrate
On artificial happiness?
The frenzied urge that drives men on
In sordid striving after gold—
I wonder if they find in it
The satisfaction life should hold.

I wonder if each day for them
Contributes something truly grand.
Can men whose hearts are slaves to greed
And selfish purpose understand
The great abiding peace of mind,
The priceless ecstasy of soul
That are the glorious reward
Of those who seek a higher goal?

Is it worth while? Will any man
Confess that he believes it pays
To sell for things material
A life of precious nights and days?
We know such plan is not worth while!
We know that men are richly blest
Alone when they begin to learn
That wealth of character is best.

PREDICTIONS ARE AMERICA TO FACE CATTLE SHORTAGE

Large Quantity Of Breeding Animals Are Now Being Led To Slaughter

Washington, Nov. 25.—The usual predictions are being made that America will face an era of high prices in meats and a cattle shortage three years hence because of the large quantity of breeding animals being led to slaughter. The depression in the livestock industry is of no little concern here as the markets is glutted and prices are down. Indeed, this is the only phase of the agricultural situation which is conspicuous in the discussion of farm relief at the moment.

In answer to the forecasts of an ultimate shortage in range cattle, the answer is made in some quarters here that the Secretary of Agriculture's report in 1921 predicted the same thing for 1923 but it failed to materialize. The reason probably is that the cattle population of the country has been difficult to measure especially since the stimulus given to production during the war.

Just what are the factors most responsible for the depression, therefore are matters on which officials Washington are not too well informed. The eighteen states in which cattle raising is an important industry the opinions of the cattle men seem to differ. Some say the drought is the principal reason for the poor condition of the cattle sent to market and the low prices offered. Others say its the high price of corn which makes the farmer in the corn belt less anxious to buy from the range. Still another contention is that the cattle men are not getting out of their production the proper proportion of what the consumer is paying for what he buys.

Basically the question of marketing cattle like the problem of marketing other agricultural products is looked upon as one that has to be solved before any of the other factors can be clearly marked out and tackled.

The suggestion has been made to the new agricultural commission presided over by former Governor Carey of Wyoming that cooperative marketing associations to be formed for the handling of cattle just as had been successfully done with other commodities. In periods of depression there is a glut on the market due either to inability to get proper extension of credit or to an individual unwillingness to hold in the face of adverse market situation. The cooperation idea has been responsible for the more orderly marketing of some products and while no definite plan has been worked out for live stock except that credit facilities are better now than they were a few years ago the authorities here recognize that a solution is essential.

There is some hope that the agricultural commission will give its first attention to the livestock problem and possibly present in January a helpful plan whether it relates to legislation or the application of the cooperative idea to the cattle industry.

The new commission is really at the moment more important so far as agricultural policy is concerned than the Department of Agriculture itself. Assistant Secretary Gore who has been appointed Secretary to serve until March 4th only because he has been elected Governor of West Virginia will not have the opportunity to do more than keep things going as they are in the agricultural department. The new Secretary will no doubt be chosen when some suggestions on policy have been received from the new commission and it would not be surprising if some member of the commission were to be appointed Secretary of Agriculture to carry forward the work of the commission.

Sale of Christmas Seals.

The Annual Sale of Christmas Seals will open on November 28th and the posters and seals, for the 1924 sale have just been received by Mrs. Z. T. Atkins, Chairman for Smyth County.

This seal is the most artistic ever produced in all the 17 years during which the annual seal sale has become a recognized and popular institution. It is done in beautiful shades of red, blue and gold. It is printed on better paper than ever before. The adhesive material on the back is more efficient and the seals are guaranteed to stick. The color process is a perfect lithographing job.

The seals are so artistic as to be the equal of any commercial seal ever put on the market and advertising experts declare they should sell readily merely for their decorative value.

The design contains the words "Health, Christmas, 1924". The red double barred cross on a white shield bordered in red symbolizes the world wide movement for the prevention of tuberculosis in which are enrolled the International Union against Tuberculosis, the National Tuberculosis Association, 48 state associations and about 2,000 local associations. This campaign has resulted in a saving of millions of lives throughout the world and in the United States alone has effected a reduction in the death rate in the past 15 years from 202 per hundred thousand to 97. This is the greatest life saving work in which the local association is a participant.

At the left of the seal there is a woman's figure clad in gold drapery, holding aloft a torch which symbolizes the hope that has been brought to mankind through the successful efforts of the public health movement, a message to the ill that tuberculosis can be cured and to the well that it can be prevented.

The word "Health" on the seal indicates the enlargement of the tuberculosis movement into a general work for the betterment of public health in all directions. The health program is based on the theory that any educational effort or sanitary measure that tends to improve general conditions or to prevent any form of disease leads to the eradication of tuberculosis.

AMERICA'S OVERWHELMING VINDICATION.

America asserted itself yesterday, by a large majority. Americans, to an amazing number so unprecedented as to baffle the imagination, went to a hundred thousand polling places and cast 30,000,000 ballots. The decree of those ballots was an irresistible reaffirmation of the nation's ideals and a vindication of those who have been the outstanding representatives of those ideals.

The attack on the Supreme Court was repelled. The endeavor to pledge the country to class legislation was thwarted.

The assault upon the protective system that has befriended American industry and American workers was discountenanced.

The revival of the cry for amalgamation with European governments and their politics was again smothered and the Stars and Stripes left flying on its own flagpole.

The effort to discredit the man who took the reins of government from the hands of the dead Harding and has guided the country with the patience of a Lincoln, the integrity of a Washington and the courage of a Roosevelt has been rebuked.

Because the Republican party refused to yield to the confusion of revolutionary appeals the people have placed the candidates of that party in power in the executive chamber and in the halls of legislation, by an action so hugely emphatic that it is both the voice of approbation and the mandate that renews authority.

While this vast demonstration has been the declaration and defense of essential principles, it has expressed confidence in and given glory to the personalities chosen to represent those principles. Calvin Coolidge today stands on an elevation so high, so commendatory of his virtues and accomplishments, that he may well repeat the plea for divine guidance and strength which so many of his predecessors have expressed. But his approved character is his certification. And General Dawes, the loyal warrior, the skilled financier, the friendly adviser of Europe and the outspoken statesman, is well coupled in the victorious union of Coolidge and Dawes.

The Republican party rose to its opportunity. It took to itself the defense of a saving conservatism and kicked the stuffing out of the La Follette radicalism that so overestimated itself, while the Democratic party sat on the side lines in an inoffensive and lackadaisical way.

The country expects great things of President Coolidge, now to be Chief Magistrate by the people's original decree. It is hoped that the Republican national legislature that has been chosen will have a majority large enough to push aside the insurgent blocs. But whether or not, Calvin Coolidge has the insight, the conscience, the will and the moral and intellectual power to plan and to do, to be all that an American President should be.

PROTECTIVE POLICY GETS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

A large factor in the 1924 election result, seldom mentioned, was the advocacy of the protective tariff policy by the Republican party, and the remarkably successful operations of the present protective tariff law.

Henry Clay gave the name "The American policy" to the protective policy—the policy of giving Americans first chance in the American market, of equalizing production costs, mostly labor costs at home and abroad, by a protective tariff, and thus developing American resources and prospering American enterprise and labor. The American people follow the lead of Washington and Lincoln in being protectionists, and recognize the fact that now, more than ever, the protective tariff principle is essential to the maintenance of American prosperity.

This policy, too, they recognize as a measure of social justice. Under the policy of free entry of foreign made goods into our markets a war of standards begins—a war between the American standard of living and the foreign standard of living—a war in which alien capitalism is armed with a deadly weapon of cheapness attained at the sacrifice of human values.

John W. Davis in his campaign, bore down heavily upon the tariff issue. He promised a tariff more seriously competitive—this at a time when huge importations of foreign-made goods under the existing tariff menaced the welfare of American productive industry. Senator La Follette assailed the existing tariff law, and sought to make the American farmer believe that he had no interest in protection for his products or in a tariff law which keeps the wheels of American industry moving and thus provides for the American farmer a profitable near at home market.

The Republican national platform of 1924 declared unequivocally for the protective tariff principle and nominated for President a staunch protectionist. Such a declaration and such a candidate were assets of untold value to the Republican party in the recently concluded campaign.

California is one of the states, counted doubtful by the political south-sayers in the recent campaign, which was swung into the Republican column on the tariff issue. California produces each year $440,000,000 worth of horticultural and agricultural products, all of which are protected under the existing tariff law. California sells most of her lemon crop on the eastern seaboard. It costs $1.47 to ship a crate of lemons from California to New York, and forty-seven cents to freight a crate from Sicily to New York.

Avoid Using Castor Oil

—W. L. Hand.

Nobody likes to give or take castor oil. There is really hardly any need for it since the invention of Liv-o-lax.

And Liv-o-lax fills a double need. It has a marked action on the liver as well as the digestive tract, and so it can be used in cases of bilious attack, and when a cold is coming on, it takes the place of calomel and castor oil. Literally hundreds of mothers have earnestly thanked me for putting this good remedy on the market.

Children love to take Liv-o-lax and it is just as good for the same conditions in adults.

A bottle of Liv-o-lax costs but 30c at any drug store.

Sealed! to protect Buick performance

Buick's chassis is sealed. Iron and steel housings protect the operation of all driving parts—seal them in to safeguard Buick performance.

Here are the vital points at which Buick engineering provides this extra protection:

- FAN HUB—Fan bearing totally enclosed—lubricated by its own gear pump.
- MOTOR—Steel cover keeps water from short-circuiting spark plugs. Steel cover over valve-in-head mechanism keeps dust out, oil in.
- STARTER-GENERATOR—Delco single unit starter-generator completely housed in single housing. Starting gears housed with flywheel.
- FLYWHEEL—Completely housed. Starting teeth protected from road damage and accumulation of mud and dirt.
- CLUTCH—Multiple disc—completely housed.
- TRANSMISSION—Completely protected. Shifting mechanism holes sealed.
- UNIVERSAL JOINT—Completely enclosed in ball joint at front end of torque tube—lubricated automatically from transmission.
- PROPELLER SHAFT—Buick's third member drive, which is a torque tube, completely encloses the propeller shaft. It is impossible for road dirt to work from the shaft into the universal joint or rear axle.
- REAR AXLE—Floating type, totally enclosed in rear axle housing.

Americans Lead Fight Against Appalling Misery As Millions Exchange Homes In Near East

H. C. JAQUITH
Smyrna Hero Who Heads Near East Relief Work Among Deportees

ALLEVIATING the misery of efforts during four years as foreign head of America's most popular philanthropy had demonstrated his impartiality and fitness for the task. One of the chief problems in connection with the enforced migration has been that of child welfare. With the Moslems going to Turkey this question has not been acute. The high death rate among the Greek refugees, the unsanitary conditions in which they were forced to live on their flight, and the hardships they have endured have wiped out all adults in un-numbered families, leaving the children helpless.

In the refugee camps of Salonica, an important debarcation point for the Greeks, there are eleven thousand and orphans with many times that number of half orphans, whose only protectors are widowed mothers and aged grandparents. These youngsters have been the chief concern of Mr. Jaquith and the American child welfare experts on his staff. An effort has been made to care for as many as possible in the Golden Rule orphanages of the Near East Relief in which there are already 9,000 children. But the resources at his command are so limited that only a small fraction are receiving care. The remainder constitute a tremendous problem for the coming year.

How is the problem to be met? Mr. Jaquith and his associates are frank in declaring that it can not be met with their present budget. They have one hope. This is that the observance of International Golden Rule Sunday on December 7th throughout the civilized world will prove fruitful propaganda for raising the necessary funds.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseous Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomet, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water, that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

MACFARREN ARTISTS AND ARTHUR PLUMSTEAD, BARITONE

MACFARREN ARTISTS AND ARTHUR PLUMSTEAD, BARITONE

The Macfarren Artists, an instrumental trio, headed by Herbert Macfarren, noted British pianist, together with Arthur Plumstead, well-known American baritone, form a musical organization that has won the highest approval of leading music critics and the public.

Through the medium of piano, violin and cello, they render some of the compositions of the older masters, as well as the best productions of the more modern composers. Favorite light opera and grand opera selections and popular concert numbers are sung by Mr. Plumstead.

Herbert Macfarren comes from a distinguished musical ancestry. The name of his uncle, the late Sir George Macfarren, Principal of the Royal Academy of Music, London, and Professor of Music at Cambridge, and of Walter Macfarren, another kinsman, some time Professor of the Piano-forte at the Royal Academy, under whom Herbert Macfarren studied, is well known.

The latter's own high reputation as a public performer began in London, with his concert appearances at Queen's Hall, St. James' Hall and at the Imperial Institute. He has toured a large part of the United States in concert, and everywhere met with merited success.

Arthur Plumstead, baritone, possesses a voice of great power. A great American critic has rated him among the leading baritone singers in concert work today. His well-chosen song selections contribute immeasurably to the faultless musical programs offered by the company.

"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it stretches over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then, a man will get bilious anywhere, you know—and I find that a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again."

Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, assisting digestion and relieving constipation. Sold everywhere.

We Give Thanks

IT is good for us all to give one day each year to honest recognition of the things we have to be thankful for.

This November we, as a Nation, again give thanks in memory of the Armistice that brought us peace.

And we appreciate more keenly than ever the privilege that is given us all as Americans—a voice in selecting those who guide our national affairs.

This Institution is thankful for the friends it has made, for its many opportunities of serving them, and for the vision of greater opportunities ahead.

In keeping with the spirit of the day, we shall be closed for Thanksgiving, November 25th.

APPALACHIAN POWER COMPANY DEVELOPING NEW TERRITORY.

The Appalachian Power Company, as further evidence of its progressive-ness and its intention to develop the territory which it serves, is undertaking at once the building of a very heavy duty double circuit steel tower transmission line from its Glen Lyn steam plant to the city of Roanoke; thus to provide unlimited power and first class service for that growing community. Arrangements have also been made for the building of a similar line from Roanoke to Lynchburg, and while this line will be constructed by the American Electric Power Company, operating the public utilities in Roanoke and Lynchburg, and in which the Appalachian Power Company has a financial interest, the power will be supplied by the Appalachian Power Company. There are, of course, Lynchburg, after so many years will be supplied with an adequate and practically unlimited amount of electric power, which will provide for industrial expansion.

As the Appalachian Power Company's 60,000 kilowatt steam station structure for the tying in of the Ap its hydro electric developments, with an installed capacity of 28,000 kilowatts, making a total of 88,000 kilowatts or about 120,000 horse power, it can be easily seen that there is power available to take care of the growth of not only the cities of Lynchburg and Roanoke but other cities and industries in the Appalachian Power Company's present territory. This station capacity can be easily increased as the power demands warrant.

Short connecting links of transmission lines are already under construction for the tying in of the Appalachian Power Company and the Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, which also has ample station capacity of its own and, in addition, is tied in with large stations in Northern West Virginia and Ohio.

As a further evidence of development surveying crews are already at work surveying for a transmission line from Roanoke to Danville and Martinsville, which will enable the Appalachian Power Company to serve the industrial requirements of those communities and the intervening towns, with also the probability of connection with the power companies operating in North Carolina; so that when completed the cities served by the Appalachian Power Company will be served by part of an enormous superpower system assuring the residents of such cities and towns that they will never be throttled by lack of the principal element required for industrial expansion—namely, Electric Power.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 22.—The realty business got down to a fine point here, when A. W. Holz purchased exactly two inches of property from Benjamin Baer, who owns the lot adjoining his store.

Holz' two inches of land, which is situated on Virginia street, cost approximately $400. The deed concerning the transfer states that the building owned by Holz overlapped the Baer property by two inches and in order to clear the title it was sold.

At the meeting of the Smyth County Post 18 of the American Legion, Monday night, Nov. 24, C. W. Scott was elected Post Commander for 1925. A good number of Legionnaires were present and much interest and enthusiasm were shown in the formulation of plans for the coming year. The retiring Commander, J. F. ### DEATH OF WILLIAM A. HOPKINS

William A. Hopkins was born August 11th, 1849 and departed this life November 16th, 1924. He was married to Florence Blankenbeckler Sept. 2nd, 1875. To this union were born eleven children, seven of whom are living.

Some time after his marriage, perhaps twenty five years ago, he professed faith in Christ and joined the M. E. Church at River Bend, afterwards moving his membership to Zion Hill M. E. Church where he remained a member until the day of his death. He frequently told his children within the past two years that he was ready to meet death at any time that he might be called to go. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, believing in the brotherhood of man thru this channel as well as thru the church.

He was a good citizen, kind and loving father, and will be greatly missed by those who know him. His funeral was conducted by his pastor, J. L. Cupp, in the Baptist church near Zion Hill in the presence of a large number of friends. We give to his children and near relatives our sympathy, and commend them to a heavenly Father's loving care.

J. L. CUPP.

84th Birth Day.

Rev. Tyler Frazier of Chilhowie preached at the Methodist church last Sunday at 11:00 o'clock to a large congregation. This was Dr. Frazier's 84th birthday, which was celebrated at the home of his daughter Mrs. D. D. Staley.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. Tyler Frazier, Sr., of Chilhowie, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Frazier, Jr., of Chilhowie, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Frazier of Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazier of Pocahontas, Mrs. J. R. Eakin of Radford, Dr. J. B. Kirk and daughter, Mrs. Jack Warner, and son Lindley Kirk, of Bluefield, W. Va.

Dr. Frazier is a man of wonderful vitality and power for a man of his years; he was formerly a pastor at Marion, and has here a very large circle of warm friends, who wish for him many happy returns of the day he has just celebrated.

PAY DAY IS HERE AGAIN.

For our Savings Depositors

Our Savings Depositors have drawn their pay again; in other words, their accounts have been credited with the interest their money has earned.

Are you one of the happy ones? Is your name on our "Interest Pay Roll"? If so, bring in your Savings Pass Book and we will add the interest for the past six months.

The amount will depend on how earnestly and how regularly you have saved.

Remember that you can make it more next time by beginning now to save more, and all the while interest piling up on top of interest will keep making the sum to your credit larger and larger.

If you are not a Savings Depositor of this bank you should be.

You should be drawing two incomes; one from your work and one from your Savings in the form of interest. If sickness or accident stops your working wage, your interest wage will go right on.

You work for your money

AT HOME AND ABROAD.

of gallons of hot water every minute and which claim healing qualities. These springs afford a much greater supply of hot water than that of the Hot Springs of Ark. Glennwood has a magnificent bath house and one of the largest out-door hot water pools in the world and the bathing facilities at any season of the year, are excellent. The vapor caves are hewn out of solid rock and are an attractive feature and these are used for the treatment of the sick in which vapor baths are indicated.

The best of accommodations are afforded here by the famous Colorado Hotel. Many side trips can be had from this point, by automobile or horse-back. We could see many tourist in automobile all along this entire route from Denver to Salt Lake. The main highway passes its most places very near the Denver and Rio Grand Ry.

Hanging Lake, one of nature's wonders is only ten miles away, near the Canyon of the Colorado. It lies up in an overhanging basin, formed ages ago by gradual deposits from the mountain streams, among pines and ferns and moss. This is also the debarking point for the big game region in the White River country to the north where are located Marvins, Trappers and many other beautiful lakes. It is indeed a wild looking country high and dry, but cool even in August.

A branch Ry. a part of the Denver and Rio Grand Western extends south here to Carbondale, and a mining town, Aspen, from Carbondale other towns are reached, Redstone and others beautifully located along the Crystal River.

From Glennwood Springs we begin making a gradual ascent of the Rockies. We pass through Glennwood Springs about 7:20 and go up the mountains gradually until 10:20 when we reach the highest point of Ry. that we have yet made, at Tennessee Pass, which is 10,240 feet high. This is the Continental Divide which separates the eastern and western slopes of the Rockies. At the western entrance of the tunnel which we pass through may be noticed a small stream on its course to the Pacific. As we emerge from the tunnel may be seen another small stream starting on its course to the Atlantic.

In a former article we called your attention to the Continental divide in the Canadian Rockies and also in Yellowstone Park.

To me a great continental divide is a matter of much interest. There is a point in the Appalachian Mountains, where a great Watershed divides the waters of the Great Pee Dee River from those of the Ohio and Mississippi and these little streams flowing in opposite directions and yet very close together have always interested and instructed me, but a continental divide is of much greater interest.

It had now been our pleasure to see three continental divides since starting on our trip.

Leadville and Mount Massive is our next point of interest, Leadville is a Mining town, but is always of interest to the tourist, being the highest modern city in the world and having rich gold and silver mines from which a half billion dollars have been taken. Mount Massive and Mount Elbert stand out among the surrounding peaks, North from Leadville is Fremont Pass 11,330 feet high.

Buena Vista, just before entering Browns Canyon we come to this town. It has hot springs and excellent hotel accommodations. Westward is the Collegiate Range with Mounts Princeton Yale and Harvard each of these great peaks stand above 14,000 feet. Nine miles from Granite station is the attractive resort of Twin Lakes at the foot of Mt. Hayden and which is reached by stage.

I forgot to mention Red Cliff and Eagle River Canyon which is a town only 27 miles from Leadville. From Red Cliff on the Eagle River a journey may be made to the Mount of the Holy Cross only 12 miles southward, but cannot be seen from our train on the Denver and Rio-Grand. The enormous cross is made by the show in two transverse canyons; west of Red Cliff the train has passed through Eagle River Canyon where some Colorado richest mines may be seen on the sides of the cliffs. The Eagle is a fine stream for trout-fishing.

Salida a town of some importance is about 25 miles from Buena Vista. Southward lies the Sangre de Cristo (Blood of Christ) Range, northwest the Collegiate Range, southwest Mounts Ouray and Shavano between which is Marshalls Pass altitude 10,856 feet.

The next place of interest and perhaps of the greatest interest is the Royal Gorge, Grand Canyon of the Arkansas. This Grand Canyon is 4 miles long, through which the Arkansas River pours from the high country above. The railroad by a marvel of engineering enterprise with much blasting and a great deal of ballasting had made it a thoroughfare of world renown. The train appears to cling close to every twist and turn. There is scarcely space between wall and river for the single track. The solid rocks tower on either side 2,627 feet. The sky is a thread, nearly obliterated by the overhanging rocks above. At one point called the Hanging Bridge the width is but 10 yards, and the railroad has been built out over the river's edge. The river boils madly and the engine and train sway now to the right, and now to the left. To look ahead it would appear that momentarily the way is completely blocked, but it opens again, and a way is always found. The narrowest and deepest portion of the great canyon is called the Royal Gorge.

Next we come to Canyon City, located at the entrance really to the Royal Gorge. An auto drive has been constructed to the very top of the mountains overlooking the Royal Gorge from which one may look down into this mighty chasm half a mile below. The return trip from this drive may be made over the "Sky Line Drive" a well constructed road that follows along the top of a long narrow mountain close to the town.

The river drive and the tunnel drive are said to be interesting. There has also been added the Phantom Canyon Highway leading to the famous Cripple Creek.

Our next city of importance through which we pass is Pueblo. It has a population of 65,000 and is the second city in size in the State of Colorado. It is sometimes called the Pittsburgh of the West on account of its smelting and steel works.

Pueblo has well paved and well lighted streets, good hotels and a Union Station of ample size. In the heart of the city is located a mineral spring with a hotel and sanatorium, said to be noted for its radio-active waters. Southwest from Pueblo is the San Isabel National Park. The forest service has set aside 100 acres in this park for a camping ground for the city of Pueblo which is also available for visitors. The Arkansas River runs through the city. The river has its rise near Leadville and emerges from the mountain wall above Canyon City.

We pass through several other smaller towns till at length we arrive at Colorado Springs at 5:55 P. M.

We have just passed through one of the greatest play grounds in the world on our trip from Salt Lake City to Colorado Springs. The western half of Colorado and two thirds of Utah adjoining the Rocky Mountains, enthroned above piney valley, high desert, mesa and plateau, extend over a space approximately 300 miles wide by 400 miles long. "It is an out-door region such as no other nation possesses; the deepest canyons in the world traversed by railroads; the highest passes in the world crossed by standard tracks, the highest summits in the world attained by automobiles; the worlds largest dead sea as old as the wonder in Palestine, a railroad across the sea itself, and another resting on a dazzling bed of salt for thirty miles; the shores of the worlds vastest basin, once lapped by a Dead Sea still larger; a colorful enchanted desert broken by the pinacles and canyons of the Green and Colorado; lakes innumerable, outrivaling with their charms a Lucerne and a Constance; watering places uncounted, including the most potent radium springs in the world and luxurious pools of warm sulphur water with the feel of velvet; ruins that puzzle history; the relics of forgotten people, two National Parks, six National Monuments and the 13,000,000 acres of National Forest in Colorado and 7,000,000 in Utah, policed, trail marked, their wood water and camp privilege free to American people."

"Its portals only thirty hours from Chicago. Some seven lines of railroad lead to it from East and South; half a dozen penetrate it—Pullmans and observation cars cross it at elevations of 10,000 to 11,000 feet." Every one in our own country should see it to appreciate it. I cannot describe it by using my own or that of another's description.

"The sky throughout summer and fall is blue and cloudless, except for brief thunder storms of rare grandeur. The air is thin dry and crystalline, invigorating body and mind "Edwin Sabin."

I said we arrived at Colorado Springs at 5:55 P. M. August 9th. At the Station after an unavoidable delay of a few minutes we took auto for the Garden of the Gods and the Cave of the Winds. The Garden of the Gods is a most wonderful and marvelous fantastic formation of sand stone. Looks like hundreds of prominent red pillars many feet high, but many of these formations appear to be only a few feet in diameter, some of them however are quite large one in particular resembling a great ship. This Garden of the Gods is probably better known to the traveling public than any other western scenery.

We drove from the Garden of the Gods direct to the Cave of the winds. We enter Williams Canyon and are driven up through the Narrows over Temple Drive, a drive so crooked that you think you will meet yourself coming back, and we were driven so fast that it made one dizzy and one of our party of the larger size did have an attack of something.

This drive is a one-way road, the Cave is high on the Canyon Wall, is well lighted by electricity and we were able by the aid of a guide to see much of nature's handiwork in the form of stalactites and stalagmites and crystallized formations. We were delighted with this wonderful Cave and its many rooms. Returning the road winds along the rim of the Canyon and descends in a number of loops, we passed through Maritou on our return trip to Colorado Springs.

At Manitou are said to be wonderful mineral waters. One of the finest Bath Houses in the U. S. is located here having cost in 1920 $850,000. It contains every appli-

ENFORCING THE LAW

It is with pleasure that we learn that the officers all over the county are enforcing the law strictly in regard to drunkenness, and wherever evidence of the violations is found the law will be enforced. The following cases have been brought to our attention this week:

Polly Rush was arrested Sunday night by Town Sergeant Hagy of Saltville, and was fined $33.00.

Will Mercer was arrested Sunday night for drunkenness in Marion, and is still confined in jail.

Avery Long was arrested near Mount Carmel for operating a car while under the influence of liquor, and was sent on to the Grand Jury at the next term of the Court, and released under bond of $1,000.

A young man by name of Caldwell was also fined $36.75 for being under the influence of liquor.

We do not often publish such accounts for we do not think that they reflect any credit on our community, but it is well now and then to let those know who are given to the use of whiskey that the officers will certainly do their duty if they catch them in an intoxicated condition.

Mr. Preston Copenhaver, of Atlanta, Ga., spent the holidays in Marion as the guest of his parents Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Copenhaver; and left Sunday for Atlanta, to resume his work.

Miss Pattie Emory and Miss Virginia Seaver, returned to Marion Monday after spending the latter part of the week in Richmond, attending the meeting of the State Teachers Association.
