Two More Titles Decided in Dem-News Tourney

Two more titles, those for women's singles championship and doubles championship, were decided last week in the Dem-News Marion championship tourney.

Warren Wright, men's singles champ, was joined by another hospital hill entry when Miss Naida Ackley carried off the women's singles crown, defeating Miss Helen Miles 6-2, 6-2, in the final match. Miss Ackley previously won her way into the finals by taking a hard fought match from Mrs. Dot Barlow, 6-4, 8-6.

Madge Snider and Ruth Maiden captured the women's doubles title when they eliminated Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Nancy Walker in the final match, 6-3, 10-8.

Only two more matches remain to be played. The men's doubles is being held up until the John-Buchanan-Scotty Finley combination and the Dr. Staley-L. P. Haywood team settle which shall meet Jim Richardson and Ralph Lincoln in the finals.

For the mixed doubles title, Miss Snider and Lanson Estep forfeited to Miss Lollie Lincoln and John Buchanan, because of Mr. Estep's health.

Government To Purchase Southwest Virginia Cabbage

Congressman John W. Flannagan, Jr., and J. H. Meek have notified E. K. Coyner that the government expects to buy cabbage in Smyth, Wythe and Washington Counties.

The cabbage situation should be relieved very much by the purchase of this cabbage as the market would not consume it all. This should also advance the price of the cabbage to the grower as it will take out of the regular trade channels a number of cars that would ordinarily have to go to the markets which are over supplied.

F. R. Richardson

Word has been received of the death of F. R. Richardson, 82, at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, on August 7th. His death followed a stroke earlier in the day. Mr. Richardson was born in Rich Valley near Chatham Hill. He was the brother of Mrs. W. B. Pratt of Richlands, A. S.

Richardson of Grundy, and R. M. Richardson of Marion, who survive him, and of the late C. Lee Richardson Sr. His wife, formerly Miss Susie Spratt of Rich Valley, and his two sons, Will Richardson, and Blair Richardson, also survive him.

Mr. Richardson, who was at one time Deputy Treasurer of Smyth County under R. T. Copenhaver and Thomas Rosenbaum, moved to Bonners Ferry, Idaho, about thirty years ago.

Where Is My Wandering Cow Tonight?

Some nights ago Frank Peery, Bob Wassum, Preacher Burris and other dwellers on Hospital Hill discovered a stray cow eating in their gardens. They phoned for Night Policeman Earl Powell and the three of them started to herd her off the hill.

Earl met them on the hill and, as is the local custom in such matters (the town and county jails both being a bit small for a good cow) lodged her in the cattle pens at the railroad for the night.

He left word about her for the Mayor and went to bed when his night's stint was over.

The Mayor didn't get the word. The next thing Earl knew Guy Killen, who lives up near the golf course, was after him for his cow and Earl found that, willy nilly, he was in the cattle business.

The cow was gone—vamoosed, vanished.

It seems that a cattleman from over near Mouth of Wilson had shipped two truck loads of cattle that day and with them he shipped Mr. Killen's pet bovine.

Fortunately she had his name on a clip in her ear. The load went to Lexington and some quick telegraphing by Earl located her there.

Earl did some more telegraphing and got a good offer on her from a Lexingtonian who likes jerseys. "I'll sell her for you, or ride her home," he now offers.

More Black Widow Spiders

Monday afternoon Corbin Schuler, of Lincoln's Hill, walked into the print shop with a pocketful of live black widow spiders, in match boxes. He said he was looking under rocks for crickets for fishing bait near the junk pile on the north side of Lincoln's Hill when he found three of them. He caught and caged them in two penny match boxes.

The largest of the three has a leg span of about two inches. One of the other two, which are somewhat smaller, has reddish markings up the back in addition to the usual spot on the tip of the abdomen and the hour glass underneath.

Another black widow spider was also found this week in the golf course neighborhood. It was found by young Bennie Whetzle son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whetzle, who live next door to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hart, where the first spider reported in Smyth county was discovered. Bennie found his under an old log.

A Boy Of Fifty Years Ago

After wandering from town to town and city to city I the boy of fifty years ago return to my old home town, this beautiful town of Marion. And find it wonderful improved. Beautiful buildings where once were shacks, also a large beautiful court house. And still find a few kind and loving friends, but many many have passed away to the great beyond from this beautiful town to one more glorious which its beauty I cannot describe, for it is written eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath it entered into the hearts of men what great thing the Lord hath prepared for them that love Him. It fills my heart with joy to have the privilege to come back after fifty long years of wandering to this lovely town of Marion and live my childhood days over again.

Greetings to my friends of the by gone days, also the people generally of Marion.

Mick or Mack Changes Hands

The Marion Mick or Mack Store, one of the leading local groceries, changed hands this past week when Mr. R. E. Tomlinson purchased the business from Mr. S. H. Catron, who operated it for the past six years.

Illness, which will prevent him from engaging in any business activity for at least a year, caused Mr. Catron to sell out.

He has been very popular as a merchant and during his ownership the Mick or Mack Store has been enlarged and improved.

His customers and friends will learn with regret that he has been forced to give up the reins.

Mrs. Raymond Goehagan of Chase City, Va., who is spending some time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Neff, was hostess to three tables of bridge, Thursday afternoon. ... finds Farmer out near Chatham Hill has the reputation of driving his men. This is not altogether undeserved as is proved by his method of awakening them. About four o'clock on Monday morning, armed with a hand bell, he goes out to the barn loft where his three slaves sleep, and, ringing the bell, shouts at the top of his voice: "Today's Monday, the next day's Tuesday and after that comes Wednesday. Here's half the week gone and you slugabeds ain't up yet."

... I must be getting unsteady in my old age. The other night as I was picking up a pile of dishes my favorite cat, Archibald, began rubbing against my legs and I jumped about six feet in the air. Thought it was a rat! The dishes came down before I did... but it didn't cost me a fortune to replace 'em... I went to Groseclose's 5 and 10. They've got one of the best assortments of Chinaware you ever saw, and at prices that don't read like 1928 stock quotations. And such attractive designs...

... here's a tip to you folks who have any heavy weighing to do... you know, coal, sand, livestock, etc... The Marion Handle Mills, down near Staley's Creek have just put in a new Fairbanks Truck Scales... handle anything up to twenty tons!

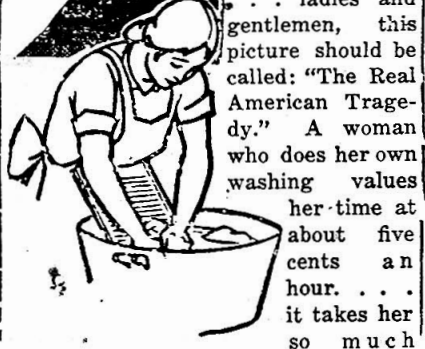

... from now on you don't need to guess the weight of anything... you can know... and it prints the weight on a slip too...

... soon the first snows will be blanketing the housetops, the north wind will be howling and the robins will be bidding farewell to Virginia. Cold weather is within speaking distance... and with cold weather comes broken pipes and stalled heating systems... and when a pipe breaks in winter or the heating system gets out of order, it's not so pleasant! Now, in August, it's a good time to have your equipment checked over... W. B. Todd and Co. are equipped to give it the once over and fix it up.

... "my heart is like a singing bird whose nest is in a watered shoot" ... that's what Christina Rossetti said in one of her poems... and that's the way you'll feel when you sample some of the City Drug Store's special "Our Own" chocolate assortments. They have 'em put up for them. No fancy wrappings. You pay for candy, not for boxing, and get a pound for fifty cents... nuts, fruit and cream centers—all kinds.

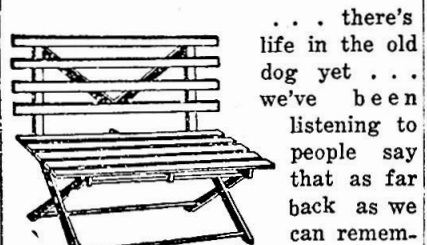

... ladies and gentlemen, this picture should be called: "The Real American Tragedy." A woman who does her own washing values her time at about five cents an hour... it takes her so much longer than it does a modern laundry. She doesn't have the time-saving equipment. But she doesn't need to spend her Mondays bent over a wash tub. The Marion Laundry, with its wet wash service, will take care of that.

A certain Saltville citizen was at a fountain pen counter making a purchase. "You see, he said, I'm buying this for my wife." "Is it a surprise?" the clerk asked. "I'll say it is," the man replied. "She's expecting a limousine."

... "one o'clock in the morning I get lonesome; one o'clock in the morning I get blue." ... That's from a song that was popular back before the war... it doesn't matter if you get the roving foot at three in the afternoon or one in the morning, the Legionnaire up at Atkins is ready to serve you... gas for your car... made-on-the-spot sandwiches and other refreshments for you... and if you like to dance, there's a phonograph, radio and all things fitting in the back.

... there's life in the old dog yet... we've been listening to people say that as far back as we can remember. And as in many other sayings there's a lot of truth in it. Anybody may get tired of a piece of furniture, but it's still got plenty of service left in it... you can trade in to Blevins and Spencer, down in the old Graham 5 and 10 building... and if you want some furniture at low prices, take a look at their assortment of used articles...

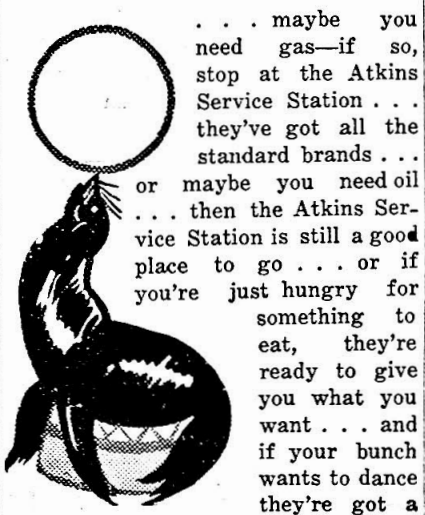

... Mr. Old Oil lies in wait to injure your car if you don't watch out. Better have it changed. You can't afford to wait until something happens—that something is likely to be plenty expensive... if you want your car checked over and cleaned and greased try the East End Service Station. Or if you do have a wreck, they have wrecker service... day or night... All you need to do it phone 44... Reedy and Malley...

Their meeting it was sudden. Their parting it was sad. She gave her young life meekly—'Twas the only life she had. She's sleeping in the valley, And she's sleeping peaceful now, For that's what always happens When a freight train hits a cow.

... some people say they hate to spend money on soft drinks in hot weather. They say they're not getting anything substantial for their money... but if they would try the Laurel Springs Dairy fresh orangeade they would feel different about it... orangeade is a food as well as a thirst-quencher. It helps supply energy to the body as well as making you feel cooler... you can keep orangeade in your own refrigerator, and have it always fresh... just have the Laurel Spring truck deliver it to you with your milk... five cents for a 6 1/2 ounce bottle... or you can get it at your drug store or confectioner's.

... maybe you need gas—if so, stop at the Atkins Service Station... they've got all the standard brands... or maybe you need oil... then the Atkins Service Station is still a good place to go... or if you're just hungry for something to eat, they're ready to give you what you want... and if your bunch wants to dance they've got a room specially arranged for you.

A certain Marion lady inquired, "Where can Harold be?" "Why?" asked her friend. "He's been trying for weeks to lose our cat," the lady answered. "This morning he took it up in an airplane. He meant to go up three thousand feet high and then drop the cat over the side." "Well, what do you have to worry about?" the friend wanted to know. "Lots," replied the wife. "Harold isn't back yet but the cat is."

... and, folks, I guess that's about all for this week... hope you're enjoying life, and that I'll have another chance to chat with you soon. Until then, Mary Marion bids you toodleoo.

Rich Valley Shorthorn Chapter Completes Florida Tour

The Rich Valley Shorthorn Chapter of the Future Farmers of America has returned home after a trip through Florida. The boys were accompanied by their agricultural instructor, Mr. M. M. Lewis.

The travelers were everywhere impressed by the courtesies shown them by the agricultural instructors. The assistant state supervisor, H. E. Wood, of Gainesville, had the most outstanding events planned through his staff of instructors for the educational tour during their twelve days in Florida.

Places visited included the University of Florida; the transparent Silver Springs at Ocala; Largo, where the boys were entertained by the local chapter of the FFA, served by Florida girls with beverages made from Florida fruits, and loaded down with grapefruit to take home on the bus.

The next step was Sarasota, where the Chamber of Commerce let the chapter go through Ringling's Art Museum and Texas Jim's Rattlesnake farm. A guide went with them. They watched Texas Jim "milking" the rattlers. He explained the use of the "milk" for dog bites and epileptic fits in man. The chapter was then directed by Levi Joanson, agriculture instructor, to the big celery farms, where they saw some of the richest farm land in the world. That night they were entertained at a theater party and later at a party given by the Presbyterian young people of Sarasota.

Next the boys visited Fort Myers, West Palm Beach, the gigantic sugar mills at Clewiston, a tribe of Seminole Indians at Lake Port, Miami (where they enjoyed five hours deep-sea fishing nine miles from land), the Pan American Air Line, a coast guard ship, the Miami Horse Race track, the White Belt Dairy Farm (where they were served with ice cream), and Daytona Beach.

At St. Augustine they visited the oldest Spanish fort, oldest school building, oldest house, and the fine St. Augustine beach. In Atlanta the chapter visited Grant Park and Stone Mountain. At Knoxville the big TVA project, Norris Dam, engrossed their attention.

Beyond Duty

IN ALL FIELDS of professional endeavor it is the personal quality which is important. Impossible to standardize, and directly dependent upon experience and training in the profession, it represents, in our work, the finest and most important of the services we render. Although infrequently discussed, it is deserving of the most serious attention before engaging a funeral director. We pride ourselves upon a record of faithfully performed obligation to both individuals and the community.

Marion Fall Festival

By E. K. COYNER, Sec. Chamber of Commerce

The town of Marion has been invited to take part in the Virginia Autumn Travelogue. The State Chamber of Commerce is fostering fall tourists coming to Virginia and they have given the 15th and 16th of October to Marion. They can use as many days as they want to but these two days are allocated to Marion owing to the fact that they expect to visit a number of points in the State and are only allowing a town to have two days in their program.

Now, what can Marion do to entertain the tourists and the entire Southwest Virginia on these two days? We have a number of beautiful drives including the Comer's Rock, White Top, Hungry Mother Park and Walker's Mountain. These dates will possibly cover the time of the very best coloring as to foliage.

Why not make this a trade week? Let all of the merchants beautify their windows for window shopping and decorate their stores in a colorful way, showing the latest fashion, latest foods, automobile equipment and inventions in hardware, the furniture stores and all merchants join in beautifying windows for displaying their fall goods.

Ask the band to play on the Court House Lawn, and ask some of our homes to open up from 11 to 12 o'clock in the evening and possibly provide tea. Marion does not have the colonial homes, but the town does have beautiful homes and hospitality.

The town itself could decorate the streets and have welcome signs. This could be carried out for the entire week.

The Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs meet on Tuesday evening, the 15th, and they could have open house and invited guests.

The College could be asked to beautify their campus and have the young ladies to entertain and a queen could be selected from their number.

Scouts could be provided to take tourists on these drives. Mr. Sipes has offered to have the roads in good condition and also provide a number of scouts for this occasion.

The State Chamber of Commerce is providing a very colorful booklet in which they have allocated to Marion two pages and the same to other towns who are taking part in the celebration. They will distribute 25,000 of these booklets and also advertise in a number of papers, getting the tourists into Virginia.

We could combine this with the trade week and show the tourists just what we have to offer in Marion in the way of trade and entertainment. At the same time show them our beautiful scenery at the autumn season.

Health Notes

Your brain is your power house. From it is supplied the vital energy that is necessary to produce proper function in the heart, stomach, kidneys, etc. The nerves are cables which convey this energy and any pressure upon them decreases this capacity and results in disease of the organ supplied. Chiropractic is the only branch of science dealing exclusively with this principle. By locating the pressure on the nerves in the spine and correcting that it removes the cause and nature does the rest.—(Advertisement)

Are You
an Ant or a Grasshopper

Aesop told about the grasshopper who fiddled sweet music all summer, while the ant worked and stored, and then starved in the winter while the foresighted ant was warm and well fed.

Don't be a grasshopper about your home and your property. Fall will soon be with us. Prepare now, while working conditions are still good, for winter's blasts.

- Do foundations need new cement work . . . ?
- Do walls need re-sealing with wallboard . . . ?
- Will the old roof serve this winter . . . ?
- Are new boards needed to put outbuildings in shape to safely store crops . . . ?
- Is your home shipshape and in full repair for winter . . . ?

When the sun is blazing hot, your motor heat goes up, too!

To protect your motor, use Germ Processed Oil, which has 2 to 4 times greater film strength and is less affected by extreme motor heat!

YOUR MOTOR runs lots hotter in Summer. That's why you must have oil that maintains high film strength under extreme temperatures to get safe lubrication. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear.

Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing methods have even less. As motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

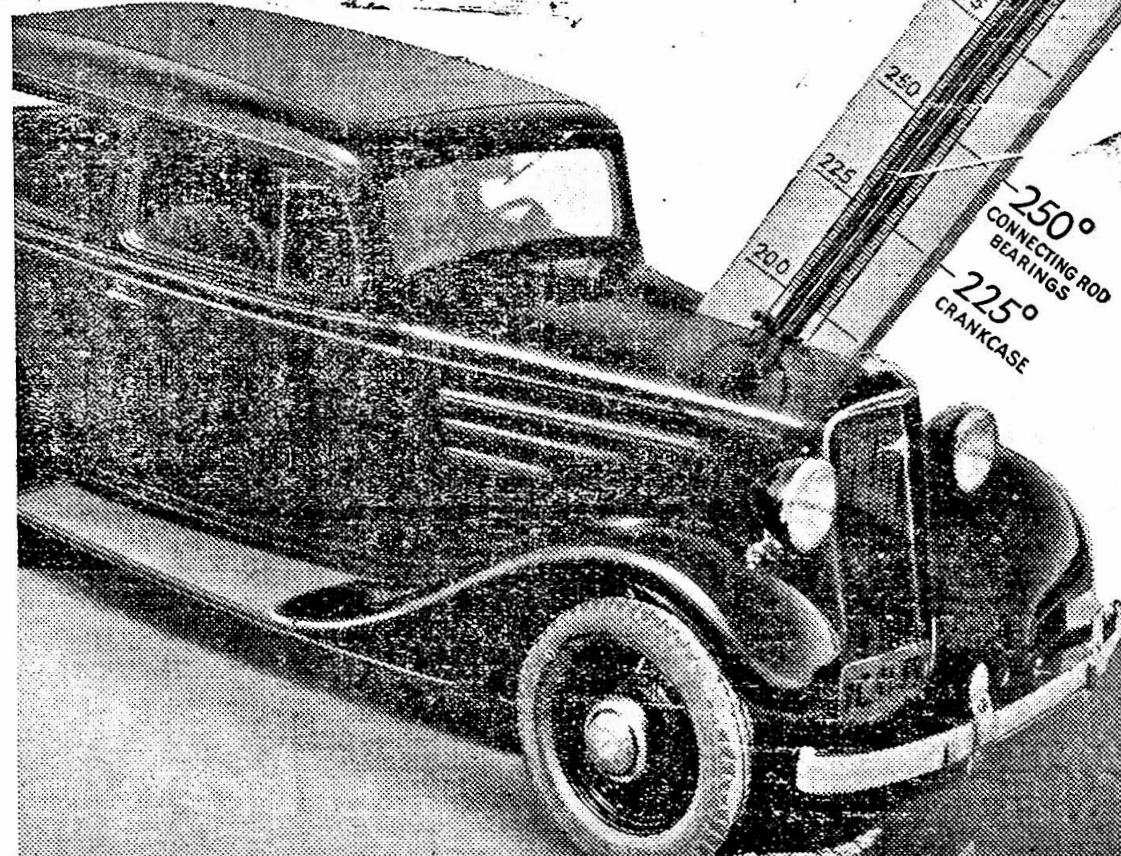

You'll get better motor protection with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Timken machine tests prove that it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil and that heat above 225° does not lessen this advantage.

More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil.

You'll be certain your motor is safely lubricated even at high temperatures if you say "O. K.—Drain" and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Say "O.K.—Drain" — FILL WITH CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

WHITE TOP CONTESTS CLIMAX FOUR DAYS' EVENTS

all art springs from folk tradition, Mr. Powell included in his program a group of selections based on Anglo-Saxon folk music.

Folk Conference
Folk arts, music and balladry and their application in everyday life and American creative art were discussed at the White Top Folk conference, held jointly with the semi-annual meeting of the Southeastern Folklore Society, at Marion College the morning and afternoon of Thursday the 15th. Approximately 100 attended.

The meetings of the Folklore Society were routine. They were presided over by Mellinger Henry, New Jersey, vice-president. The annual publication of the society was the principal subject discussed.

The Folk Conference was begun in 1933, but this was the first year that an entire day has been devoted to it. The morning session was opened by Mrs. Annabel Morris Buchanan, director of the festival and advisory member of the Southeastern Folklore Society. John Blake- more, of Abingdon, was business manager of the festival; C. C. Lincoln, assistant. Among those who spoke were Mellinger Henry, Dr. Reed Smith, Richard Chase, R. W. Gordon. Speakers at the afternoon session included Elizabeth Burchenal, and Mrs. Alice Carter Shera. Lula Vollmer, author of "The Hill Between," a folk play given Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Abingdon as one of the festival events, was introduced, and so was Robert Porterfield, director of the Barter Theatre Group, who stated that his organization plans each summer to present one play based on folk life. Mrs. R. H. Ottaway, of Michigan, first vice-president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, presided at a general discussion of folk music and congratulated Mrs. Buchanan on her activities for the festival. Mrs. Palmer, state chairman of folk hymn study of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs, spoke on her subject.

John Powell discussed folk hymns.

White Top, First Day
Three thousand spectators from 16 states and the District of Columbia came to the try-outs held between three hundred competing musicians from seven states on White Top Mountain, Friday the 16th. The weather was uncertain, clouds twice blanketing out the view which normally extends over five states.

The morning's program opened with prayers by the Rev. Dr. D. B. Walthall, pastor of the Glade Spring Presbyterian church.

An amplification system made it easy for everyone to hear the musicians. Officials from the library of congress recorded many of the songs rendered.

A night-long dance in the festival pavilion began at 6 p. m.

White Top, Second Day
A much larger crowd—estimated to have exceeded 5,000 persons—attended the final day on White Top, Saturday the 17th.

A conference among organization leaders discussed plans for obtaining sufficient financial support to bring folk musicians to the festival from all parts of America. It is hoped that White Top will become a permanent center of American folk culture.

The musicians and dancers who had survived the try-outs of the day before competed once again, and the final winners were selected:

Folk hymns, Horton Barker, Chilhowie, and W. E. Alderman, Galax, tied for first; J. W. Testerman, Rugby, and Miss Effie Harrison, send.

Ballads: Texas Gladden, Roanoke, first; L. E. Alderman, Galax, second.

WHY AMERICA PREFERS BUDWEISER.

It helps a perfect hostess to compliment her guests

To offer your guests beer... is simple hospitality. But to offer them BUDWEISER is a gracious compliment.

That is the reason why so many modern women, like their mothers and grandmothers before them, order BUDWEISER by the case for their homes. Its vivid taste blends with the flavors of choice foods—but is never lost.

Its nationally famous personality sets it brilliantly apart from ordinary beers. Order by the case for your home.

Allison-Burch

A wedding of simplicity and beauty was solemnized at 6 o'clock

Saturday evening, August 17 at the Methodist Episcopal church in Chilhowie, when Miss Margaret Josephine Burch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Burch of Chilhowie, became the bride of Charles Edward Allison, son of Mrs. B. C. Allison and the late B. C. Allison of Glade Spring.

The Episcopal ring ceremony was read by Dr. Charles H. Pratt, uncle of the bride, from the same prayer book which he used when he officiated at the marriage of her parents.

The vows were spoken before a white arch, intertwined with green and ornamented with hanging baskets, which formed an entrance to a garden scene ablaze with colorful gladioli against a background of evergreens following the architectural lines of the church. Tapers in tall standards accented the beauty of the scene.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Elizabeth Eversole, cousin of the bride, sang, “I Love You Truly,” by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and “Oh Promise Me” by DeKoven, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Sechler, pianist, who used Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin for a processional and the Mendelssohn Wedding March as a recessional. During the ceremony Nevin's Venetian Love Song was played.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white lace, fashioned with long sleeves and train, and trimmed with a row of tiny buttons up the back from the waist to the high neckline. Her dainty hat of white mulline was trimmed with the lace of the gown, and she wore white mitts. Her flowers were calla lilies.

Miss Mary Virginia Burch was her sister's maid of honor, wearing an aquamarine satin dress with train and full-sleeved jacket, and carrying a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Pratt, cousin, and Mrs. William H. Copenhaver, Jr., sister of the bride, were gowned in long peach crepe dresses with flowing jackets, and carried leghorn picture hats trimmed with green velvet bands and filled with garden flowers.

Mr. Allison was attended by his brother, Sam Allison of Glade Spring, as best man. The ushers were James Hutton Greever of Chilhowie and George Allison of Lexington, Va.

Mrs. Allison, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in black with a shoulder corsage, and Mrs. Burch, mother of the bride, wore black and white crepe also with shoulder corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison left immediately after the ceremony for an eastern bridal trip after which they will be at home in Glade Spring.

Mrs. Allison the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burch received her education at Chilhowie high school and Emory and Henry College and was a teacher in the grade school here the past term.

Miss Mary Payne Copenhaver welcomed the guests at the door, and assisting hostesses were Mrs. S. A. Cole, Mrs. Fred H. Greever and Mr. J. H. Sechler. Receiving with Mrs. Burch were Mrs. B. C. Allison, William H. Copenhaver, Jr., and the bridal party.

“Doubles” --lead the way!

Fall suits are here—fall itself is almost here—and leading the way in both will be the new double-breasted suits with the long roll lapel in both plain and sport backs. Other distinguishing features are the three-button fronts, plus side-vents on some models.

Mark our words, this is THE suit for fall... and we're proud to present it with the opening of the season. Of course, we aren't neglecting the old reliable singles... you'll find we have many in new fall weaves and shades.

Please note the Tyrolean hat worn by the figure in the illustration. This imported shape will be “tops” among discriminating men this season. We're showing the Tyrolean in two beautiful collections of fall headwear... one by Knox, the other by Byron.
