Correction Board of Health Statement

The Smyth County Board of Health asks us to state that through an error in their transcription of the infantile paralysis order last week it was stated that both the Smyth County Fair and the White Top Festival might be closed if the disease grew more prevalent in neighboring counties. The White Top Festival, which is held over the line and in Washington county, is not under the jurisdiction of the Smyth county board, the board states, and should not have been included in the

The Festival's sponsors are keeping in constant touch with the state, Southwest Virginia and local Boards of Health, and are assured that there is no reason to cancel Festival plans, which indicate a better program and wider attendance than ever before.

St. Augustine, Fla. August 4, 1935.

Dear Editor: Don't have much to tell you so far and very little time to do it in but here goes.

We left the first and have traveled most of the time in order to have more time to tour Florida. We came through Tenn., N. C., S. S., Georgia and Florida now. The boys were very much impressed with the different types of farming they are seeing and all are wondering how they live on such farms.

I have the following boys with me: Glen Talbert, Toney Talbert, Walt Talbert, Allen Frye, John Campbell, Eugene Patrick, Edward Hilt, Walt DeBord, Robert Taylor, Ben Clark, Sanders Jones, Sproat Hilt, William Olinger, Charles Webb, Hughes Buchanan, John W. Hallaway, Albert Worley, J. B. Maloyed, John Ed Clark, Carson Ward.

The boys are getting a real thrill out of seeing the ocean for the first time. Everyone liked Jacksonville. We are visiting here: the Fountain of Youth, the oldest house, city gates and oldest school house. Let you know more along our route.

Your friend,
M. M. LEWIS.

Mothers Petition That Fair Be Called Off

A petition that the Smyth county fair be called off because of danger from infantile paralysis was being circulated in Marion this week and, it is reported, had already been signed by more than 50 parents.

The petition originated with a group of mothers, who prepared it after a discussion of the danger of bringing the dreaded disease into this community.

Mr. Greenwood Not Candidate

Mr. John A. Greenwood, who received the Republican nomination for supervisor in the Marion district and who has been listed in this paper as a candidate for that office on the Republican ticket, asks us to announce that he is not a candidate.

Mr. Greenwood was nominated in the mass meeting when not present, and on being notified of the honor declined it with thanks. His name was listed for supervisor through error.

Don't Run From An All-Virginian

Saturday night your editor and the little woman attended a steak feast with a number of other guests at the cabin of Dr. and Mrs. George Wright of Cresses Creek, near Sugar Grove.

About 11 p. m. your editor discovered that a sweater and his wife's pocket book with about $14 was gone from his car and Ralph L. Lincoln had lost his Davidson college football sweater from his car.

Sunday, about noon, Sheriff Dillard, Deputies Jim DeBord and John McGhee, and your editor and Warren Wright called at a home along the creek. When they hit the front yard a young fellow skimmed the back fence and took out for the laurel with his legs flying.

The running days of Sam, Jim and John are somewhat past, and the running days of ye editor are not exactly present, but Warren, observers will tell you, is still in his prime.

"Catch him! Catch him!" yelled Sam. "I hereby deputize you young fellows to do the running. I'll search the house."

The hasty leaver fled on. Forty yards behind him was Warren. Forty yards behind Warren panted your editor. The chase went for almost a half mile. Finally the Jack rabbit collapsed. He didn't know he was trying to out-run a former all-state football half back.

The hasty leaver had the money and billfold in his pocket and Sam found Ralph's sweater. It was worth the chase.

Monday Trial Justice Bill Birchfield sentenced the jack rabbit to 12 months and fined him $250. It wasn't his first time up for stealing.

Copenhaver Reunion Called Off

On account of the prevalence of infantile paralysis, the Copenhaver reunion, planned for August 10th, has been cancelled. Please bring this notice to the attention of anyone you know who was planning to attend.

Temporary Sergeant

Deputy Sheriff Sam Mountain is wearing the blue uniform and acting as temporary sergeant of Marion in place of Sergeant Otho Snider, who is layed up at home with a rather serious attack of illness. All of Otho's friends are hoping to see him out soon. In the meantime Sam looks very handsome in the outfit.

Money Raised For Fair Grounds Hill Sewer

The street committee reported to town council at its regular August meeting Friday night, the 2nd, that citizens on Fair Ground Hill had subscribed sufficient money to make possible the building of a needed sewer. The committee was instructed to go ahead.

Present were Councilmen Horne, Groseclose, Killinger, Snider, Wolfe and Young, Mayor Scott, Recorder Gills, Treasurer Richardson and Town Attorney Burt Dickinson.

The treasurer's report was received and filed and so, too, the recorder's report, showing $115.80 received for seven licenses issued in July. The Mayor's report showed a rather light month. He had 22 cases, as follows:

17 drunks, fined $109.50, paid $68.60, with three to pay later and three working it out on the streets. One drunk driver was fined $101.70 and paid up. One public drinker was fined $6.70 and promised to pay later. One driver with improper tags was fined $4.30 and paid. Two trap shooters were fined $7.20 and one (the winner, we reckon) paid up $3.60 and the other arranged to pay later. Total fines assessed were $262.80, collections $211.20, with collections on back fines $11, making total collections $222.20.

Matter of the Royal Oak water line enlargement was continued for report on costs. The council voted to sponsor a sewer through Royal Oak to the river if property holders will pay all expenses.

Finance committee, treasurer and recorder were instructed to prepare a budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 and have same published in the local papers so that all may see.

Coy Anderson's requests for a street light on his Main st. corner and repairs to street to his new home were referred to light and street committees. The colored people asked that the street be fixed near the colored Baptist church and they be given a light and this was also given to the proper committees.

A lease on the town spring known as the Sayers' spring was given the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries for the fish hatchery for such a time as the water is not needed by the town.

The water committee was instructed, on motion by Will Wolfe, to find out how much it will cost to move water lines out of Main street into North and South alleys and when this work can be done. The work must be done before the Rialto can be rebuilt.

Henry Staley complained that his lot near the foundry was being washed away by Staley's creek and the wash was caused by the bridge built by the town. He wanted something done about it. It was given to a committee for investigation.

Adieu, Our Friends, Adieu

On this Thursday, Aug. 8, OCC Companies 1249 and 1252 are leaving Hungry Mother State park and are being transferred to new camps in New York State.

The transfer affects the entire personnel of both companies, with the exception of local enrollees, who will be shifted to incoming companies, and local rated men, who will be discharged for re-enlistment in incoming companies.

The two companies have been here almost two years. During that time their officers, the families of the officers, and many of the men have become a part of the community life. They will be missed.

Company 1249, commanded by Capt. Claude M. Tomblly, is going to Thesara, N. Y. Company 1252, commanded by Capt. Jacob Frank, is going to Hamlin, N. Y. We hope they don't freeze to death next winter.

The exact time replacement companies will come in is not yet known. In the meantime, Lieut. J. L. O'Brien has come in to take charge of the camp of 1249 and Lieut. Carl G. Koellner has come in to take charge of the camp of 1252.

The entire community will join with us in saying goodbye to Captains Twombly and Frank, their officers and their boys. They have done a fine work for this section. The best wishes of all go with them.

"Hill Between" Makes Premier Here Thursday

"The Hill Between," the new mountain play by Lula Vollmer, whose folk drama "Sun Up" ran for a solid year on Broadway and another in London, will be presented by the New York Barter Theatre group in conjunction with the White Top Festival on Thursday evening, August 15, at the Marion Court House. The play will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

"The Hill Between" is the first one of Miss Vollmer's plays which the author has permitted a summer theatre to try out. A drama of mountain people, it is only fitting that the world premiere of the important production should take place at the same time the White Top festivities are going on. A native of North Carolina, Miss Vollmer has been close to mountain people all her life, and she is recognized as one of the most prominent authors of folk drama in this country. Her new play, which is headed for Broadway production in the fall, is considered a worthy successor to "Sun Up."

It is the story of a North Carolina mountain boy who leaves his home for the outside world, returning later as a physician, and with a New York bride. His conflict is that he is torn between his native environment and civilization. The Barter production will be a colorful one, native musicians and dancers being expected to participate.

Robert Porterfield, managing director of the Barter players, will make his first appearance of the summer in Miss Vollmer's play. Mr. Porterfield has not appeared in any theatre since playing with Leslie Howard in "The Petrified Forest" for seven months on Broadway last winter. Others will be Robert Hudson, also of "The Petrified Forest," Geoffrey Lind, Beatrice Cole and Nell Harrison. Theresa Wittler and Iris Whitney, two guest players brought by Miss Vollmer to play the leading women's roles in "The Hill Between," will also appear.

Warren Wright Captures Men's Singles Championship

Warren Wright became the men's singles tennis champion of Marion Saturday, the 3rd, in the Dem-News tourney by a sweltering final victory over Scotty Finley, 7-5, 7-5, 6-0.

It is hoped that the four other championship matches will be played this Saturday afternoon, the 10th, beginning at 1:30 p. m. on the Marion Tennis Club court.

Wright's duel with Finley began at 3 p. m. and was watched by a large gallery which gathered to see these two chop stroke artists fight it out.

Greater depth on his shots, a bit more pace and a bit more steadiness in the "clutches" brought the victory to the tall Warren. Finley put up a great battle and time after time made almost impossible saves by pick-up lobs from the back line and sharp volleys in center court.

Both finalists played conservatively throughout the match, each trying to work the other out of position and each trying to let the other fellow make the errors.

Wright gained the finals by putting out Ralph Lincoln, 6-2, 6-3, after Finley had put Dr. Stuart Staley out in a quarter final match by the same score. Finley went into the finals Friday by conquering Harold "Red" Sheffey.

Only one match was played last week in the men's doubles, and in it Finley and John Buchanan unloosed a devastating brand of hot tennis which chilled Jim Thompson and Red Sheffey, 6-0, 6-2. The match put the winning combination in the semi-finals, where they will meet the winner of the Burke-Duvall Staley-Heywood battle. In the lower half Ralph Lincoln and Jim Richardson, safely in the semi-finals, are waiting to meet the winner of the match between Andy Funk and John Sheffey against Boots Walker and Arthur Barlow.

In women's singles Naida Ackley joined Mrs. Dot Barlow in the semi-finals, lower half, by eliminating Mrs. Kitty Finley in a very close match, 8-6, 7-5. Mrs. Nancy in the upper half by putting out Laura Lou Lincoln 6-3, 6-2. She meets the winner of a match between Helen Miles and Betty Bone for the right to go in the finals.

In mixed doubles Mr. and Mrs. Jim Richardson advanced to the semi-finals by a come-back win over Mr. and Mrs. Boots Walker, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4. They meet Madge Snider and Larson Estep in a semi-final match this Friday. In the lower half of the draw Lollie Lincoln and John Buchanan went into the finals by defeating Ruth Maiden and Lloyd Currin 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, another come-back affair.

In women's doubles Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Barlow will meet the Misses Snider and Maiden in the finals.

Misses Mary Marshall and June Hawthorne of Baltimore returned to their home Sunday after spending the month of July with their aunt, Mrs. E. P. Ellis.

Miss Manola Mitchell has returned to Roanoke after a short stay at home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McDonald and children arrived Wednesday, July 31st, to spend several weeks as the guests of Mr. McDonald's sister, Mrs. Silas Cummings, and his mother, Mrs. Annie McDonald.

Miss Susie Olinger is spending her vacation week in Washington, D. C., and Virginia Beach.

Even though you pay for the upkeep of your own plot surely you must be interested enough in the general appearance, to make a contribution. This is absolutely necessary, so please do not delay in sending yours. This means everyone, either directly or indirectly interested in this beautiful resting place.

The Final Victory

As the dying sun's rays sank behind the hills of Marion, marking the eve of departure from the south they learned to love so well, the rooters of CCC Co. 1252 saw their team in a brilliant baseball victory from CCC Co. 1249.

C Caught in the maelstrom of fire and possessed playing the death-knell of Co. 1249's hopes, aspirations and spirits was sounded early in the game.

The star pitcher of 1249 was helpless in the face of the slugging done by the batsmen of 1252 and was forced to retire in the 2nd inning. A change in the battery was made but 1252 continued her march to victory.

Space does not permit the enumeration of the countless brilliant plays made by the members of the winning team. Each man shown as star unto himself and the brilliant conglomeration as a unit completely blinded their hard playing opponents.

It was the opinion of experienced spectators who had seen the teams play a number of times during the season, that both teams had never played so well before, but when the last man was struck out by the infallible southpaw of 1252, the score was 7-5, spelling victory for Company 1952.

Many To Attend White Top Folk Conference

A brilliant array of speakers will gather in Marion, southwestern Virginia, on August 15th, for the White Top Folk Conference to be held at Marion College morning and afternoon, both sessions being free to the public. The program will include speakers and discussions on the various phases of folk arts, music and balladry, and their application in every day life and in American creative art.

A new feature this year is the session on "Art as a Reality in Life," or the folk arts, to be conducted by Miss Elizabeth Burchenal of New York, president of the American Folk Dance Society and also president of the National Commission on Folk Arts, and by Mrs. Alice Carter Shera, Director of Production at the Pine Mountain Settlement School, Kentucky.

Miss Burchenal, who has assisted with previous White Top Festivals, has been absent for the past two summers, attending international folk conferences in Norway and Germany. Her exhibition of folk arts, which has recently concluded a four-month's run in New York, attracted international interest. She is the author of numerous collections of folk dances, from many countries, and an outstanding personage in American folk arts.

Mrs. Shera is one of the most colorful figures attending the conference. She attracted unusual interest not long ago by winning her second degree, with honors, from the school of fine arts at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, at the same time her son was receiving his first degree from the same university. Besides oil painting and drawing, weaving and pottery, her work for the past year has included mural decorations in municipal buildings, homes, churches, tea rooms, cabin designs, landscaping work; and designs for the costumes worn by Shirley Temple, screen star, in the film production of The Little Colonel. Mrs. Shera's brilliant mind, experience with the mountain people of Kentucky and North Carolina, and her own background of art and culture, make her peculiarly fitted to speak on art as applied to home production and native handicraft. She will also speak informally to the mountain people at White Top, demonstrating with home made dyes and materials, to aid in their own productions.

Full program for the conference will be announced shortly. Among those taking part will be John Powell, eminent Virginia composer-pianist whose recital at Wytheville on the evening of August 14th, opening the festival events, is expected to draw many notables, and music lovers from points throughout southwest Virginia. Ruth Haller Ottaway of Michigan, first vice president and former president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, will conduct a music session, assisted by state and national Federation officials of Virginia, West Virginia, Florida and probably other states. Among writers and folklorists who will speak or take part are Dr. Reed Smith of the University of South Carolina; Mellinger Henry of New Jersey; R. W. Gordon of Washington, D. C.; Arthur Kyle Davis, Jr., University of Virginia; Alton C. Morris, University of Florida; Richard Chase, University of North Carolina; John A. Lomax of Texas; Bascom Lamar Lunsford of North Carolina; Maurice Matteson, president of the Southwestern Folklore Society; A. P. Hudson, author of Mississippi Folklore; and others to be announced, including members of both Virginia and Southwestern Folklore Societies.

The Barter Theatre of Abingdon, Va., under the direction of Robert Porterfield, will give the premiere performance of a folk play, The Hill Between, at Marion on the evening of August 15th. The author, Lula Vollmer, one of the foremost American playwrights, will be present for the performance.

Registrations from folk musicians of many states have been received for the White Top festival and contests to be held on White Top Mountain August 16, 17. Attendance and program are expected to surpass those of any previous year.

LIBERTY LEAGUE SAYS AMERICAN FORM OF GOVERNMENT IS JUNKED

The Roosevelt administration has junked America's democratic form of government and has set up a system that "smacks of autocracy and despotism"—a government of presidential executive orders, not congress-made laws—the American Liberty league charged today.

In a report on exhaustive studies of New Deal legislation the league declared 1,250 executive orders were issued by the president up to July 1 last, and that administrative orders under these numbered into the thousands.

It charged, specifically, that some of these orders set up agencies and governmental organizations not authorized by legislation, even indirectly.

In several instances, the orders set up policies which congress previously had actively rejected by considerable majority the report stated.

While the executive orders of any president are, by tradition and custom, in nature, those of the New Deal have been manifestly legislative; the report continued, and have affected "the lives and property of citizens." It continued:

"Although executive orders and administrative orders have the force of law, there exists no adequate method by which those subject to them can keep advised as to their provisions. The executive orders are filed with the state department and it is possible to obtain copies.

"However, no compilation of the orders are issued as is true in the case of laws of the congress.

"Encroachment by the executive upon legislative prerogatives in violation of the letter or even of the intent of the constitution, smacks of autocracy and despotism. It is subversive of popular government."

McDonald, of Marion, which was solemnized Saturday, August 3rd at 5:00 o'clock at the home of the bride with the Rev. L. M. Time Lost is Money Lost

It costs money to be sick. You see it directly if your pay envelope is short. You lose out on some important work if you live on a farm or if you are one of the few who are not docked for lost time. You can't afford to show up on the job unless you are feeling fit. The boss wants results—not excuses.

How many times do Gas on Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, "That Tired Feeling," "That Morning After" Feeling, Neuralgic, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Muscular or Periodic Pains keep you at home or interfere with your doing a full day's work?

All these troubles are caused or made worse by too much acid in your body. To correct this condition take

ALKA-SELTZER

The New Pain Relieving, Alkalinizing, Effervescent Tablet.

It is called Alka-Seltzer because it makes a sparkling alkaline drink, and as it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid. Alka-Seltzer is pleasant to take, harmless, non-laxative.

Specialist Outlines Snake Bite Treatment

Mr. Ralph Space, a naturalist of Sussex, N. J., who has captured nearly a thousand poisonous snakes and who himself has suffered two bites from rattlers and a double bite from a copperhead, read in the News accounts of the two recent snake bite cases in Smyth county, and sent us a pamphlet he has published, describing the poisonous snakes in America and explaining what to do if bitten.

With Mr. Space's permission, we are summarizing parts of the booklet, in the hope that it may be of use to people likely to come in contact with snakes.

SNAKE BITE TREATMENT

Feeling when bitten. The feeling of a snake bite is like a bee sting or the prick of a briar.

Poisonous or harmless? If nothing happens within ten minutes following a bite, the snake was harmless. A bite from a poisonous snake develops rapid symptoms. A burning pain is apparent within five minutes, and within ten minutes there is distinct swelling, which rapidly increases and is usually followed, within half an hour or less, with profuse perspiration and there may be reflex vomiting. By this time treatment should have been given, and if serum is at hand, its injection may prevent the more alarming symptoms. (The use of serums through inoculations is not a difficult operation but should be carried out only by a doctor or a very experienced person.)

When bitten. The best cure for a snake bite is to use your head and not get excited. Realize that your cool thoughts are your best doctor. First apply a tourniquet between the location of the bite and the heart—on the upper part of leg or arm. Almost anything can be used as a tourniquet—a shoestring, handkerchief, piece of shirt, etc.

Should the wound be cut? Cutting is sometimes advisable, but one must be very careful of cutting in certain parts of the hand or foot as the cutting of an artery is very bad along with the bite. Suck and squeeze the wound as much as possible. The more and the harder you suck the bite, the better, providing your mouth is not sore or bleeding.

Time to keep tourniquet on. The tourniquet should be loosened a little after a short time. The time the tourniquet is left on should not exceed fifteen minutes.

Next step. The next step is to get to a doctor as soon as possible without any exertion or hurry, as quickening of the heart action may cause it to collapse under the severe strain of working off the poison that has entered the blood stream.

Does liquor help? Remember one thing! DO NOT DRINK ANY LIQUOR or take anything that is heating to the blood or exciting to the heart.

Do serums help? Inoculation with antivenom serum is helpful, but should be attempted only by someone who has had experience.

Summary of snake bite treatment.
1. Use a tourniquet. 2. Suck and squeeze the wound. 3. Keep cool and quiet. 4. Get a doctor.

TO AVOID SNAKE BITES

Mr. Space makes the following suggestions for avoiding snake bites:

Never step over a stone or log. Do not camp in swamp areas and in the vicinity of rocky ledges. Hang up bedding and clothing when it is not in use. Never put your hands on or around rocks or logs. Never walk where you cannot see. Never tease or molest a snake. Do not try to handle a snake unless you are absolutely sure it is harmless; leave that to professionals. Never attempt to pick up a snake, even though it seems dead.

Hunters and hikers have found that leather leggings afford sufficient protection against the bites of poisonous snakes, and an ordinary rubber boot is considered a perfect protection for the parts it covers.

HIGH LIGHTS Of The Week's News

By R. H. T.

FLASHES: Optimism was marked during the week. Although generally a dull season, retail trade, especially, was very active throughout the country. The President personally designed the new coins that will shortly appear. They will be welcome additions to our currency. Little Shirley Temple got a wonderful reception at Honolulu. 8000 children crowded on the dock to meet her upon arrival of her steamship. A Rocky Mount man committed suicide by drowning himself in a rain barrel. Marie Antoinette, famed in history, lived and died in the 18th century, but recently some of her jewels found their way into a New York Store, and a la New York were promptly stolen. Since 1929 despite the depression, more than 6,000,000 have been added to the population of the United States. Former Governor E. L. Trinkle announces that he will support Jas. H. Price for the Governorship. The recent hot spell hit the mid-west hard. The death toll was more than a hundred. The people of that section certainly have a hard time. Internal Revenue collections for July this year amounted to $13,344,129, more than a million ahead of 1934. Times are slowly but surely mending. And we need good times for we are just told that whereas man a century ago had but 72 "wants," only 16 of which were regarded as "necessary" now he has 484 of which 94 are regarded as necessary. Count 'em up! It has just been stated that losses from forgeries in the United States last year amounted to $250,000,000. It sounds incredible. The Roanoke grand jury investigating illegal voting by mail reported to the Judge of the Hustings Court that it had become a "well-defined, illegal racket." That the Civilian Conservation Corps in Virginia gets an allotment of $11,752,095 is a welcome announcement from Washington. The food bill at the White House actually amounts to $2500, a month, a news item says. Well, even Presidents and their families have to eat. Senator Carter Glass announces that he will stand for re-election to the Senate. It now appears that one of the questions of great interest to the people that will probably come before the next Legislature is a Sales Tax measure. In one locality the Retail Merchants Association has polled every candidate for the Legislature from that city and found all of them opposed. It is a little hard to understand how the figures are obtainable, but it is said that 4,500,000,000 "hot dogs" were eaten in the United States last year. The Richmond Times-Dispatch's poll on the re-election of the President was concluded Saturday night. More than 13,000 ballots were cast; the President receiving 88 per cent. For the first time in many years, Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, encounters stiff opposition for re-election. Very few ever heard of his opponent outside of Idaho but he said to be a "vote-getter," and it's Idaho, not the other States, that does the voting. According to Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation there are, exclusive of private banks, 18,900 licensed bank offices in the U. S. 3100 are branches. 14,279 are insured and 1522 uninsured. During the past year and half 51 uninsured banks have failed and 22 insured banks have closed their doors. In ten years, however, prior to 1930 there were 7,066 failures. In other words, an average of 700 banks were closed each year against 73 in the last year and a half. These figures speak eloquently of the improvement in and soundness of banking conditions. The new tax bill was characterized by one of the members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House not as a revenue raiser but rather "a hell raiser."

It has been a prevailing impression that only the localities wherein are located the ABC stores would share in the distribution of the liquor profits, but such is not the case. Each city, town and county, upon the basis of its population, is sharing the sum of $948,195; about 40c for every man, woman and child in the State. Marion gets $1627.14; Smyth County $6988.58; Abingdon $1126.39 and Washington County $10,086.85. The largest amount, $71,619.81, goes to Richmond; Norfolk second with $50,783.68 and Roanoke third with $27,095.73.

Not long ago it was reported in a number of States that many people on the relief rolls shunned work offered them. Why, they seemed to argue, work when generous old Uncle Sam was handing out food? Now comes a disconcerting report from the investigators of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. Many persons who secured government aid are boasting that they will never repay the loans, and they threaten political consequences if the HOLC tries to collect! Can this be beaten for impertinence and downright meanness? Suits have been started against 909 of these defaulters. It is gratifying to learn that last week the President signed an order deporting 64 drug-peddlers, 50 counterfeiters, and 37 sorts of assorted kinds. Italy gets the biggest lot, 62, with China second with 16. If they must be law-breakers, let them exercise their talents in their native lands.

So much has been said and written about the talents and accomplishments of our senior senator, that it may be regarded as a work of super-erogation to add anything further. But his masterly handling of the Banking Bill should not go unnoticed. Governor Marriner C. Eccles, of the Federal Reserve Board, asked for a Bill that Senator Glass deemed too centralized and too political, and, as we understand, constituted an undermining of the federal reserve system itself. With his fellow-committeemen against him at the start, Senator Glass went serenely on his way, and, as one paper says, spent "two months in educating the committee members in the problems of banking." He finally got the Bill unanimously reported to the Senate, a Bill as he wanted it. In the Senate it met with opposition, but the Senator succeeded in getting it passed without a single amendment! The New York Times well said, "It was the triumph of a reputation and a man."

The Library of the Southwestern State Hospital now has 3,433 volumes. It is well-patronized by officials, employees and patients. Some of the most distinguished authors of the country have contributed books.

The situation between Italy and Ethiopia still looks bad. Next month will probably tell the tale of whether there will be war. Ethiopia, otherwise known as Abyssinia and Hesh, is a much larger country than Italy. It has 350,000 square miles as against Italy's 119,744. In population, however, Italy greatly outnumber the African country, having 41,800,000 people. Ethiopia has about 10,000,000. As we remarked once before, in 1896 the Italians invaded the country but were crushingly defeated at Adowa. However, in this age of airplanes, great guns, chemicals and gasses, in the use of all which Italy is proficient, what chance have the poor Ethiopians?

New Wheat Program Follows Recommendations Of Farmers

The new wheat adjustment plan, asked for by wheat producers in their referendum May 25, is virtually completed and the contract is expected to be ready to offer farmers soon in substantially its present form the Agricultural Adjustment Administration announces.

The new contract follows the lines worked out by producers and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in the conference of representative wheat farmers in Washington July 1 and 2.

It will cover the four-year period, 1936 to 1939 inclusive, but will be subject to termination at the end of any marketing year by the Secretary of Agriculture, and any grower has the option of withdrawal at the end of the first two year period. A two-year instead of a one-year withdrawal period is provided for because, in the dry farming regions, wheat production, alternating with summer following, is commonly a two-year operation.

The contract will be effective first on the wheat crop for 1936, but as winter wheat plantings for that crop will soon begin, it is necessary to offer the contract to farmers as soon as possible.

The required reduction with respect to the 1936 crop year will be 15 percent of the base acreage. With the adjustment of 15 percent, any contract signer may plant not more than 85 percent nor less than 54 percent of his base acreage for 1936. Plantings in subsequent years can be varied up or down within a 25 percent maximum as demanded by conditions.

By means of the new contract it is expected to divert excess wheat acreage to soil improving and erosion-preventing crops and to return some of it permanently to grass or to tree crops.

The plan for a four-year contract covering the years 1936 to 1939, inclusive, was overwhelmingly approved by the wheat growers in the referendum taken this spring. The proposed contract follows the general outlines of the first program, and contains only those changes which experience with the initial wheat program indicates will be helpful.

The Lutherans held a special church. Prayer meeting was also held at Union Baptist church, Saturday. The Holiness meeting was at Mock Shelton's, Wednesday night.

Mr. John Cardwell, who had his thumb hurt, has a bad finger that gives him lots of pain and trouble.

The Rev. Shelton of Attoway preached Sunday at Cedar Bluff and Slemp Creek.

Miss Edna Hutton is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Dean, of Laurel Springs.

Well, folks, here's your old friend, Mary Marion, back again... it seems good to be chatting with you all once more... and here's the champion hot weather wisecrack: I overheard a fellow say, "This hot weather makes me so good f' nothing that I'd plumb forgot I was engaged to be married last June."

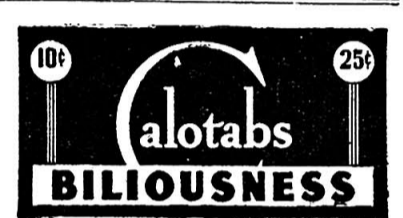

... whether you're out for a good time, or just need a couple o' gallons of gas, a good place to stop at is the Legionnaire, up at Atkins... they handle all the standard brands... and say folks, they make sandwiches in a hurry like nobody's business, and they've got other good eats... and if you and your friends wanta dance they got all the fixin's...

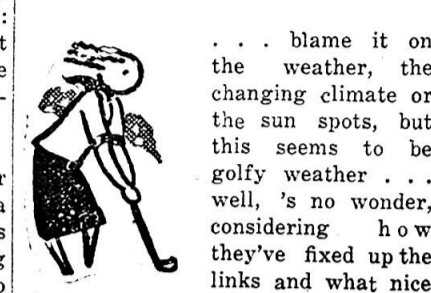

... for you girls who want a taste of somebody else's cooking, here's a hot tip: Drag Hubby and Junior down to Wyatt's—after one time you won't have to drag 'em... and listen, their Sunday Chicken lunch only sticks you 50c. (note to husband: Give the little lady a break. Let her get away from the kitchen stove once in a while and watch the reaction.)

Our bright Virginia sunshine is just the thing if you want to get a tan, but sometimes it can be not so friendly... 'frinstance, if you try to get away with wearing soiled, wrinkled clothes, it's just too bad. Old Man Sol shows you up. But don't worry. The Marion Laundry's the place for you to go, and it won't put a big nick in your pocketbook, either (eyether to you.)

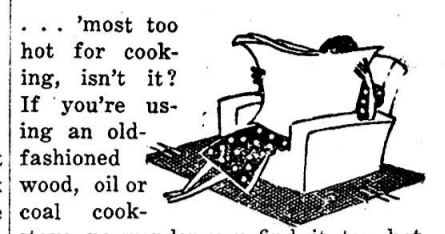

... "every man's home his own soda fountain," is what the politicians may be promising in a year or two, but the Laurel Springs Dairy has beaten them to it... they prepare fresh orangeade every day and deliver it with their milk and butter. You get 6 1/4 ounces for 5c or a quart for 14c... all you need to do is just leave out a note with the empty milk bottle, or you can buy it from the truck...

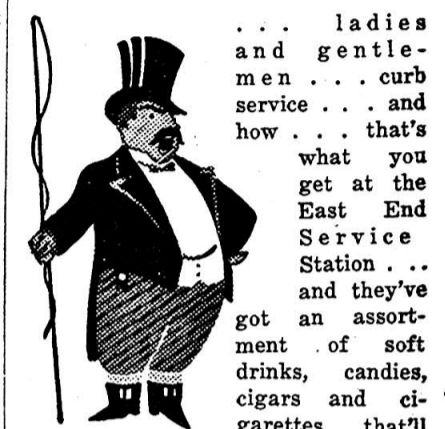

... blame it on the weather, the changing climate or the sun spots, but this seems to be golfy weather... well, 's no wonder, considering how they've fixed up the links and what nice shape everything's in. And you don't have to belong to the club to play. It costs you only $1.00 for an afternoon's fun. And we got a tip from Manager Davis that if you're looking for golfing equipment, you'd best take a look at the display in the club house before you buy...

... and now, friends, will you excuse me a little bit while I go over to the tennis court and see if any tournament matches are going on? I've got a big kick out of watching the lads and lassies do their stuff and here's hoping they have another tournament next year... and why not a tournament between towns? The champions of Marion against the champions of Saltville, etc...

Fashioned Salt Rising Bread today... wherever you trade, call for the Sharitz Bakery Products... I hear they've made quite a reputation for themselves in that fine Butter Top Bread... and say, you ought to try their pies... coconut, apple, peach, pineapple—what have you!

... 'most too hot for cooking, isn't it? If you're using an old-fashioned wood, oil or coal cook-stove no wonder you find it too hot, for the room gets hotter than the inside of the stove... but you don't need to roast yourself and fret the summer through. I couldn't believe it until I checked up on it, but you can get a brand new cool Hot Point electric range with four units and Thrift Cooker at W. B. Todd & Company for your old cook stove and $2.71 a month.

... ladies and gentlemen... curb service... and how... that's what you get at the East End Service Station... and they've got an assortment of soft drinks, candies, cigars and cigarettes that'll knock your eyes out... and don't forget they sell gasoline and other car food... and oh yes... if you want to get your car washed or greased and polished, or if you need wrecker service, day or night, just phone 44—that's their phone number—Reedy and Malley.

... hello... hello HELLO... great news, everybody... the Lee Highway is recuperating. Maybe you don't know what I mean? Well, if you drove much around a few months ago you'll understand. A day or two ago I was driving about, deepening my sun tan, and the roads weren't half bad in most places. Time works wonders...

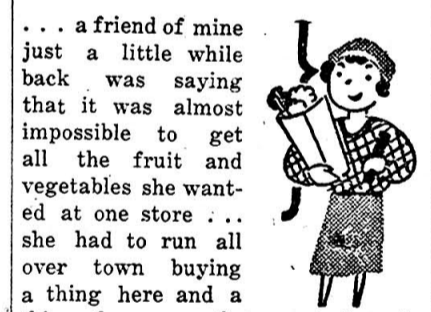

... if you're driving up Roanoke way and feel the need of a little refreshment, try the Atkins Service Station... sandwiches and everything else the heart can crave, made in a jiffy... and a full line-up of gasoline, oil, and what-have-you. And here's something else... if your bunch feels in the mood for dancing, they've got a room fitted up with radio, phonograph, booths and all things complete...

... it won't be long before the maples are turning scarlet and the tulip poplars changing to gold... autumn will soon be here, and higher coal prices will come with it... last year coal went up about twenty-five cents a ton every month after July... now's a good time to lay in your winter supply. You can still get your winter's coal at summer prices from the Hull-Shanklin Coal Co...

... here's good news to dogs and dog owners. It used to take two different kinds of medicine to worm a dog... one kind for ring worms... another kind for tape worms... now the Pulvex company has come out with a kind that does both jobs in one operation... it saves a trouble... and your dog likes better, too. Dr. Thompson at the City Drug can tell you all about it.

... coming back, I was walking down Main Street when I noticed a small crowd standing 'round Rose's window... you know what curiosity did to the cat, and we women are feline... I went up and saw what they were looking at... a few minutes later I was coming out of the store gnawing on one of the best cocoanut macaroons I've ever tasted. No wonder the people were looking at the candy display. And some of it was only ten cents a half pound.

... a friend of mine just a little while back was saying that it was almost impossible to get all the fruit and vegetables she wanted at one store... she had to run all over town buying a thing here and a thing there... that was before the Sanitary Market opened up down the street, next to Groseclose's 5 and 10. They don't handle anything except fruit and vegetables, and you're always sure of getting just what you want.

... feel in the mood to sink your teeth in a plump Devil's food or coconut cake? Or maybe you'd like some Parkerhouse rolls or Ye Old inside your motor!

That's why you need Germ Processed Oil for safe lubrication—it maintains high film strength under extreme heat!

The heat of your cylinder walls ranges from 350° to 425° in Summer weather.

When you drive at 50 miles an hour, your wrist pin bearings heat up to 350°.

Your connecting rod bearings, at a speed of 50 miles an hour, reach a heat of 250°.

In hot weather, your crankcase "runs a temperature" over 225°.

WITH heats of 225° to 425° in your motor, you must have oil that maintains high film strength under extreme temperatures to get safe lubrication. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear.

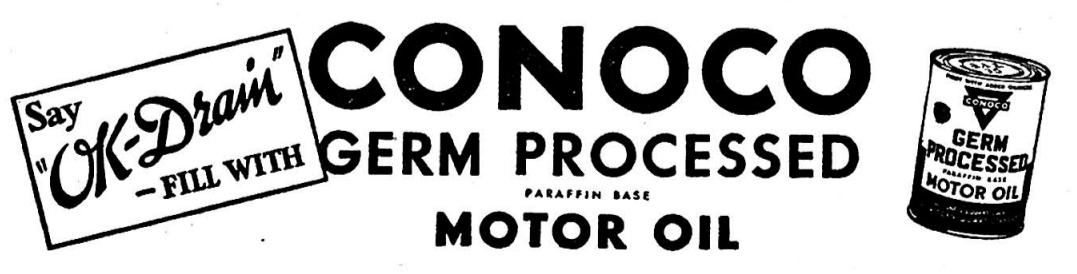

Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing processes have even less. As motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

It's an absolute certainty that you'll get better motor protection with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Timken machine tests prove that it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil and that heat above 225° does not lessen this advantage.

More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil.

You'll be certain your motor is safely lubricated even at high temperatures if you say "O. K.—Drain" and fill with Germ Processed, the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that never drains away!

History of Draper's Meadows, Condensed from Dr. John P. Hale's "Trans-Allegheny Pioneers," by Lotye Phillips Bryant.

On beginning a history of Blacksburg we must get our background from a much earlier time. First came those who braved the dangers, privations, and hardships of pioneer life—the circumstances and surroundings not favoring the writing or preserving of records, as older generations passed away, many of them carried with them recollections and traditions that can never be recovered and thus has been lost much of pioneer history probably as interesting as any that has been preserved. We are greatly indebted to Dr. John P. Hale for his record of the settlers on the frontier of the early and middle eighteenth century. From this we find one of our most reliable and authentic detailed sources of the history of Draper's Meadows (1748), afterwards Smithfield (1773), then Blacksburg (1797).

Thomas Ingles, who according to family tradition, was described from a Scotch family, was born and reared in London, lived about 1730 to 1740 in Dublin, Ireland, was a large importing wholesale merchant, was wealthy, owned his ships and traded with foreign countries, chiefly to the East Indies. In some revolution or political trouble, occurring during the time of his residence in Dublin, Thomas Ingles took a prominent and active part and on the failure of the cause he favored, his property was confiscated, and he was lucky to escape with his life. He with his three sons, William, Matthew and John, came to America and located for a time in Pennsylvania, about Chambersburg. In 1744 Thomas Ingles and his eldest son William then only a youth, made an excursion to the wilds of Southwestern Virginia going as far as New or Woods River.

No details of this trip have been preserved, but it was probably at this time they made the acquaintance of the Drapers then living at Pattonsburg (on James River opposite Buchanan) Botetourt County, Virginia.

George Draper and his wife whose maiden name had been Elenor Hardin came from County Donegal, North of Ireland, in 1729, and settled at the mouth of the Schuykill River, within the present limits of the City of Philadelphia. Here two children were born, John in 1730 and Mary in 1732.

Between 1740 and 1744 they with their two children came to Virginia and settled in Colonel Patton's settlement, Pattonsburg.

While the Drapers lived in Pattonsburg, George Draper started out on a game-hunting and land-seeking expedition and was never heard of again.

About four years later, in 1748, Dr. Thomas Walker's and Colonel James Patton's expedition made an excursion through Southwestern Virginia and immediately upon the return of Walker, Patton and others—if they did not accompany expedition as far as New River—Thomas Ingles and his three sons, Mrs. Draper and her son and daughter, Adam Harmon, Henry Lenord and James Burke came and made the settlement west of the Allegheny divide known as "Draper's Meadows."

The first buildings and improvements which were built of round logs as all frontier buildings then were, stood upon the present sites of the "Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College" and "Solitude" the residence of the late Colonel Robert Preston, near Blacksburg now Montgomery County, Virginia.

Very few facts have been preserved in regard to the Ingles-Draper frontier settlement but there are records that the house of Adam Harmon, in year 1749, was raided by Indians and his furs and skins stolen. This was the first Indian theft ever committed on the whites west of the Alleghenies. In 1753 the Indians stole the skins of George Hoopaugh and Jacob Harmon, killed their dogs and shot their "critters."

The marriage of William Ingles and Mary Draper was in year 1750. Two years after the Draper-Ingles settlement. This was the first white wedding west of the Alleghenies.

Four year later John Draper and Miss Bettie Robertson married and started their home in this wilderness settlement. Notwithstanding the isolation of the Draper's Meadows settlement and its remoteness from civilization and society the settlers were reasonably happy, prosperous and contented. They were busy clearing out and improving their lands, adding to their herds of stock, building houses and increasing their comfort. Others influenced by their favorable reports were coming in and settling near them. They were laying as they believed, the foundations of a growing and prosperous community.

Several times parties of Indians, from the north of the Ohio had passed and repassed this settlement to make raids upon the Catawbas, their enemies living farther south, but they had made no attack upon the white settlers, nor given them any annoyance or cause for alarm, except the thieving raids mentioned above.

On Sunday, July 8, 1755, when all was peace and quiet, and there was no suspicion of harm or danger, a party of Shawanees, from beyond the Ohio, fell upon the Draper's Meadows settlement and killed, wounded, or captured every one present. Colonel James Patton, Mrs. George Draper, Casper Barrie, and a child of John Draper were killed; Mrs. John Draper and James Cull, wounded; Mrs. William Ingles and two sons, Mrs. John Draper and Tenery Lenard were made prisoners.

Colonel James Patton who had large land interests hereabout, was here at this time and with him was his nephew William Preston.

Early in the morning of the attack Colonel Patton had sent Preston over to Mr. Philip Lybrook's on Sinking Creek to get him to come and help with harvest next day, and the fortunate absence doubtless saved his life.

Having everything in their power after the massacre and capture, the Indians secured all the guns and ammunition on the premises, all the horses and such household valuables as they could carry away. After loading all their stolen goods and putting the women and children on the horses, they set fire to the buildings and burned everything left.

William Ingles, who was in the grain field some distance from the house received his first notice of the massacre when he saw the smoke and flames from the burning buildings. He started at once to the scene of the tragedy, but on seeing that there was a large force of well-armed Indians and that unarmed and single handed it would be futile to come nearer he turned and sought safety in flight.

William Ingles, an John Draper had escaped but being without arms or horses and having no near neighbors the Indians were able to make their escape with their prisoners, horses and stolen goods unmolested.

About a half-mile or mile west on their route, they stopped at the house of Philip Barger, an old and white-haired man, cut off his head, put it in a bag and took it with them to the house of Philip Lybrook, on Sinking Creek, where they left it, telling Mrs. Lybrook to look in the bag and she would find an acquaintance.

The general course of the retreat of the Indians with the prisoners and spoils of the Draper's Meadows Massacre, was down New River, but there is no record preserved of the exact route and but few details of the trip down.

Terrible as were these experiences generally they were especially painful to Mrs. Ingles who was approaching a period of maternity. Neither this, nor a shattered arm in the case of Mrs. Draper were allowed to stand in the way of their making the trip. They were permitted to ride the horses, carry the children and make themselves as comfortable as the circumstances permitted, but the journey continued regardless of pain and suffering.

It was very fortunate for each of the women that the other was along as they rendered important services to each other as nurses as occasion required.

On the third day out, far from human habitation, with only the bosom of mother earth for a couch Mrs. Ingles gave birth to an infant daughter. Ordinarily, such an occurrence would have been equivalent to a death warrant for mother and child to avoid the trouble and the necessary delay of their journey; but Mrs. Ingles was an extraordinary woman and equal to any emergency. Owing to her physical constitution, health and training, she was able, next morning, to travel and did resume the journey with the new infant in her arms.

Another reason perhaps why Mrs. Ingles and the infant were not tomahawked was that the Indians counted upon getting a handsome sum for the ransom of herself and her children.

The Indians continued their journey to their camp in Ohio, (or Illinois) where they were met by representatives of different tribes and the prisoners and other spoils were divided. Mrs. Ingles and her infant daughter were left at the Ohio Camp Thomas Ingles to a Detroit group, where he remained until his seventeenth year when his father paid the second or third ransom for the return of his son. George was taken by another group but died soon after leaving his mother. Mrs. Draper was adopted into the family of an old Indian chief, to be found and ransomed by her husband six years later.

Mrs. Ingles helped with the work at the Indian camp and here she met another prisoner "The Old Dutch Woman," who had been stolen from her home in Pennsylvania. The two women were allowed to go out from the camp to gather nuts and berries, and on these trips planned their escape. With only their wearing apparel and a blanket each that they had hidden previously, Mrs. Ingles bade farewell to her infant daughter and they started on their perilous journey which was to last forty days. They came so nearly starving on the way that the "Old Dutch Woman" threatened Mrs. Ingles' life, but she escaped by getting into a canoe and crossing the Kanawha River. Thus they traveled often in sight of each other until they reached home. Mrs. Ingles, being younger and stronger arrived first, to be found in the corn patch of her old neighbor Adam Harmon, who went next morning to rescue Mrs. Ingles companion who was later returned to her home.

The day following Mrs. Ingles return, William Ingles and her brother John Draper returned from a trip to the south in Tennessee and Georgia where they were seeking news of their families stolen five months before.

After Mrs. Ingles returned they made their home at Draper's Meadows for some time, then exchanged their rights for the location now known as Ingles' Ferry.

When Mrs. Draper was ransomed by her husband they returned to their old location. There they remained until 1773 when they sold their land to William Preston and moved to Draper's Valley in Pulaski County.

In 1774 William Preston moved his family to his newly acquired lands and changed the name from Draper's Meadows to Smithfield in honor of his wife who was Miss Susanna Smith. The homestead of Smithfield is not located upon the exact site of the Draper's Meadows settlement. It stands about one-half mile to the southwest. The original building still remains but when the house was first built it was surrounded by a stockade for protection from Indians. After the heirs of William Preston inherited his estate it was in three main divisions, Smithfield, Solitude, and Whitethorn. All of these buildings still remain and are still in use. The original homestead is still in possession of the Preston heirs.

Hilgarth Makes Good In A Big Way

Hilgarth Blue Blossom, the Old English Sheep Dog imported two months ago from England by Mrs. Robert Lane Anderson's Red House Kennel of Marion, made good in a big way Tuesday, the 6th, when she whelped nine pups.

The dog was mated to English Champion Southridge Roger in England before being shipped to the United States.

The Old English Sheep Dog is a rather rare breed in America, but one that is growing increasingly popular. Many people have never seen one of these big, rough coated bobtails. Mrs. Anderson will be glad to show Hilgarth and her family to any one who wants to see them at any time after September 15th. Red House Kennel is at ye editor's home, just off the Lee highway, a half mile west of Marion.

Hilgarth didn't furnish all the excitement at Red House this week, however. On Wednesday The Widow of Red House, wire fox terrier, whelped her first litter, just two pups, sired by Imported English Champion Stormy Boy of Savannah, Ga.

Mr. Sam Alexander left Sunday night for New York City on a buying trip to secure fall merchandise for Marion Clothing Company.

Mrs. Jim Bane Peery has returned to her home after a month's stay with her sister in Norris, Tenn.
