MRS. AND MR. POLLY TICK COMING.

This delightful comedy under the direction of the Wayne R. Sewell Producing Company of Atlanta, Ga., will be presented in Marion some time in August for the benefit of the Civic Committee of the Woman's Club.

Press reports claim Mrs. and Mr. Polly Tick surpasses "The Microbe of Love", which everyone greatly enjoyed, and was considered by the majority to be one of the best amateur plays ever given in Marion.

M. & R. V. Will Operate.

WILL NOT ALLOW DISCONTINUANCE OF VALLEY ROAD.

Richmond, July 23.—The State Corporation Commission has continued a temporary injunction prohibiting the discontinuance of the operation of the Marion and Rye Valley railroad, which runs from Marion to Sugar Grove, in Smyth county. The injunction is against Floyd L. Knight, of Lynchburg, trustee, and his wife, Minnie L. Knight, and enjoins them forever from taking any steps toward the discontinuance or curtailment of service.

Prior to the action of the commission yesterday, the Knights had petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to abandon the road, and a hearing will shortly be given.

The property is now being operated by Knight as trustee for the bondholders. A protest against the discontinuance of the road was entered by numerous residents of Smyth county. The commission has expressed an opinion that the road will pay some revenue above operating expenses, but says it has no evidence to base a fair value for rate-making purposes.

A Letter From Florida.

July 9th, 1923.

Dear Folks in Virginia: I know you all think of us and wonder what we are doing. We often think of you all too and would be pleased to get a nice long letter telling us all about your selves, so now please consider this a personal letter from me, and answer real soon. One week ago yesterday we came over here to Coronado Beach thirty-five miles from Sanford.

We went to Sunday School first and it was near eleven o'clock when we left home. We took dinner along with us and stopped under some shade trees near New Smyrna, made coffee and had a regular picnic.

We came on to the beach; went in bathing and afterward in search of a house or rooms, as we had planned for a months vacation over here. We came down the beach about one and a half miles from Coronado; found several houses in line on a hill, just a short distance from the ocean, we rented three furnished rooms, and we can look down at the beach and the water from the front rooms and porch.

We went back to Sanford then, to get ready, we expected to come back to the beach on Thursday afternoon when we awoke on Monday morning, baby Walter was sick, well he was feeling real bad about eleven o'clock, so I phoned to Walter to come out to the house, and we took the baby down to see the Doctor. He gave us some medicine for him and the next day he began to improve rapidly, and by Thursday he was all right and we came on. One of our neighbors is keeping the cow, looking after the chickens and flowers while we are away, and we have a good man in the shop also. A young lady, Miss Thelma Eaton; a friend of ours came over with us and will remain here while we stay.

We got here about five o'clock Thursday afternoon, cooked supper on the little two burner oil stove and all we felt quite at home when we gathered around the little table. After supper we went in bathing for awhile and then to sleep. You can't imagine such sleeping as one does on the sea shore.

The landlady informed us that the ice man came out on this road on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, so we watched carefully for him all morning Friday, about noon we heard a terrible rumbling, and we rushed out on the back porch, a closed-in truck was going by like a streak of lightning, we could not see what was in the truck, but a negro man had his head poked out as far as he could, and was screaming to the top of his voice, "Ice Man" well if we had not understood the word ice we should have thought it was the fire truck. There being some houses below us we expected he was sounding the alarm and would stop as he came back, so in a few minutes we heard the rumbling again, I was washing the dishes, I knew I must act quickly, I ran out on the porch and waved the dish rag as high up in the air as I could. He understood, threw on the brakes and out jumped the negro, I felt sure he would land on his head but he didn't practice makes perfect, and I am sure he has had practice, from the way he stood up.

I must say that our landlady is a very attractive old lady, she came in Saturday afternoon and chatted for quite awhile and she brought me some turtle eggs. I didn't know much about turtle eggs and I told her so. She told me to use them in pan cakes and in corn bread and they make delicious cake. I made pan cakes for breakfast Sunday morning, we had butter and honey to go on them, and hot coffee to drink, wish you had been here.

I made corn bread for dinner and we enjoyed the turtle egg corn bread equally as well as we did the pan cakes, and I'll make a cake soon.

We left here about one o'clock Sunday afternoon and drove over to Greenwood near Deland and about 35 miles from here. We had a two hours stay with my oldest brother and family and got back to our beach home before dark. After supper we drove on the beach for awhile and there is no use saying we slept last night.

Thelma and Doris went over to Sanford with Walter this morning and will return with him his afternoon. Clarence and baby Walter felt lonesome without the girls, so I took their little express wagon and we hauled Walter away up the beach, we would stop and bathe for awhile and then go again, it was after ten o'clock when we came back to the house, we got dressed and went to the store in Coronado, had a cold drink, bought some salt water fish, and other little things and was two o'clock when we had the fish fried and dinner ready, but we were good and tired and hungry and enjoyed our dinner.

Sheriff Dillard Hot on Trail

This month has been one of the banner months for Sheriff Dillard and his outfit of workers. He has been especially active since the sixth day of July when he ran down and captured W. H. Waddell who was driving a Buick car. Waddell was captured near Teas and a sixteen gallon keg which was thrown out was found on Preston Hill. Dillard was not satisfied with this catch and on the sixteenth, captured a thirty gallon copper still of whiskey. Though he captured the outfit, the operators were off on a vacation and were unable to witness their loss. The next day a still was captured near Konarock and with it came in three hundred gallon of beer and one gallon of whiskey. The operators were surprised but made their escape. On the nineteenth, the Sheriff and his deputies captured a small still on Clinch mountain on the other side of Saltville, in Poor Valley. This was not in operation at the time but the chances for future production are ruined at this place and a new and safer site will have to be selected by the owner. Sheriff Dillard deserves great credit and praise for his constant watchfulness and will take his position, naturally, as one of the best, if not the best Sheriff in the State of Virginia. He has been a constant dread for the moonshiner ever since he came into office and from his work it is easily seen that he is one man who is always ready to go, even though he never receives an invitation from them for a visit or tour of inspection.

IN MEMORY

Mariah M. Bales was born Dec. 26th, 1850. On September 1st, 1869 she was united in marriage to James H. Totten. To this happy union were born eight children. Her husband and five of her children preceded her to the grave. She was again married to J. W. Hubble January 14th, 1919.

She professed faith in Christ at the age of 15 and united herself with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. She remained a member of this church until June 20th, 1923, when she was called from her home near Chatham Hill, Virginia, to her Heavenly home. Her age being 72 years, 5 months, and 24 days.

The funeral service was conducted by the writer, pastor of Chatham Hill, Ky. charge. There was a large congregation present to pay the last tribute of respect to this departed friend. The floral tributes were also numerous and beautiful.

Her life was beautiful and Christ-like. She was a gentle and affectionate mother; a devoted wife, a sincere and sympathetic friend.

She died as she had lived. She suddenly heard the call of the captain of the boat that was to carry her across, and responded to that call, and took sail on the ship that sails thru the mysterious stream that separates us from the eternal world, and triumphantly sailed thru the portals of glory into the home of the soul.

For a great many years she was familiarly and affectionately known as "Aunt Tillie Totten," and all who knew her and loved her are thankful that her path passed their way for their lives felt the touch of hers.

We know the torch she carried will never go out, but will be "As a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our pathway," to guide our stumbling feet along dim trails, and cheer us with the promise that night soon passes and joy awaits us in the morning.

May her faith and its triumph sustain that lonely man that misses her from his side while he takes the few more steps that shall unite them again, also the three children, until they receive her welcome to the beautiful home where the light never fades, and the sun shall never go down.

"Let us meet her at the portals Where angels come and go, Be faithful, oh be faithful It won't be long you know."

GOOD YEAR

WINS A $20,000 DIPLOMA.

Miss Carrie Anderson after working four years as a Stenographer returned to the National Business College for the completion of her Stenographic Course. By means of its intensive plan of instruction she won her diploma in four months and her former employers immediately increased her salary $780 a year. This figure represents more than the net income from $20,000 worth of 6 per cent bonds after taxes are deducted. In other words, the four months spent in the National Business College are actually worth more to her than a legacy of $20,000 would have been.

You too, can increase your earning power, and you need not stop at this work. In business you have an opportunity to reach almost any height. There are far more $5,000-and-over-incomes in business than in all other trades, callings and professions combined. Take the National way to positions that pay. Fall Term opens Tuesday, September 4. TARIFFS AND REVENUES.

The close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1923, found Uncle Sam adding to his receipts $562,000,000 in customs revenues, the largest yield from that source in our history. The fact calls for a brief review of customs duties during the past decade and a half.

The average yield of customs duties during the four years in which the Payne-Aldrich law of 1909 (Republican) was in operation was about $314,000,000 annually on imports for that period averaging $1,640,000,000 annually. This meant an average ad valorem rate of duty on all imports for the period of something like 19 per cent.

The Underwood-Simmons law went into effect the fourth of October, 1913. At the close of the fiscal year 1914 the customs revenues totaled $284,000,000, according to the U. S. Statistical Abstract. Of this sum $92,000,000 was collected from July 1 to October 3rd, while about $20,000,000 was collected from Republican rates on wool, woolen goods, and sugar carried over. From 1914 to 1921, inclusive, the average annual yield from customs revenues was a little under $245,000,000 with imports for the eight years averaging almost $3,000,000,000, or an average ad valorem over the period of 8 and a fraction per cent. The high year was in 1920 when imports totaled $5,238,000,000 and duties $326,000,000, or an average ad valorem of 6 and a fraction per cent.

May 27th, 1921, the so-called emergency tariff law was passed by the Republicans, with protective rates on agricultural products, and the following fiscal year, ended June 30, 1922, the customs revenues showed $356,000,000 of duties on $2,608,000,000 of imports, or an average of nearly 14 per cent. Thus, it will be noted, the Democratic law as a revenue raiser hobbled in and hobbled out on Republican crutches.

September 22, 1922, the Fordney-McCumber tariff law made its bow to the public amid the hisses of the Democratic and their allies the importers, and the plaudits of the protectionists and their allies the manufacturers, farmers, and workingmen. It had been repeatedly stated in debate that this law, if enacted, would so restrict imports because of its alleged prohibitive rates, that no foreign country could get into our home market, hence the customs revenues would be cut to the vanishing point. The Treasury Department was not visibly impressed by any such hokum, for it estimated the customs receipts for the fiscal year at $450,000,000. To the surprise of the Department and the Republicans generally, the law boosted that estimate by $112,000,000.

From the date of its enactment up to and including June 30th, last, the Fordney-McCumber tariff law yielded just short of $450,000,000 of customs revenues. June imports have not been compiled, but on the basis of the prevailing ad valorem rate of duty they must have been in the neighborhood of $345,000,000, so that the total imports under the Fordney-McCumber law approached $3,050,000,000, or an average ad valorem of slightly under 15 per cent in the nine months and nine days of its run—in fact, almost precisely the average of the Underwood-Simmons law for the first nine months of its run.

The present tariff law is affording fair protection to American agriculture and industry. It is affording opportunity for foreign producers to take a generous advantage of the purchasing power of a country whose prosperity began when the Democratic tariff law ended. It has routed its enemies, and it is adding daily to its friends. It is the lowest tariff ever passed consistent with protection.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has called from our ranks one of our most beloved members, James C. Pierce a old man among us, whose loyalty to God, church and Sunday School, and whose goodness of heart and love for his fellowmen have won for him the profound esteem, and love of his Sunday School class, of which he was the oldest member of the class. Therefore be it resolved:

1. That we humbly submit to the masters will in taking from us, such a noble man, and that as a manifestation of our deep feeling of appreciation to God for giving us the intimate acquaintance and the splendid Christian example of this man whose life was a force for good among us, we will consecrate ourselves to more consistent living and greater love and loyalty to Christ and humanity.

2. That our monument to this memory will be greater loyalty and more devotion to our class, which was so dear to his heart.

3. That we express our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family, and pray that God may comfort and sustain them.

Be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our class, a copy sent to his family, and to our county papers.

SIX MONTHS JAIL TERM FOR

LORENZ

Convicted Of Libeling American Legion Editor Must Serve Term.

Chicago, July 21.—On recommendation of the American Legion that leniency be shown, Arthur Lorenz, former editor of the Illinois Staats-Zeitung, was sentenced to six months in the Bridwell jail today by Judge Hugo Pam, following his conviction recently on a charge of criminal libel growing out of an editorial published in his paper regarding the legion. In the article he is alleged to have referred to America's war veterans as "tramps, bums, vagabonds," and the scum of the country.

Had not the recommendation been made, Judge Pam said, he would have imposed the maximum penalty of $500 fine and a year in jail. The only fine Lorenz will have to pay will be $1 and the court costs. His attorney announced he would appeal.

A motion for a new trial was overruled by the court on the ground that Lorenz's attack "almost came within the bounds of treason" and that he had been fairly tried. His counsel admitted that the article was defamatory, but said it was written while the editorial writer was aroused over the "persecution" of Germany by this country following the war. This he blamed on the legion.

4 vital things a good oil does

Flow. Good motor oil flows quickly to the place it's needed—spreads evenly over the surface—gets there without fail in spite of heat or cold extremes.

Work. It holds the metal surfaces absolutely apart, no matter what the pressure, heat or clearance.

Wear. Above all it keeps on working, day after day—keeps a firm oil cushion longer in spite of hard service, dilution and water condensation—burns clean when it does go—gives greater mileage.

Cost less. Good oil costs less per mile if reasonably priced. It goes further and saves motor trouble.

Polarine is such an oil. It gets quickly to the spot, spreads evenly at all working temperatures, does its work thoroughly, outwears oils of inferior quality, yet costs little more per gallon and much less per mile. Buy from the Polarine Chart at your dealer's and get every vital quality in this all-round motor oil.

DYSENTERY EPIDEMICS IN VIRGINIA

A week ago ten deaths and more than a hundred cases of dysentery were reported in the Middle River district of Va. near Fredericksburg. The State Board of Health points with accusing finger to the old unsanitary closet. They have this to say;

"The laboratory tests have proved that the dysentery outbreak has been caused by intestinal bacilli; and this is giving the State Board of Health much concern because in the Middle

River district there is absolutely no sanitation, even of the simplest sort, and flies in droves carry the germs in all directions. A year ago this country was open

Test-That Tells

More BUICK CARS sold in this territory during year 1922 than any other make of same quality and price.

THERE IS A REASON.

Why Buick is "The Standard of Comparison"

It has been a fixed Buick policy always to anticipate motoring demands by developing new and advanced features of design and construction.

This has been one of the many factors contributing to Buick's great popularity—a popularity tangibly expressed in the fact that Buick is well on its way towards the manufacture of its two-millionth motor car.

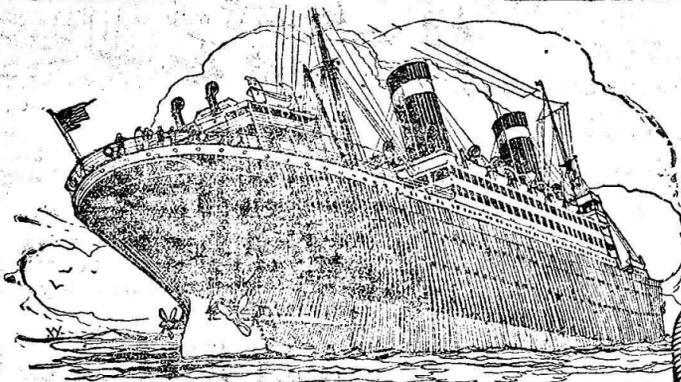

Buick recognizes it as a distinct obligation to live up to the spirit and letter of its slogan "When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them".

Balance! at sea and on land.

A GREAT ship far out at sea was shaken by an ominous shudder. One of the four propeller blades had been thrown off and before the engines could be stopped the driving shaft began to pound and whip. Sailors dangling in a rope sling went over the stern and chiseled off the opposing blade. Afterwards, with power reduced but balance restored, the vessel made port.

When a cylinder is missing your car goes by jerks. Its power plant is unbalanced. The gasoline that feeds your motor must be balanced. A refining experience of more than half a century and constant research have produced a finely balanced motor fuel called "Standard", the gasoline that gives you instantaneous starting and swift pick-up—maximum power and high, economical mileage. You don't have to turn out of your way to find this balanced gasoline. Every pump you meet with the red "SO" on the globe dispenses this all-round motor fuel. Use it exclusively for all-season economy and satisfaction.

MONDAY AFTERNOON MUSIC CLUB.

Those who were fortunate enough to hear the children's program at the Music Club last week, could hardly agree with the poet who said a child was the "Sweetest thing that ever grew beside a human door", indeed they looked like flowers with their pretty dresses and sweet little faces, they did their part so well, and in their singing, violin and piano playing, dancing and recitations showed the self-possession of older performers, we hope another children's program will be given in the near future. Those who took part were: Mary Campbell Cook; Eleanor Buchanan, Margaret King, Margaret Sheffey, Ruth Jones, Annie Laurie Williams, Virginia Sheffey, Laura Lincoln, Margaret Sue Copenhagen, Ellen Meade Wilson, Helen Copenhagen, Marion Eller, Janie Wassum, Katherine Lawson, Fred Lorenzer, John Preston Buchanan and Boyd Snavely.
