The conference was attended by representatives from all Presbyterian churches in Washington, Smyth, Scott and Lee counties. Notables present from a distance included Dr. Sweets, of Louisville; Dr. McFaden, of Richmond; the Rev. W. H. T. Squire, of Norfolk; A. C. Bridgeman, of South Carolina. The penalty imposed for failure to comply with this act is a fine of not more than six months, or both at the discretion of the Court.

Bristol, Va., Nov. 9.—Engineer Chas. Boyd, one of the most efficient in the service of the Southern Railway, Knoxville division, has a record of four persons killed by his engine within little more than twenty-four hours. Twenty-six hours after his engine had killed a little boy in a Bristol suburb the same engine struck and killed a woman and two boys at McMillan, ten miles east of Knoxville. The three who met death at one time had just stepped from one of the double tracks to the other to allow a freight train to pass. Their eyes being on the passing freight train, they neither saw nor heard the fast passenger train, which was then rounding a curve almost at them. Their bodies were mutilated. The mangled bodies were taken to Knoxville, where at last accounts, they had not been identified.

Fight on Election Day

A fight took place at Max Meadows election day between T. E. Simmerman, W. W. Hanson, Dr. A. G. Crockett and W. T. Crockett on one side and George Alford, John Shaffer, H. C. Patton and Hal Shaffer, on the other side. The trouble started in the room where the election was being held over the right of W. T. Crockett, of Roanoke, to vote at Max Meadows. The judge decided that young Crockett had a right to vote and the other side was dissatisfied with the decision as they had challenged the vote. There were several bruised heads and swollen hands when the affray was over. It is alleged that Patton drew a pistol but did not use it and afterwards when he was searched the officer failed to find the gun. It is also alleged that John R. Shaffer struck T. E. Simmerman with a rock, one in the head and one on the arm. The worst injury being on the muscle of the left arm.

Mrs. John H. Lewis, of Lynchburg, responded to the welcome on behalf of the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia. The growth of the woman suffrage movement in Virginia was brought out strongly Saturday, when the report of the executive secretary was read, showing that the membership of the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia had increased from 4,000 to 6,000 within the past year. The report was the principle feature of the business session this morning. Reports from the fifty branch leagues were presented.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 9.—Revenue law enforcement officers were active throughout the southwestern part of the State last week according to reports reaching the office of Revenue Agent Sams from various field deputies.

Special Employee R. W. Hagy, working from Independence, Crayson county, on the 7th found and destroyed an improvised distilling outfit in which two zinc wash tubs were used for distilling. Three fermenters were cut down and 96 gallons of beer spilled.

Deputy Collector J. H. Richardson and Special Employee H. G. Stultz, working in the vicinity of Dotsan, Patrick county, Saturday, found a large outfit. A copper still of 132-gallons capacity was destroyed along with eight fermenters. Five hundred gallons of liquor was seized.

Special Employee C. F. Beverly, working in Dickinson county the 3rd instant got a 57-gallon copper still, eight fermenters and 500 gallons of beer. One man also was taken into custody.

Deputy Collector G. F. Jones and Special Employee Beverly, working in the vicinity of Big Stone Gap on the 5th seized and destroyed a partial plant.

Telephone advices from Deputy Collector Haynes, at Mount Airy, N. C., are to the effect that he has seized 100 gallons of unstamped liquor across the line in Grayson county and is shipping it to storage headquarters at Roanoke to be disposed of.

Farm Crops Are Worth Over Five Billion.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Important farm crops of the United States this year are worth $5,068,742,000 or $104,000,000 more than the value of the same crops last year, notwithstanding a loss of $418,000,000 sustained by cotton planters on line alone, as a result of the European war.

Preliminary estimates announced today by the Department of Agriculture and statistics of average prices paid to producers on Nov. 1, indicate that this year's wheat and corn crops are the most valuable ever grown in the United States, that the wheat and apple crops are record harvests and that the potato crop is the second largest ever raised.

The huge wheat crop and the increased price of that cereal, the large corn and apple crops and the increased price in oats, barley and rye more than offset the big loss in cotton.

A Quail Meal.

Nation-wide efforts for the protection of bird life must have a somewhat practical basis in order to interest the majority of Americans. The sentimental appeal is to comparatively few. W. D. Hansen, State game warden of Tennessee, makes an appeal which should be effective from a strictly practical practical standpoint. He urges farmers to protect the birds not only because they are beneficial to the farm in destroying many pests, but also because they are true allies of man and beast in the scheme of creation. Disease-carrying insects, as well as those which prey upon vegetation, are the natural food of the birds.

Mr. Hansen presents many examples of work done by the commoner varieties of birds, and of these his analysis of a meal found in the stomach of a single quail is as interesting as any. This one high liver had stowed away 2,326 plant lice, 568 mosquitoes, 100 potato bugs, 100 chinch bugs, 39 grasshoppers, 12 squash bugs, 12 cut worms, 12 army worms and 8 white grubs. If this bird had not been killed, but had been permitted to rear her year's brood of young, the daily insecticide value of her progeny would have been almost incalculable.

A Well Varied Diet Will Prevent Pellagra.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—A well-varied diet is almost an absolute preventative of pellagra; and the disease is not communicable from person to person as is measles, according to physicians who have just made an extensive report to the U. S. public health service on the disease.

To avoid pellagra eat an abundance of beans, peas, milk, eggs and lean meat as a part of your regular diet.

As a result of extensive investigations made by the public health service it has been determined that pellagra is dependent on some as yet undetermined fault in a diet in which animal protein (milk, eggs and lean meat) or leguminous protein beans and peas is rather small, and that no pellagra will develop in those who consume a mixed and well-balanced and varied diet.

By using regularly an abundance of fresh milk, eggs, fresh lean meat, beans and peas, not only may pellagra be prevented when the disease is not far gone, but prevented. This actually happened in at least one institution, where in 1913, seventy-five cases of pellagra occurred. As a result of the change of diet, not a single case is known to have developed this year.

It appears then that pellagra is but another example of a class of diseases, like scurvy, which can be prevented and cured by an abundance of food of a proper character, and this fact suggests the advisability of farmers in the south cultivating beans and peas and raising dairy cattle, instead of cotton at a time when the market for the latter abroad has been all but destroyed by foreign wars.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9.—Inspectors of the postoffice department and from the office of the supervising architect of the treasury department have recommended that a new building exclusively for the postoffice purposes be provided for Richmond. The engine room has been practically completed and work on the other buildings is being rushed. New machinery and equipment has been ordered and it is expected that within a few weeks the plant will be working full blast.

Parson Burroughs, who keeps a proper chronological record of all events of the kind that are consummated at his mecca, states that this marriage was the 4,726th couple to be married by him. Commenting on the popularity of the run-away marriage, he said: "There is not one divorce in a hundred marriage consummated at my mecca. Divorces don't come in much when people marry according to their own choice."

Danville, Ill., Nov. 9.—Congressman-elect Joseph G. Cannon Friday brought suit for $25,000 damages against the Danville Press-Democrat. The complaint does not give the cause of action.

Alabama at one time adopted a prohibition amendment but later rescinded it.

Resents "Lunacy"

(From the Roanoke Times.) In your issue of November 4th you say:

"Woman suffrage has received a setback even in the West. That is another comfort in time of disaster. One by one we get the lunacies cleared out of the way."

It seems to me the editor will have to explain himself to the defeated Democratic candidates. Is he delicately intimating he thinks them lunatics? He says lunatics go "one by one". It looks as if more than "one" went in Tuesday's election. Democracy lunacy because a number of candidates were defeated?

As to lunacy, I know of none greater than the very partisan opinion of some people that equal suffrage will ever be "cleared out of the way."

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—Analysis of the returns of the election last Tuesday, which are now practically complete, shows that if Wilson had been running for the Presidency, he would have been defeated by about sixty electoral votes. This result is found by giving to the Republicans the electoral votes of the States actually carried by them. The general feeling here is that this fact will lead to partial re-establishment of confidence in business, and some relief from the present hard times, until a Republican administration is completed in 1916, when prosperity will return to our present distressed country.

The indications that the Bull Moose party will join wholly with the Republicans by that time, adds material strength to this favorable outlook. William H. Hotchkiss, one of Colonel Roosevelt's closest friends and supporters in New York, and formerly chairman of the Progressive State committee of New York, gave out a statement last Saturday that Colonel Roosevelt will not be a candidate for the Presidency again. Another item that has been given little attention to the present time is the fact that Geo. W. Perkins, who was Mr. Roosevelt's foremost friend and financial supporter in 1912, was a candidate on the Republican ticket this Fall for Delegate to the Constitutional Convention from the twenty-second New York senatorial district. All indications at this time point to a complete reunion of the Republican party in 1916, and that such a strong leader like Mr. Justice Hughes, Senator Borah, Senator Cummins, Senator La Follette, Ex-Governor Hadley, Governor-Elect Whitman or Mr. Mann, Republican leader in the House, will be nominated for the Presidency. The Democratic menace to the Nation, as evidenced by the effects of the Wilson policies, has driven Republicans back together for the safety of the country. The President was on trial last Tuesday, and he was condemned by the votes of the people. He was the only issue urged by the Democrats, as their legislation and policies have proven worse than failures, and wholly indefensible, whence he was condemned with them.

Careful observers of the European war situation are predicting that, before so very long, the German lines both in France and Poland will break and retire on to German soil, and that soon afterwards negotiations for peace will begin. The Germans are shut off from outside resources, while the Allies have the whole world to draw from, and it is believed that this condition most soon have its natural effect. Following peace, industrial Europe will quickly get under way, and on a much cheaper scale than ever before. Fears are being expressed now that the Republican party cannot be returned to power soon enough to prevent much greater injury to the industries and workmen of this country from that cause, in view of the present defenceless condition under the Underwood free trade tariff.

"Obituary."

Rev. Thomas C. Brown, was born March 14th, 1839, in Burke Garden, Tazewell county, Virginia, and departed this life on the 6th day of November 1914, at the home of his niece, Mrs. William Crum, at Crum, Wayne County, W. Va., at the age of 75 years, 7 months and 23 days.

He was converted at the early age of 18 years, and affiliated with the M. E. Church South. When the great struggle broke out between the North and South, he responded to the call of his country, and enlisted in the Confederate army, where he remained 13 months until he was wounded in the battle of "Seven Pines" and was rendered unable for further service, having lost his entire left lower limb.

After the war was over and peace was restored, he responded to the call of his Heavenly Father, and went forth under the Banner of King Emmanuel, to rescue poor lost sinners from the snare of Satan, and bring them to Christ's redeeming love and grace. He was licensed as a local minister at Princeton, W. Va., January 17th, 1871, and was ordained as a Deacon at Abingdon, Virginia, Oct. 28th, 1884.

During all the time of his ministry, which lasted almost 50 years, he has been highly esteemed, not only among his brethren, but by all who knew him. His life has been characterized by his piety, and his true devotion to his God, to his church, and all his friends, who are many. During the last year of his life, he has been unable for service as a minister, which he has deeply regretted, but his faith failed him not. He was courageous, even to the end, and assured all his friends that he was going home to rest. His request was, that he might see his casket and shroud, and when it was brought to his bed side, he blessed God and said that he had no fears.

Beside a host of friends, he leaves a number of relatives in Virginia, West Va., Ohio, Kentucky and other states, together with his niece, Mrs. William Crum, Crum, W. Va., with whom he has made his home for the past three years, to mourn their loss. But we bow in humble submission to Him, who doeth all things well, realizing that our loss is Heavenly gain.

The Roanoke Times cannot get through explaining Mr. Irvine's defeat. The last wail, says it was the fuss over the pie. Before the election the Times argued that "pie" was the one source of their strength. That the democrats were in and the Republicans were out, and of course had lost their zeal for their party. What next?

The Bristol Herald Courier continues to comment on the speeches of Hon. Leslie M. Shaw. Not surprising for Mr. Shaw gave our democratic friends and the Courier much solid food for thought.

GOOD SUGGESTION TO MARION PEOPLE.
It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-Lika, drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowel so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Marion agents for Adler-Lika, Marion Drug Co.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

The Patron's Day Exercises of the Marion High School.

Last Saturday night the teachers and pupils of the Marion High school entertained the patrons and friends of the school with a two hours entertainment. On account of the large number of pupils and patrons the school had to run a double program at the same time, one in the Court Square Theatre and the other in the High School Auditorium. Both places were well patronized. The audiences together are estimated at about six hundred persons. The programs passed off without a hitch and the public seemed to appreciate and enjoy every number. It was highly gratifying to the Principal and faculty to have such a large number of patrons present. It was truly a beautiful manifestation of the sympathy and interest that the patrons bear to their school.

Strong and splendid speeches were delivered by Dr. McFaden and Judge Fudge. True songs, dialogues, and drills by the primary and grammar grades gave great delight to the audience and were received with hearty applause.

The High School's part of the program was a public debate. The question was resolved: That the Nations of the World Should Disarm and Settle their Disputes by Arbitration.

The affirmative was represented by Charles Lindolin and Frank Miller the negative, by Agnes Maxwell and Miriam Workman. The papers showed hard work and an unusual extensive understanding of the subject for high school pupils. The committee of judges, composed of Rev. R. E. Kern, Dr. McFaden and Mr. Quisenberry, decided in favor of the affirmative.

AN APPEAL FOR A GOOD CAUSE.

Prof. Youncore made a strong appeal Saturday night for contributions to the high school equipment fund. This fund will be used for the special equipment of the new school. The great expense of a new building will make it impossible for the school board to supply these essential needs of an up-to-date modern school. The school is in dire need of a scientific laboratory, maps and globes at the present time. All patrons and friends who came unprepared to respond to the appeal last Saturday night and feel like contributing something to this great public spirited cause can give their subscriptions to any member of the faculty. Marion should have an up-to-date equipment to make the work of its school as efficient as possible. Every citizen should make a contribution to a fund that means a better school and greater advantage for the children of the community.

"The Girl and the Tramp."

Even of the real, uproarious kind predominates in Fred Beyer, laughing comedy success, "The Girl and the Tramp" which comes to the Court Square Theatre, but there are other things besides. The play tells an absorbing heart story of a supposed wrong to a loving husband, which happily, comes out all right in the end. Then, too, there are a great of startlingly dramatic situations, the explosion of a real automobile, etc. Briefly, it is a performance that should be seen by everyone who should

Mrs. E. J. Anderson Taken Seriously Ill, but Revives.

A phone message from Adwolve Tuesday morning brought word to the Editor of the News that his mother, Mrs. E. J. Anderson, who has been confined to her bed for the past six months with rheumatism had suddenly become much worse and thought to be dying. The Editor in company with his brother, Mr. J. L. C. Anderson, who was in his office at the time the message came, were soon at her bedside and found her, as supposed, at the point of death. In the meantime Mrs. Sherrill and Early had been summoned, but on arrival, could offer no hope for even temporary restoration. Her daughter, Mrs. S. T. Copenhaver, and family, of Bristol, were summoned by phone, and her son, Mr. Baldwin Anderson, of Forest City, Ark., was wired her condition. After remaining in a state of coma from 10 a. m. to about 5 p. m., to the surprise of all, she showed signs of revival and in a few hours had so improved as to speak a few words and take a little nourishment. She continued to grow better until to day, Thursday, strong hopes are entertained that she may regain her normal condition before the serious and sudden attack of Tuesday morning. Her son Baldwin, wife and two children arrived Wednesday and on Nov. 26 and were pleased to find her improving.

Appalachian School Improvement Notes.

Speakers of the Appalachian School Improvement Foundation have averaged one address a day since the first of August, when the schools in some of the counties of Southwest Virginia opened.

A number of the leading business and professional men of the State, and especially of the Southwest, are actively supporting the work of the Foundation. The officers and trustees of the Foundation at the present time are composed of a number of the leading educators, business, and professional men as follows; President, John P. McConnell, President State Normal School for women, E. Radford, Va.; John A. Buchanan, of the Court of Appeals of the State of Virginia, Emory, Va.; Hugh W. Powers, of the Mitchell-Powers Hardware Company, Bristol, V.; R. Tate Irvine, of Irvine and Morrison, Attorneys, Big Stone Gap, Va.; Luther C. Hassinger, of the Hassinger Lumber Company, Konnarock, Va.; H. Emory Widener, of Page, Fulkerson and Widener Abingdon, Va.; Dr. F. V. N. Painter, Salem, Va.; H. M. Jackson, Wythe county, Dr. Eonion G. Williams; Richmond, Va.; Secretary, Wm. E. Cilbert, East Radford Va.

No school is so small and no community so remote from the thorough fares of our modern life that we cannot reach them with some of these men and women.

Those desiring speakers should communicate with the President or Secretary.

"The Girl and the Tramp."

If a rattling good play, full of funny situations, catchy song bits, woven in a story of strong heart interest, counts for anything, then "The Girl and the Tramp," which will be seen at the Court Square Theatre next Friday Nov. 13, must be a winner.

BETTER PRICE FOR PRODUCE

Great Many Farmers Make Mistake of Allowing Fruit and Vegetables to Become Too Rip.

Many farmers allow dollars of possible profits to slip through their hands by neglecting to properly prepare their produce for market. Fruit and vegetables for a nearby market need not be picked until almost ripe, but for a long distance shipment they must be harvested earlier. A great many growers make the mistake of allowing their fruit and vegetables to become too ripe before gathering and as a result the products that look so attractive when starting reach their destination in an overripe condition. For this reason we must carefully consider the distance to market before harvesting our products.

All tender fruit and vegetables intended for sale in a fresh condition should be carefully handled. Bruised fruits and vegetables soon decay and affect other specimens next to them in the package. This destroys the appearance of the products and ruins its value accordingly.

The most important operation in preparing fruits and vegetables for market is the grading. Careful cultivation saves a great amount of grading. Uniformity is the chief requirement to be considered in grading produce for the market. Products should be packed so that they will be uniform in appearance, quality and condition.

There is seldom a time when nicely packed and honestly graded fruits and vegetables will not bring a good price; it is the poorly packed, poorly developed, unevenly ripened products that are a drug on the market. The experienced packer has in mind the general appearance of the whole package rather than a few choice specimens on top. The better the grading the better the price.

Despondency Due to Indigestion.

It is not all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Pa. For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine. For sale by all dealers.

TRUTH TRIUMPS.

Marion Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Marion citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Marion citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills: "Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?"

Thomas F. Wright, carpenter, Chestnut St., Marion, Va., says: "The statement I made some years ago, regarding Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I use them occasionally with quick relief. I took this remedy for weakness and dull pain in my back and it speedily removed the trouble. Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills from the Carson Drug Co. there were times when I could hardly get around, owing to weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills have also helped one of my relatives. I recommend them to all who suffer from kidney trouble."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wright had. Foster-McMurrin Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything." Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers.

PUTTING IT UP TO HIM.

Lawyer—Madam, I'm sorry to say that I don't see the ghost of a chance for you to break your uncle's will.

Client—Well, to be frank with you, I don't see the ghost of a chance to pay you for what you've already done if the will isn't broken.

Lawyer—H'm! On second thought, madam, I think the will can be broken.

LIMITED FUNDS.

Tom—I wish I knew what my girl would like for a birthday present.

Jack—Why don't you ask her? Tom—Oh, I haven't money enough to buy anything so expensive.

SEEKING KNOWLEDGE.

"What is the Great Kobinoor?" "Why, that's a famous diamond."

"Thanks. I thought it was the monicker of some stage magician."

HOW TO CURE A CHRONIC COUGH

Told in the Following Letter by a Jackson Man Who Knows from Experience. His Word Is Good.

Jackson, Miss.—"I am a carpenter, and the grippe left me not only with a chronic cough, but I was run-down, worn out and weak. I took all kinds of cough syrups but they did me no good. I finally got so weak I was not able to do a day's work, and coughed so much I was worried about my condition. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to try it. Before I had taken a quarter of a bottle I felt better, and after taking two bottles my cough is entirely cured, all the bad symptoms have disappeared and I have gained new vim and energy."

—JOHN L. LANNIS, 711 Lynch Street, Jackson, Miss.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because the active medicinal principles of cod liver oil contained in Vinol rebuilds wasting tissues and supplies strength and vigor to the nerves and muscles while the tonic iron and wine assist the rest of the system to absorb oxygen and distribute it through the system, thus restoring health and strength to the weakened, diseased organs of the body.

If Vinol fails to help you, we return your money.
