Bear Caught in Bland County.

Bland, Va., May 26.—Jess Muncey, a well known farmer and hunter in this part of Bland county, today with his three small boys started out to put fresh bait in his bear trap. After accomplishing this they strayed over into the headwaters of Kimberling, where a most attractive looking bear was forced up a tree by a small black dog, while the big dogs engaged two other bruisers on an opposite hillside. These bruisers soon left their associate to his fate, so the men decided to take him alive; then the real fun began. J. Gordon Muncey was elected to fell the tree, while Jess and the other man stood out near where the top of the tree was expected to fall.

But fortunately, the tree took an unexpected turn and went down towards a sharp hollow where the wild beast was forced to take another tree. When this tree was cut down, the bear was so stunned that he was covered and conquered before he could recover. He was carried in and is now safely housed in the second story of Jess Muncey's barn, with a chain to confine him. The collar will soon bear the name of "Uncle John."

Washington, May 27.—The Post Office department realized a profit of $180,000 on the sale of stamp books last year. All the books sell at 1-cent over the actual value of the stamps contained therein.

Forger is Paroled.

Governor Mann paroled W. M. Forest, of Elizabeth City county, who was sentenced to serve one year for forgery. Several weeks ago the negro convicts in the camp between Saltville and Broadford made an attempt on a guard. Forest witnessed the affair and went to the rescue of the guard who had been knocked down and disarmed. The negroes, when Forest appeared, became frightened and returned to their tents. The leader, however, got the gun from the guard and escaped. He was later captured and is now doing additional time. Had it not been for Forest the guard might have been killed. In recognition of the man's services, the Governor decided to parole him.

Wanted in Grayson.

Marion Hines and George Forrester, of Grayson county, are being sought by the officers of that county to answer a charge of assault on a married woman of that county. The crime was committed several weeks ago. A letter was sent to the Governor informing him of the facts saying that the county had offered a reward of $70 for the arrest of the men and asking that the governor increase the amount. This was done at once, the State offering $50 for each man. The letter sent to the Governor was from the Commonwealth's Attorney of Grayson county. The men are said to have left the county almost immediately after they had committed the offense.

Republicans Feel Sure of Getting Together.

Washington, May 24.—Leaders in the Republican party laid preliminary plans here today for the Congressional campaign of 1914 and the national political battle of two years later to regain control of Congress and possession of the White House.

As a result, the Republican national committee will meet sixty days after adjournment of the extra session of Congress and an extraordinary Republican national convention is expected not later than a year hence.

Changes in the basis of representation in national conventions and reforms of methods of party procedure, which have been subject to criticism, will be disposed of through these agencies.

Today's conference was the first formal meeting of Republican leaders since the 1912 campaign and it was harmonious from the time Chairman Charles D. Hilles, of the national committee, called for order until the list motion was adopted. The need for reform within the party was not denied. The suggestion of the Progressive element for a national convention in the near future was heard and it was practically the unanimous opinion that such a convention should be called. It was decided to submit this question to the national committee and the agreement of opinion of the executive committee was taken as an indication of what might be expected from the larger body.

Senator Jones, representing progressives who met in Chicago recently to urge an early national convention, a clearer understanding of how primary delegate elections were to be regarded, the methods of settling contests and a change of representation, expressed himself as personally satisfied with today's action.

National Committeeman Martin of Virginia, made a speech against a reduction of Southern representation, but other members were responsible for the statement that Republican leaders in other Southern States would not oppose this plan.

Conclave Concluded.

Bristol, Tenn., May 24.—The Grand Commandery of Tennessee Knights Templar concluded its sessions here yesterday and adjourned. The ceremonies were concluded with a reception by Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Many of the Knights visited the great concrete dam across Watauga river just above Elizabethton, which cost over $400,000 with the hydro-electric plant.

For the trunk of a single old black walnut tree grown upon the estate left by George Washington in Westmoreland county, D. Harry Robinson, a leading lumber dealer, established a record price for figured black walnut. For the trunk he obtained a few dollars less than a thousand. The record price was due to the beautiful figuring in the grain of the wood, which was so fine that the wood will be used as material in the manufacture of high-class pianos. Carries It to a Higher Court.

Richmond, May 24.—An appeal to the Supreme Court is being prepared by Attorney General Williams to test the right of the State to tax municipal properties—gas, water and electric lights—for State purposes. The case was tried in the City Circuit Court and the decision was against the State, and from that decision the State is making an appeal in order that the question may be settled for all time—whether the State has a right to demand taxes from public utilities when owned by cities and when operated for a profit though that profit be expended for paying the expenses of the city. Attorney Williams thinks that the State has such a right and he will make an effort to settle the matter for once and all.

They were an exceptionally fine lot for so early in the year, the best ever made in the initial shipment for any past season, averaging 84 pounds to the lamb. Lambs throughout this section are reported to be exceptionally fine this season, due possibly to the very open season.

It is none too pleasant for Southern senators to realize that their Democratic constituents are now writing to the Republicans for aid in protecting Southern industries. The Southern senators have had trouble enough without having to bear this added embarrassment.

Still can the business men, planters, and manufacturers of the South, be blamed for turning to the only source from which aid may be expected to come? The Southern States have always been solidly Democratic, but in this crisis they find that although their party is in power their own senators either will not or cannot aid them.

The Southern States should not be too hard on their own representatives when writing to Republican senators. The letters, inclosing the non-committal replies of the Southern senators, which are now being received by Republicans, are rather bitter in tone, but the business men of the South should realize that there can not be protection in that section and free trade at the North, with justice to both sections.

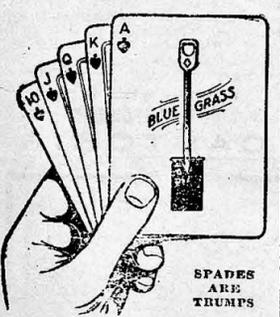

It would be impossible for the Southern senators to give protection to their home industries without according the same economic treatment to the industries of other States. If protection is now found to be a good thing in the South, there can be no doubt of its value in the North.

The statements made by some of the Southern senators that they "are sweating blood" and by a Western senator that while he will vote for the bill it will mean that he will not be re-elected are probably not at all exaggerated. From a political standpoint, the tariff is filled with pitfalls. The outcry in the South against the bill; the manner in which the Southern business men are turning to the Republicans in their distress and the general atmosphere of unrest in the Democratic ranks are all indicative of the political storm that is gathering.—Washington Post.

 Abingdon, Va., May 27.—W. H. Denison was killed instantly by a Virginia Carolina train here this evening at 6 o'clock. Denison was walking along the track near the Whiting lumber plant, when he was struck by the engine. Judging from conditions it is presumed that the man was drunk, since he paid no attention to the signals of the engineer. A whiskey bottle was found near the man's body. Every effort was made to stop the train, but because of the wet tracks the engineer was unable to do so.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Marion College Finals.

After a suspension of two years, in order to erect a new building, Marion College has just closed the thirty-eighth annual session.

The Commencement Exercises began Sunday with the baccalaureate sermon delivered at the Methodist church by Dr. S. P. Long, of Mansfield, Ohio. His text was from Ephesians, 5th chapter and 32nd verse, "This is a great mystery but I speak concerning Christ and the Church."

With this as a basis he announced his subject: "The Three Great Women of History—the Woman of Paradise, the Woman of Sacrifice, the Woman of Franchise." The first woman was Eve. The second was the church, the bride of the Lamb whose union was perfected by the death of Christ on Calvary. The third was the woman of to-day, with all the privileges she enjoys. It was a fine discourse and delivered in a forceful and eloquent manner.

On Sunday evening the annual missionary sermon was delivered by Rev. E. C. Cronk, of Columbia, S. C. He made a strong and powerful appeal for an enlargement of mission work by the church and for the near and ultimate evangelization of the world.

Monday morning at 11 o'clock Dr. Long delivered the alumnae address in the auditorium of the court house his subject being "Divine Enthusiasm." We regret that our space forbids us from giving at least the substance of his address. Suffice to say it was one of the very best lectures ever made in Marion. The speaker possessed a fine voice and was an orator in the fullest sense of the term.

Monday evening was given the Recital in Music. This was under the direction of Misses M. Ruggles and L. Richard Cooper. Although there was a great downpour of rain yet the auditorium was well filled and the Recital was one of the very best ever given by the department of music.

Tuesday morning the annual Literary Address was delivered by Judge Walter R. Staples, of Roanoke. He took for his subject "The Women of the Old Bible." His address was somewhat novel, but quite instructive and interesting. The speaker was introduced by Hon. B. F. Buchanan. After the address diplomas were awarded by President J. P. Miller to Miss Florence Brown, in the literary course and to Misses Mable Jones and Emma Showalter in music.

The medals in bible history were awarded by Judge Staples to Misses Nita Rector and Willie Love Morris, they having tied in the contest, each being given a medal.

The art exhibition was held at the College Tuesday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. Many excellent paintings were on exhibition.

On Tuesday evening the exercises were closed with an entertainment given by the expression department under the auspices of Miss M. Louise Edwards. This was the most enjoyable feature of the entire commencement and reflected great credit on the pupils and manifested the fact that much skill had been given in their training.

The College this year has been under the successful management of Rev. J. P. Miller, who goes to Elizabeth College, Charlotte, N. C. He is to be succeeded by Rev. Henderson N. Miller, of Columbus, Ohio, who was here last week and looked over the work. He comes highly recommended for the position and will fully expect a successful future for a greater Marion College.

Nice Reception.

Dr. B. E. P. Dickerson entertained many of his friends at a delightful evening luncheon at his home in Rich Valley in honor of his sister, Mrs. R. R. H. St. Clair, of Roanoke. Nearly a hundred guests were invited to meet her.

On their arrival they were entertained on the lawn which was dotted with tables and chairs. Cards, ruck and other games were enjoyed. When darkness came it caused the games to be forsaken, after which the guests were ushered into the house to be surprised to find the entire lower floor gorgeously decorated with dogwood blossoms, ferns, wild honey suckles and other beautiful flowers.

The ideal weather induced many to adorn their beautiful costumes. As they entered the dining room each young lady was presented with a May apple blossom and three leaves of shamrock, which she pinned upon the lapel of her escort's coat. Delicious refreshments were then served, the table being beautifully decorated. The guests were then variously and delightfully entertained by the resourceful host until 11:30.

Arab Rescued From What Must Have Seemed to Him as Almost Hopeless Situation.

Soldiering in the Sahara has its humorous as well as its tragic adventures, however. An amusing tale is told of an old Arab, the father of one of General Laperrine's men. He was antelope hunting, and when half dead with thirst he reached a well forty-five feet deep. At the bottom he could see the delicious water, but, like Tantalus, could not reach it. Unlike the mythical martyr, though, he was not chained to the rocks, and as the well was not very wide he did not hesitate to let himself down part of the way, and finally fell into the pool. It was quite impossible for him to get out, but, like a good fatalist, he waited in his bath, praying Allah to send some travelers by. In these regions weeks and sometimes months pass without the wells being visited, but next day fortune favored him by sending some of the French camel corps that way, who were not a little astonished at hearing a voice from beneath. "Good day, Syrians" (as the Arabs call the Saharian troops), "you might send me down a stronger rope to climb up with." He had recognized at once the pattern of the Spahi rope, and knew to whom he was talking.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Takes Druggist's Advice With Splendid Result.

If anyone should know the worth of a medicine, it is the retail druggist who sells it over his counter every day in the week, and is in a position to know what remedy gives the best satisfaction.

Mrs. Frank H. Uline, of West Sand Lake, N. Y., says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from bronchitis. Last July I had an attack which was more severe than any, and my friends thought I could not recover from it. Then I was advised by my druggist to try Vinol, which I did, with wonderful results. My cough has left me; I have gained in weight and appetite, and I am as strong as ever I was. I advise all who have bronchitis, chronic coughs, or who are run down to try Vinol."

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative elements of the codia liver, with the greenish oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron that makes Vinol so efficient.

Remember, we guarantee Vinol to do just what we say—we pay back your money if it does not.

Wonderful Cures Reported in Germany.

The use of simple herbs as remedies instead of the more concentrated and usually more dangerous inorganic substances, has been revived very widely of late. In Germany a new school of physicians has arisen which throws out almost a whole of the pharmacopoeia and relies on an adaptation of the method of wild animals in curing themselves. . . . N. Y. World.

It was Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., who first advocated the extended use of some of our native roots, such as: Golden seal and Oregon grape root, mandrake and queen's root, black cherrybark. These are the chief ingredients in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so well and favorably known for nearly half a century. A harmless cleanser and stomach tonic that nature has provided.

J. DONALD MATTHESON of Oesling, N. Y. says: "I suffered for over five years with what the doctors told me was dilated condition of the stomach, associated with a catarrhal condition of same, and nervous heart. I had tried enough nux, bismuth, gentian, rhubarb, etc., to float a ship and naturally thought there was no cure for me, but after reading what eminent doctors said of the curative qualities of the ingredients of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I gave it a fair trial. Took the 'Discovery' and also the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and can truthfully say I am feeling better now than I have in years. I cheerfully give permission to print this testimonial, and if any 'doubting Thomas' writes me I will 'put him wise' to the best all-around medicine in the country to-day."
