NO REST—NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a hal back, and distressing urinary disorders. Marion people recommend Doan's Pills. Ask your neighbor! Be guided by their experience.

Mrs. O. Snider, Lee & Depot St., Marion, says: "I had some trouble with kidney complaint and I just felt miserable. When I arose in the morning, I felt as though I hadn't had any rest. My back ached at times and my kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Pills had been used in our family before with good results, so I got a box and began using them. I began to feel much better after the medicine had had time to work and gradually, the pain disappeared from my back and my kidneys acted normally again. A couple boxes of Doan's Pills cured me of the attack."

Making Brick In Marion.

A NEW INDUSTRY THAT IS STARTING IN WITH FINE PROSPECTS OF SUCCESS

Sometime last winter we announced that a new industry was to be launched in Marion, and one that with the tremendous building program that was proposed for this year in the building line, would be greatly needed. This was nothing less than a plant for the manufacture of brick.

The plant is located about one and one-half miles from the Town of Marion, on the line of the Marion & Ry Valley Railway. The deposit of shale, which we believed was the property of Dr. R. H. Phipps, has been leased, and as Mr. Allen said to the editor one day this week "better material for the making of brick cannot be found elsewhere." Mr. Allen, who is from Elizabethton, Tenn., has put in a fine brick manufacturing plant, and while he has not as yet entirely completed the installation of all the machinery, he is right at work and is turning out the finished product. He intends to further facilitate his operations by electrifying his plant as soon as he can complete arrangements with the Power Company, which will not only reduce the cost of making the brick but will at the same time greatly facilitate the operation.

Mr. Allen cannot say too much in regard to the high quality of the raw material which he finds in an almost unlimited quantity, and which is capable of making the very highest grade of building material. Several kilns have already been burned, and he is very highly pleased with all of the operations. A great advantage that this plant has is its location which not only give transportation facilities by railway but also by truck, as there is right up to the plant a fine rock road by which auto truck can readily reach the plant.

This is a great big boom for our town, and we cannot but be greatly pleased to know that it has been put in successful operation. The demand for building material in Marion this year is bound to be very great, and as each year goes by the demand will be greater and greater, for Marion is but at the threshold of a development such as has never before been seen in any town in the Southwest. To grow and meet the demands of the thousands and thousands of people who will want to make this thriving prosperous city their future homes there must be houses built, and to build houses we must have brick, and the Marion Brick Manufacturing Company will be able to supply these bricks, and keep our money at home to be turned over again in new enterprises, new development and additional growth. Watch Marion grow.

Young Man Killed by Car

CAUGHT UNDER CAR AND HEAD CRUSHED, DIED IN DOCTOR'S OFFICE WITHIN HALF AN HOUR.

One of the most distressing accidents that has taken place in Marion for a long time occurred about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, on Sunday, April 27th, in which Roy Comer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Comer, lost his life, and Rayburn Hutton was badly injured.

It was an automobile accident. A Star car containing Roy Comer, Rayburn Hutton, Milton Scott, Marvin Cormany, Laxton Hutton and Harman Hutton, all young men and boys living in the neighborhood of Hutton Branch, except Rayburn Hutton who lives in Marion, were driving into Marion, when they were coming along the road between the residence of Mr. C. S. Wassum and Mr. Rush Gwyn; the car was going at very high rate of speed, and when opposite the residence of Mr. George Miles met another car going in the opposite direction. Right behind this car was a second car; the boys passed the first car pulling to the right, and either pulled the car too far of the wheel gave way, anyway the car turned over one or more times. The occupants were some thrown out and some caught under the overturned car.

Roy Comer was caught under the car, and his skull was so badly crushed that, though he was rushed to the office of Dr. C. B. Baughman, in the Bank of Marion building, he died soon after getting there.

Rayburn Hutton, who was driving the car, was also badly injured about the head, losing six or eight teeth, but it is not thought to be in any serious condition. All of the occupants of the car were more or less bruised and with some cuts from the glass, etc., and the great wonder is with the car going at the rate of speed it was and turning over so completely that any of the occupants escaped without fatal injuries.

The car remained all the afternoon at the roadside, and was an object of curiosity to hundreds of curious people who packed the road to obtain a sight of the wreck.

Roy Comer, the young man that was killed, was 27 years of age, and a most estimable young man, bearing a splendid reputation as a quiet, steady, polite boy, and had a host of friends among all that knew him. The sympathy of the entire community go to the bereaved father and mother on the loss of a son that was in the spring-time of his usefulness.

This horrible accident, that has snapped out a young life in the beginning of what in all probability would have been a life of usefulness and service, is but another evidence of what is the result of the wild desire to run cars as "fast as the wheels will turn." Hardly a newspaper comes to the desk of the editor but contains account after account of just such happens from all over the country; and for what—just for the excitement of wild driving. Lives crushed out, homes made desolate, mangled forms to be carried through life, is it worth the price. We do not think it is.

The funeral of Roy Comer took place on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of his father and mother, and the remains were then laid to rest in the old Wassum cemetery.

Important Meeting.

One of the most impressive services that is held at the College is the installation of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet. This service was held in the College Auditorium on Wednesday evening. Miss Ruth Jones who has been the president of the Y. W. C. A. for this year had charge of the service. The members of the former cabinet and of the newly elected cabinet were dressed in white and marched into the auditorium singing Follow the Gleam as a procession. The former cabinet members took their places on the platform, and each in turn called the newly elected cabinet to the platform. The installation was conducted by Miss Jones and ended with the turning over to Miss Marguerite McDaniels of Norfolk the presidency for the session of 1924-25. The Y. W. C. A. is one of the strong organizations of the College.

Kiwanis Hold Weekly Meeting

The regular weekly meeting of the Marion Kiwanis Club was held at Greer's Cafe last Tuesday night, with a good attendance of the members of the Club. Owing to the absence of the regular chairman for the evening there was no stated program carried out, but there was plenty going on to keep the members interested.

Hon. J. J. Stewart, of Abingdon, who is now an honorary member of the Club, was present, as was also Mr. Clarence Craft, cashier of the National Bank at Saltville. The Attendance Prize was drawn by L. P. Collins, and presented by Judge Stewart in a very neat manner, the prize being a handsome fountain pen.

The President of the Club, Mr. B. E. Copenhaver, called on the various chairman for some report. Dr. Sherrill reported for the committee on Crippled Children, that the clinic will be held in the Court House on Saturday the 3rd, and that it was expected that there would be in attendance a large number of children that would be examined by that day. He urged the further assistance of the members of the Club in getting the children to the Court House.

Mr. J. D. Perkins made a very full and interesting talk on the locating of the National Park in this section, taking in the counties of Smyth, Grayson and Washington. Speaking of the favorable opportunities offered in regard to scenery, mountain peaks, and transportation facilities. We believe that the matter will be taken up further by the Club, and some action taken to present the matter in the most favorable light before the National Park Commission.

Mr. C. C. Lincoln, Jr., of the "Stunt" committee, said that he would be in position to report something definite in the near future in regard to the play that had been suggested to be given by the Club.

None of the other chairman had anything in special to report. Mr. J. D. Tate, who had been greatly taken with the festive appearance of our visitors last week from Pulaski and Radford, suggested that the Marion boys adopt some similar distinctive head-gear, tho' some of the other members seem to think that wigs would come in pretty handy. The matter was referred to the Board of directors.

The music of the evening was classed as usual; an original composition by Mrs. Hall won distinct approval. Mr. Rush, who was one of the chairmen of the evening, claimed to be entirely unprepared and called on Walter (Alphabet) Moncure to help him out. Mr. Moncure was not quite prepared for so much honor, so got together a choir of John Mantz, W. W. Scott, Bill Allen, C. C. Lincoln, Jr., Preston Collins, who rendered "My Old Kentucky Home," with all the variations, and were applauded to the echo.

The evening was a very pleasant one, and enjoyed by every member present.

Reading Recital

The Recital by the Expression Class of the College which was given in the College Auditorium on Monday evening was a real demonstration of the splendid work that is being done at the College. The entire program was carried out with ease and naturalness which were most pleasing. Miss Elouise Prickett of Rural Retreat opened the program with two selections from Elgar A. Guest. From the opening until the close of the program there was not a break in the interest of the large audience that was present. Miss Prickett was followed by Miss Lena Whitehead of West Virginia whose reading of Mary Moncure Parker's Chinese Dinner Party was most enjoyable. Fate Douglas Wiggin's Story of Rebecca's Journey was read by Miss Lorena Hartman of Ohio. Miss Hartman showed unusual control of her voice in her ability to represent the different members of the family. Booth Tarkington's Penrod's Letter read by Miss Elizabeth Anderson gave the audience good opportunity for laughter and was much enjoyed. Miss Anderson has been the winner of several prizes in contests which have recently been held at Marion and elsewhere. Owen Meradith's Aux Italiens was read by Miss Louise Bishop who is a favorite with Marion audiences. Her piano accompaniment was played by her sister Miss Bessie Sue Bishop. The poem though often heard before, was made new and beautiful to the audience in Miss Bishop's rendition. Miss Elizabeth Freed moved the audience to tears with her unusual interpretation of the story of Connor. Mary Nail closed the program with a cutting from Booth Tarkington's Penrod and Sam Herr earnestness in her stage with young mischievous boys.

We always enjoy hearing Mrs. W. L. Lincoln and Mrs. C. C. Lincoln in duets. They will sing at the musical to be given at the Presbyterian Church, Friday evening.

Sheriff Dillard Makes Capture

The Sheriff has again been camping on the trail of the little copper still, and captured two on Sunday last, over French Mountains, near McCready Gap. A specimen of the outfit was exhibited in front of the Court House Monday, and the man that would drink the stuff that was prepared in such a vessel must have been "mighty dry" indeed. The Sheriff did not get any one when he made the capture, but it was a gentle reminder to the festive bootlegger that he was still on the job, and might be around to visit them any old day without first sending them one of his calling cards.

And that we express our sorrow at the loss of a friend and comrade. And that we extend to his bereaved family our sympathy and trust that they will find comfort in the love and leadership of the Great Commander.

And be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, to the Marion papers for publication and spread upon the records of our Post.

Closing Exercises at Riverside

At the close of a year which has been characterized by successful work and a co-operative spirit of good will the commencement program of Riverside School was presented on the nights of the 24th and 25th of April.

On Thursday night, a large audience enjoyed the exercises given by the primary and grammar grades, under the direction of Misses Wilson, Paisley and McKee. The emotional range of the program progressed from the ludicrous antics of an amateur minstrel to the graceful movements of white robed figures in pantomime, including a play and drills and sparkling recitations. A copy of the program follows:

Invocation, Music.

A Recitation—Primary Boys.

Imp's Goodnight Fourteen Boys.
Students of the high school department appeared Friday night in a play "The Little Chopper," and delighted a great assembly of people with their apt interpretations of character. The title role was cleverly enacted by Miss Margaret Williams who showed native dramatic ability in her impersonation of Judy Elliott. Septimus Green, a book agent and erstwhile detective, played by Kelly Grinstead, inspired much laughter and applause. Miss Mae Johnson as Mrs. Chiggerson-Boggs, gave a true representation of a dignified, scheming matron and, Joe Rash, as the son George, affected a weak dependence which was thoroughly amusing. Harold Wolfe, the hired man, became a comedian of no mean ability and proved a successful if crude lover in winning the hand of the engaging keeper of a boarding house, Miss Julitta Bean, otherwise Miss Okie Duncan, Miss Stella Bishop was a movie actress and very satisfactory played the part of endowing delicate Georgie with some strength and purpose. The comedy, given under the direction of Prof. G. A. Dutton very definitely showed the application of work and interest.

During the evening certificates were awarded by Supt. B. E. Copenhaver to all students completing the grammar grades and to those who finished the ninth grade of high school work. In very appropriate remarks, Mr. James White Sheffey and Prof. S. F. Gollehon presented the medals which were a recognition of loyalty to school work.

Then the curtain fell, at last, the end of another school year was pronounced and another vacation was launched.

Come to the Presbyterian church Friday evening at 8 o'clock and hear Mr. J. H. Hamilton's big bass voice in "The Call of the Sea."

Where the worst looks like the best

It takes an expert to tell good oils from bad, but any layman can get the right oil if he asks for it by name and sees that he gets it. The name "Standard" Polarine is on every oil tank containing our products.

You can't tell much about lubricating oils by their appearance. They all look more or less alike. You can't judge viscosity and wearing quality by looks. The color is about as important as the cover of a book.

You can safeguard yourself by always asking for your oil by name. The good name of a good oil is your best guarantee of getting what you want. It insures uniform quality, too. A nameless oil may be anything. See the tank from which your oil is taken.

For your own sake and for the health of your hard-working engine—select a good oil and then always buy it by name.

If you had time to make exhaustive tests you would decide on "Standard" Polarine. It has been recognized as the standard among good oils for many years. It is better today than ever. "Standard" Polarine has a good name to live up to.

WORTH FIGHTIN' FOR!

Put a bottle of the real Orange-Crush to your lips, and take just one taste!

Say, Mister, if you wouldn't be willin' to fight for a drink like that, you're not livin' up to American traditions!

Here are six reasons why Orange-Crush is so utterly delicious: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes); (3) Orange juice; (4) Pure carbonated water; (5) U. S. Certified food color; (6) Pure cane sugar.

That's all. My, what a drink!

$25,000 Fire at Abingdon

FLOUR MILL OF ABINGDON MILLING COMPANY BURNED TO THE GROUND

Fire of an undetermined origin early Sunday morning completely destroyed the big flour mill of the Abingdon Milling Company, located in the west end of Abingdon near the freight station and West Main Street.

The loss was estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000, with $15,000 insurance on the mill. For a time it was thought that the fire possibly would spread to the tanks of the Standard Oil Company located about seventy-five yards from the mill, but these were saved. At 1:30 the oil tanks were out of danger and the fire was well under control.

The big truck of the Bristol, Va. fire company was called to Abingdon to aid in getting the fire under control and made the run in 20 minutes. It was reported that efforts of the local fire fighters were largely responsible for the blaze being confined to the flour mill and one or two other buildings in that section of the town.

The big warehouse of the Farmers' Tobacco Exchange was threatened and the roof caught on fire, but the building was saved. Damage to this structure was estimated at about $3,000. A box car loaded with corn on the siding near the mill was also destroyed.

When the fire was discovered it was in the roof of the mill. The Bristol firemen were requested to rush their truck to Abingdon about 12:15 o'clock and lost no time in getting started. The Bristol fire fighters had four lines of hose on the blaze a few minutes after their arrival there.

The three big tanks of the Standard Oil Company were partly filled with gasoline and oil, and one of them was reported to be leaking. A mild wind, however, fanned the flames in the opposite direction and it was soon seen that if the fire was confined to the mill the tanks were not likely to be destroyed.

Two grain elevators at the mill, both of them empty, were destroyed, as were 1,200 bushels of corn, 1,500 bushels of wheat, 2,000 pounds of feed and 20,000 pounds of flour. The flour mill was owned largely by W. B. James, O. L. James and W. C. Stone.

The building occupied by the Vance Supply Company, hardware, caught on fire but no great damage was done. Several other smaller structures in that vicinity were threatened.

APRIL CIRCUIT COURT

This term of the Smyth County Circuit Court convened on Monday, with Hon. J. J. Stuart, of Abingdon presiding. The docket was called and cases set for trial. A Grand Jury was empanelled who returned nine indictments, eight of which were for violations of the liquor law. The trial of criminal cases was set for the 12th of May. A part of the present session will be held with Judge Holt, of Staunton presiding, owing to the fact Judge Stewart has been interested in the case professionally that is to be heard. This session of the Court will probably not be a very lengthy one, as there are not many important trials to occupy the attention of the Court.

The Womens Club will meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the Grammer School building. All members are urged to be present as some very important matters are to be discussed.

The quarterly group meeting of the W. M. U. of the following Baptist churches, Marion, South Fork, Sugar Grove, Falling Water, and Atkins, will meet with Falling Water church, at Attoaway on May 3, beginning promptly at 10:30 A. M. All day meeting.

A Delightful Song Program

A more than delightful audience greeted Mrs. Franceska Kaspar Lawson in her initial appearance at Marion College Friday evening at eight o'clock.

The splendidly well chosen program, every number of which was rendered in a preeminently artistic style, was very much enjoyed and most heartily applauded. It would be indeed difficult to tell which parts of her varied program, which included classical airs and songs of other lands as well as English and American songs, elicited most applause. Each was rendered with the understanding and fascinating naturalness of the real artist she is. Everyone enjoyed some of the numbers just a little bit more because of her descriptions of the songs and comments on the composers. In addition to a beautiful soprano voice of wide range and wonderful flexibility and quality. Mrs. Lawson has a most pleasing personality and is equally charming in manner, whether off or on the stage. A new group of ardent admirers will give her a hearty welcome whenever she may be able to return to Marion.

Miss Rudisill accompanied the signer with rare skill and discretion, following her every mood and proving again that she is an artist in that difficult field of work.

NATIONAL BUSINESS COLLEGE HAS HIGH IDEALS OF SERVICE

In an interesting interview with Mr. Smythe, the vice-president and general manager of the National Business College at Roanoke, many unusual features concerning school life at that institution were brought out.

"Yes," said Mr. Smythe, "I guess the National is run on somewhat unusual lines but you know it may be necessary in order to conform to our ideals. You see, we are striving to make the period during which young people come to us for instruction, not only valuable from a material sense but from an ethical sense as well."

"For you know there is more in business than the making of dollars and cents. If that were all, we would respect the brigands and pirates who amass great sums. There is in business a need for more ethics and it is our resolve that the students of the National Business College not only present the utmost efficiency in their respective capacities but that they be fully cognizant of the finer business proprieties."

"To this end, as soon as the students are enrolled, we endeavor through placements in refined educated families to surround the students with an atmosphere of genteel home life. In the class-room and in their association with faculty and other members of the student body each student is groomed to act with courtesy and helpfulness."

"Every day at the morning exercise we bring before the student body representative business and professional men and women in order that our students may have the benefit of their experience, advice and counsel. These lectures go a long way in developing high standards of business ethics and sound characters that are largely responsible for the almost uniform success of the graduates of the National Business College."

That this spirit of training is appreciated is apparent in the unqualified endorsement extended the school by the business and professional men of Roanoke and in fact by business men everywhere who have come in touch with the faculty and students.

Buick Value—The Measure of Automobile Values

People now-a-days measure automobile values on the basis of Buick value. How often you hear such remarks as: "It's not nearly as good as Buick". People make these remarks both consciously and unconsciously. Consciously, because they actually know Buick value either from their own experience or that of their friends; unconsciously, because for twenty years Buick has been the accepted standard of the industry. Good reasons, both, why you should own a Buick.

THE CLEAN-UP DAY.

According to the request of our Mayor, May the 1st is observed as Clean-Up Day, and we have no question but that our people have given to the request of the Town authorities the attention which such a request should receive, and that all of the unsightly piles of trash and rubbish, the accumulations of the past winter, have been removed, premises made clean and neat, and that in other words the Town's House Cleaning has been completed.

A stranger from a far Southern State was in our office recently, and during the conversation remarked, "You have a beautiful town, one of the prettiest I believe that I have ever seen; but I am sorry to note one thing, so many unsightly bill-boards, not only in the town but also on the roads leading into the town. I think that they are an eye-sore and not an advertisement—they are too common, no one reads them any more. I am willing to wager that you who pass these bill-boards several times each day yet cannot tell me now what article is being advertised on them." And stopping to think we were compelled to acknowledge that our visitor was right.

The bill-board is a poor advertisement but is a great disfigurement to the beauties of the scenery. The movement is gaining strength in many sections of the country to abolish them as an unsightly object, and a large number of owners of building will not allow their buildings to be used for the purpose of bill-boards.

While we are cleaning up it would be a good idea to clean up some of the bill-boards with the balance of the unsightly objects.

RECORD OF TREMENDOUS REDUCTION IN PUBLIC EXPENDITURES.

"The Republican administration has established an effective budget control. The highways of politics are strewn with broken promises of economy in government. This time the pledge has been redeemed. The people of the United States wish their taxes reduced, and a broad, scientific plan of tax reduction would already have been in operation if it had not been for the opposition to the sound proposals of the administration. But reduction in taxation would not be possible were it not for retrenchment in governmental expenditures.

"To this most difficult of all tasks, the administration set itself determinedly. Not only was provision made by law for a budget system, but President Harding took the words of the statute and made them a living force by a supremely efficient organization. He demanded of his department chiefs the most rigid economy. He evoked a new spirit of efficiency. He not only required that requests for appropriations should stand the minutest inquiry, but after reduced appropriations were granted he insisted upon spending less than the amounts appropriated.

"He did not propose to diminish governmental activities required by law or demanded by the public need, but as he said, "there was first the commitment to efficiency and then commendable strife for economy." He dissipated the notion that government departments must expend all their appropriations and that no available cash should go back to the Treasury. In the forwarding of this great reform President Harding supplied the driving force, and this alone entitles him to lasting honor.

"What was the result? The reduction in governmental expenditures during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, as compared with the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921, was about $1,700,000,000. There was a surplus of about $300,000,000. The current expenses for the year were about $600,000,000 less than the departmental estimates. These economies are being maintained and further restrictions in expenditures are being effected.

"In connection with this economizing, there has been a brilliant management of the government finances by the Secretary of the Treasury. When the Republican administration came into power the public debt amounted to about $24,000,000,000, or about ten times what it was at the close of the Civil war and about 20 times the public debt at the end of the Spanish war. Of this debt approximately $7,500,000,000 was short-dated debt maturing within two and one-half years. The larger part of this debt had to be refunded, but to accomplish the refunding in time of peace of such an enormous amount was a stupendous task. It was accomplished, however, without any disturbance to business.

"In addition to the refunding operations, the administration made substantial reductions in the public debt. It has adopted the policy of including in its ordinary budget certain fixed debt charges, including the sinking funds. In addition to these retirements the surplus receipts are applied to debt reductions. The result is that by March 1, 1924, there had been effected a reduction in the public debt of about $2,269,000,000.

"It was this rigid economy in governmental expenditures and this wise fiscal management which made it possible for the Secretary of the Treasury to propose a thorough-going scientific plan of tax reduction which has met country-wide approval. He proposed a reduction which would carry benefits to all the workers in the country. It would have effected a readjustment, not only fair in itself as a relief from excessive war taxation, but so arranged as to produce larger revenues while at the same time inviting capital to embark more freely in productive enterprise, and thus stimulate our trade and commerce.

"There is no doubt that the opposition to this plan and the delay in providing this needed relief is responsible for holding back a movement which it is believed would have already given to the country an increased prosperity. Certainly, the responsibility for delay must rest with those who oppose the plan and not upon those who proposed it.

"The Republican administration prepared the plan of tax reduction; the Republican President has urged it. The program of national economy, of debt liquidation, of well-balanced tax reduction is the Republican policy. It is a policy which in large part has passed beyond the promises of party platforms into a record of distinguished performance. Our people know that if the Republican administration is supported at the coming election this sound program of competent and efficient national housekeeping will be continued. Our economic ills in whatever part of the country they may be found can not be cured if we permit extravagance and waste. We can not have progress and prosperity without national thrift.

"Another gratifying accomplishment is the funding of the British debt of $4,600,000,000 on terms fair to both nations. The American people have been opposed to the cancellation of the debts owing to us by European nations and incurred during and after the war, believing that these were obligations of honor and that the necessary basis of international credit must be found in the recognition of the sanctity of international engagements. But we have no desire to be harsh or oppressive in the terms of settlement. The British adjustment is in the highest degree creditable to the British government, constituting a most important contribution to stability and renewed confidence. A similar adjustment has been made of the debt of Finland and other refunding negotiations are in progress."

Women! Health Brings Happiness

Watch Your Health!
 Petersburg, Va.—"The first four years of my married life I was in such delicate health that I could scarcely get around to do my housework. I doctored but did not seem to gain in strength. I suffered at times with severe pains in my side which indicated inward weakness, and after a friend told me of her experience with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I decided I would try it. I never knew a medicine could do so much in such a short time. Before I had taken half of the first bottle I began to gain in strength and my pains left me. I took several bottles and was then in better health than I had ever been in my life. I have a fine boy, and both he and I are in good health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription helped to bring health and happiness into my home and I feel it my duty to tell other women so that they may know there is hope for them, too."

NOTICE!

SALE OF LARGE AND VALUABLE BLUE GRASS FARM IN RICH VALLEY.

Pursuant to the terms of a decree entered by the Circuit Court of Smyth County on the 8th day of January, 1924, as modified by a further decree entered on the — day of March, 1924, in the Chancery Cause of W. R. Tilson et als vs. Sallie Ruth Tilson et als. I will, as Trustee and Commissioner in said cause, on at 11:00 o'clock A. M., proceed to sell at 11:00 o'clock A. M., proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder on the premises at the mansion house now occupied by W. R. Tilson near Nebo, in Rich Valley, Smyth County, Virginia, that very attractive and magnificent blue grass estate known as the W. V. B. Tilson Farm, consisting of something over 700 ACRES of land running from the top of Walker's Mountain on the South to the North Fork of the Holston River on the North. Said land is situated in the heart of the celebrated Rich Valley blue grass section and is one of the most attractive and desirable estates in Southwestern Virginia, it is a class of land that is rarely placed on the market, and offers an opportunity for investment which comes rarely in a life time. This farm is made much more attractive by the fact that, unlike most blue grass estates, it is magnificently watered, having bold and never-failing springs in practically every field on the place and on every part of the place. Two roads pass through the land, the Rich Valley turnpike running from East to West through the entire tract and the Walker's Mountain road running from North to South. It is expected that the Rich Valley road will soon be put into first-class condition. There is also a good mountain road leading to Atkins Tank, which is the nearest station on the Norfolk and Western railroad, and to the town of Marion, a distance of some 12 or 14 miles.

In order that purchasers may be suited the entire tract has been subdivided into five subdivisions, all of which front on the main Rich Valley road, the said divisions containing from 86 ACRES to 188 ACRES each. The land will first be sold in parcels and then, at the option of the Commissioner, such parcels as he may elect be put together and sold then and he reserves the right to adopt that plan which will bring the most money. That portion of the said tract lying North of the main Rich Valley road and containing about 236 ACRES will be sold subject to the reservation of the minerals and mineral rights thereon. The other portion will be sold free of all encumbrances or reservations. A survey of the and has been made and a map showing the subdivisions can be seen by prospective purchasers either at the office of Buchanan & Buchanan, Marion, Va., or on the premises by calling upon Mr. W. R. Tilson. This will offer a rare opportunity to anyone desiring to purchase one of the most attractive and valuable estates in Southwest Virginia.

TERMS OF SALE:
 One-fourth cash in hand on the day of sale and for the remainder a credit of 8, 16 and 24 months will be extended, the purchaser or purchasers being required to execute bonds to the Commissioner for the deferred payments with approved personal security, bearing interest from the date of sale.

B. F. BUCHANAN,
 Commissioner and Trustee.

I hereby certify that B. F. Buchanan, Commissioner and Trustee in the above-named cause, has executed before me bond required by decree entered therein.

H. L. KENT, Clerk.
 Mr. W. R. Tilson will also sell at the same time on the premises all of his farm stock and machinery, consisting of horses, cattle, etc., together with all household furniture. n d Apr 10 4t e
