BOYCOTTING.

The Democratic journals in Virginia, at least some of them, have a strange way of regulating their conduct upon questions of right. It has only been a few years since citizens of Richmond, Lynchburg and other places in the State were boycotted in business and ostracised socially, because they dared to be Readjusters. The dread of such treatment being heaped upon them by the Democrats, or Funders, who were largely in the ascendency in most of the cities and towns, prevented a great many men from becoming Readjusters. Whenever a business man began to express himself in favor of Readjustment some kind friend would immediately wait upon him, and remark to the gentlemen with Readjuster inclinations that he couldn't afford to be a Readjuster. Why your business will be ruined if you cast your fortunes with "the repudiators," he would say. The honest debt payers would not buy of you, and will not give you work if you are a mechanic. This business and social ostracism was practiced against men because they were Readjusters. The Democratic newspapers did not raise their voices against the cruel wrong; but upon the contrary, by silence, acquiesced in the mean proscription. If they had been asked for a reason for so doing, no doubt, they would have stated that it was because of the great moral wrong embodied in the principle of Readjustment. They believed then that it was right to boycott men who were making war upon the tax-receivable coupon. Now some of them taken quite a contrary position and are calling upon the merchants of Virginia, the old time to boycott the merchant who sends drummers and insist upon paying tax in coupons. The Dispatch is now sending appeals to the merchants of Virginia on this line. It will not be the Virginia merchant who buys a dollar's worth of these coupon-paying in-struments be recreant to his people and...

How long has it been since the Dispatch, and other Democratic journals that now unblushingly advocate such a doctrine as the above, were treating the people to longwinded articles on "honor and integrity," and the inviolability of the Funding bill contracts? What can the honest business men of the Eastern cities and States think of a party whose organs can in such a brief time occupy such diverse positions on a question of this kind? They first winked at and encouraged the boycotting of citizens of Virginia because they dared to make war upon the coupon, and now they call upon the business men of the State to boycott certain business men of other States, because they wish to use the once sacred coupon in the payment of taxes. A way with such boycotting and boycotters!

A FARCE!

Gov. Lee has published a proclamation to the people of Virginia, calling upon them to pay their taxes in money and not in coupons. He pitches into the Funding Bill of 1871-2, speaks of the inability of Virginia to pay, sneers at those who use coupons, denounces as hired attorneys those who defend the creditors and seek to enforce the payment of coupons, and talks Readjustment with as much grace and volubility as if he had not been an "honor and integrity" shrieker a few years ago.

How long has it been since Fitzhugh Lee introduced a resolution, in a meeting of the Conservative party, providing for the exclusion from that meeting of all men who were in favor of Readjustment and would not subscribe to the McCulloch Bill?

Who is responsible for the present deplorable financial condition of the State? Who is to be charged with the failure of readjustment? Who gave the bondholders the throat-hold they now have upon the Commonwealth? Who, we say? Why the party that made Fitzhugh Lee Governor of Virginia. And he as an individual member of the party contributed his part to bring about the direful results. His absurd appeals to the people of the State to stand by the Riddlebeger Bill and fight the creditors are a travesty upon Readjuster.

VERDICT IN THE CASE OF DR. WHITE, OF ABINGDON.

Closing Speeches of General Walker and Mr. Rowan—Three Hundred and Seventy-Five Dollar Fine.

ABINGDON, VA., April 3.—General Walker, resuming his argument in the White case this morning, spoke for about two hours and a half. Being severely hoarse, he could scarcely be heard beyond the railing of the bar at times. He pursued the line of argument indicated by his opening remarks of yesterday evening, and after reviewing the arguments and grounds taken by Messrs. Conrad and Williams, elaborated the main positions of the defence as indicated by Messrs. Routh, Stuart, and Henry in their arguments, arguing the complete justification of slaying the defamer of character. In reviewing the testimony and the arguments of the prosecuting counsel he was at times highly amusing, and threw an aspect of ludicrousness upon the contention of the prosecution that Judge Ward was premeditatedly attacked while alone by three men. He said it was an "arraying of clans" on both sides. Ward, warned of White's intention to punish him, had armed his friends, and White had gathered his kinsmen about him to see fair play, and it was only a question as to who should shoot first; that Ward would have gotten "the drop" first if he could. Just before concluding he made an ingenious and bold stroke by telling the jury he believed they were with him, but there were three or four who might think a fine should be imposed for a mere technical violation of the law, therefore as counsel for the accused he would ask those in favor of acquittal to accede to a fine rather than a hung jury.

Mr. Rowan followed with the last argument and that for the Commonwealth. He spoke for more than two hours, and acquitted himself with much credit. He made a general resume of the law, the testimony, and the arguments of defendant's counsel. He urged the views taken by his associates, and pressed for a conviction on his construction of the evidence as conclusively showing the shooting to have been a willful, deliberate, and malicious assault and attempt to kill from lying in wait.

At twenty minutes to 3 o'clock the case was given to the jury, when they retired to consult thereon. After being out for forty five minutes they were brought into court and delivered their verdict, which was put in form and the words: "We, the jury, find the prisoner not guilty of the felony charged in the indictment, but guilty of an assault, and assess his fine at $375."

Upon the reading of the verdict there arose a peal after peal of applause, which the Judge with his gavel and the bailiffs crying out "Order" could not suppress for several minutes. The jury were polled, and all assented to the verdict as read. A question then arose as to the proper judgment to be rendered upon the verdict, and time was taken to consider in this regard. The court entered judgment upon the verdict as it was written, and the accused was discharged. It is said that ten of jury were for acquittal outright, but finally acceded to the verdict rendered.

The cases of Messrs. Campbell and Graham White were continued till the next term, and after recognizing the witnesses and renewing the bail of the defendants the court adjourned.

Cruel Landlords.

DUBLIN, April 3.—Notwithstanding the hardships which have impoverished the fishermen of the west of Ireland, the landlords continue their rule policy and eviction, which has already hastened the death of several aged and infirm persons, who had no place to shelter when turned into the road by the bailiffs. These people have absolutely no money; their last pennies have been spent long ago for food, and the effort to collect back rents for them is as hopeless as the attempt to squeeze blood from a stone. One of the largest owners of land on Achill Island is a Presbyterian religious body, having its headquarters at Belfast. This corporation gives to its debtor tenant the option of being evicted or brooming.

Dramatic Entertainments.

According to previous announcement dramatic entertainments were given at Seaver Opera House Friday and Thursday nights. Mrs. L.V. Hill had the management, and, altogether, there have never been more successful entertainments in our town. They were for the benefit of the Methodist Parsonage Aid Society. The first night the temperance drama "The Last Loaf" was presented and was followed by a farce "Borrowed Plumes." For amateurs the acting was pronounced unusually good; and the audience was so well pleased that a very much larger audience was present the second night, when the serio-comic drama "Handy Andy" was played and was followed by "The Mock Trial." Each night the ladies and gentlemen who participated in the plays endeavored to do their best; and it is not going too far to say that non-professionals could have done no better. We are told that this was the opinion of every one in the audience both nights. The entertainments were also greatly added to by the introduction of music by some of the leading musical talent of the town. The music consisted both of instrumental and vocal selections. It would be wrong to single out any particular person who took a part in the entertainments for special commendation where all did so well, but Mrs. Hill and the ladies of the "Aid Society" wish to extend their thanks to all. A good sum was realized, about $78.00 over and above all expenses.

A New Postmaster.

A few days ago Maj. R. J. Haller was notified by the post office department that he had been appointed postmaster at Marion. He has made up his mind, we are informed, and forwarded it to Washington. Maj. Haller no will doubt make a courteous and obliging officer; but the people of this community will sorrowfully part with W. P. Francis, who has for so many years efficiently discharged the duties of the office. Mr. Francis was recommended by the outgoing administration as the best postmaster in Virginia. His removal has not been unexpected; but it is gratifying to know that it was occasioned solely by political reasons. Mr. Francis was a Republican, and had to go. This is another illustration of the false position of the Democratic administration on Civil Service.

From a Sense of Duty.

Some people shrink from making public the benefit they have received, while others are free to tell it abroad for the good of fellow mortals. Of the latter kind is Mr. J. H. Coppock, of Mount Holly, N. J., who writes: "I am one of many who give their cheerful appreciation of the merits of the efficacy of your valuable Brown's Iron Bitters, from a sense of duty. This bitters is doing much good in our country, for which I can vouch."

An exchange says: "Man's average life is 33 years." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup always lives.

Executions by Electricity.

Senator McMillan, of the Buffalo district, has introduced in the New York Legislature a bill which provides for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report the most humane method of inflicting capital punishment. The bill is of importance to all interested in the advancement of humanity, and it is probably the result mainly of the efforts of Dr. A. P. Southwick, of Buffalo, who has been for many years anxious to have the method of capital punishment changed, and Assistant District Attorney Quinby. They look upon hanging as a relic of barbarism. Science is so far advanced that other and better means can easily be devised. Dr. Southwick proposes to execute criminals by means of electricity, by which death would be instantaneous. The method which he proposed is very simple: His idea is to use an ordinary wire. In this city a wire could be run from the electric light works to the jail. The wire, entering an insulated substance, such as rubber or glass, would constitute the positive pole. By placing the man's feet upon a metallic plate a connection would be formed with the poles. At a signal a switch in another room could be turned. The current would enter at the base of the brain, the centre of their nervous system, and pass through the man. The heart would stop beating, and a complete paralysis would ensue.

THE BUSINESS MEN!

MERCHANTS, MANUFACTURERS,

Professional and Working-Men of Marion. Speak Out for Prohibition.

We, the undersigned citizens of Marion have had ample opportunity to see tested the benefits of no licensed sale of liquor in this town for a number of years past; and we are firm in the conviction that the use of liquor has been so reduced that prohibition would be rendered permanent and popular in any community with an experience similar to ours. We are of the opinion that the business of the town has not been injured by the closing of bar-rooms, and as the business interests of the place are our interests we will confidently and earnestly work for the continuance of prohibition in Marion.

We only mention a few of the signers, as the lack of space will not permit more. It has been signed by nearly all the mechanics, farmers, professional, laboring and business men of town.

W. P. Bonham: I have been a citizen of this county for a number of years and am satisfied that local option has been a success and a blessing to the people of this place.

A. G. Pendleton: I have lived in Marion for forty years; both when ardent spirits were sold and since Local Option has been enforced here and I don't hesitate to say that we had a reign of terror—when liquor was sold—but peace and quiet under Local Option. The sale of ardent spirits was a curse—Local Option a blessing.

A letter from W. H. Bicketts to T. J. Davenport: Replying to your note about the "wet and dry" tickets, I will give you my opinion as formed on a visit to your town: I will say I was at Marion on the first day of the March court, 1886, was in town till late in the evening, when drinking, if any going on, shows itself in a crowd, but I was forcibly struck with the soberness, order and quietude of the large crowd present and I remarked then and since, it was more like a gathering at church than at a court house on court day. I have heard some one say, that Marion, with her No License, was more drunken and disorderly than neighboring county seats with bars, but was surprised to see for myself no one, in the least under the influence of drink and what I saw on that day I regard as one of the best arguments in favor of No License.

MEADOW VIEW, VA.

Mrs. Ellen F. Sheffey: I came to Marion, Va., 1835, as the wife of James W. Sheffey, now deceased, and my home has been made among this people for fifty years. Hence I have had a good opportunity to observe the effect of any change in the government of the town. Previous to 1872, there were several licensed bar-rooms in our midst and our community suffered much from the evil, especially on public days when crowds were assembled. At such times, ladies hesitated to trust themselves unprotected by escorts, upon the streets and bloody fights were frequent shocking, profanity was but little restrained. Since the Local Option Law closed these nurseries of vice, a decided improvement is apparent. Ladies have nothing to fear even in times of political excitement; drunken yells, or oaths rarely disturb the quiet of night or day. Keep the bar-rooms closed.

W. D. Wilmore, Deputy Sheriff and Jailor: I was born and raised in Marion, have been deputy sheriff and jailer several terms, and can say that prior to the closing of the liquor houses in Marion, fighting, drunkenness and disorder of all sorts were common on our streets, and even during the sittings of our courts the business of courts would have to be suspended so that the officers of the courts could quiet the disorder in bar-rooms and other places. But since no license has been given for the sale of liquors in Marion we have had good order and but little drunkenness seen and that has been caused mostly by smugglers who brought it with them and sold it to a few drinking men. So I am fully convinced that prohibition is the remedy to stop the great evil of intemperance, as it has worked well in Marion.

W. H. Leith, Pastor Marion Station, Holston Conference Methodist E. Church South: Having lived, from the close of the war until last November in towns where the sale of intoxicants was legalized and common; and having lived, since the first of last November in Marion, Virginia, where no such sales are made except in violation of law; the contrast between the former and the latter, as I have seen it, is so great as to convince any unprejudiced mind of the fact that, the interests of the Commonwealth, as well as of the unfortunate drunkard and his dependents will be conserved by the adoption of prohibition.

R. B. Boatwright: I have been a resident of Marion, Va., and pastor of the Marion Baptist church for fifteen years. During the early part of my ministry there were several bar-rooms in town, but for twelve or fourteen years there have been none; and I am clearly of the opinion that the difference is marked in favor of prohibition.

J. J. Scherer: I have resided in Marion, Va., since 1871. Since 1873 there has been no license for retailing intoxicating liquors; and there have been little drunkenness and disorder here during that time compared with what was the case during the 2 years prior, when there were licensed bar-rooms.

[Mr. Scherer is a minister of the Lutheran church, and is President of Marion Female College. Editor.]

W. M. McPheeters, [Pastor of Presbyterian church]: I have been a resident of Marion, for something more than a month. During this time I have more than once expressed my surprise and gratification at the unusual quietness and good order which uniformly prevails in this community. I am personally acquainted with a number of towns in the State which enjoy the advantage of licensed bar-rooms! I am free to say not one of them compare with this town for order. I may add that when a resident of Rocky Mt. in Franklin county, I had an excellent opportunity to judge of the benefits of Local Option. Despite the false statements of those opposed to this good cause the order of the town, and the comfort especially of the ladies, was greatly increased by closing the liquor saloons.

W. E. Moore: I have lived in Marion 36 years, and can testify that when bar rooms were open here there was much drunkenness and frequent brawls and obscene or profane language on all public days, and on other days occasionally occurred. But after the close of the bar rooms such disorderly conduct on public, and other days, has been so rare, in comparison, as to constitute an unanswerable argument for no license.

G. W. Summers, [Pastor of Methodist church]: I have lived in Marion for the last 18 months and can say the people are remarkable for their sobriety. And to say—as has been reported—that there is now or has been during this period general drunkenness or even frequent cases of intoxication, is basely false.

WYTHEVILLE, VA. April 5, '85.

Col. Wm. C. Pendleton.

Dear Sir:—In reply to yours of a recent date asking me in regard to my views with respect to the working of no licensed sale of liquor in Marion, I am free to say, that after an extensive experience, gained by observation while travelling for a number of years in most of the counties of the Southwest and several of Eastern Virginia, there is less drinking in your community, by far, than any town or county I have had the pleasure of visiting. The result of prohibition in your town ought to convince the most incredulous as to its merits. Respectfully,

J. B. HODGES, Marble Agent, Wytheville, Va.

Sickness in the Country.

Reports from the country indicate that there is at this time more than the usual amount of sickness prevailing. Most of these troubles seem to arise from the impure condition of the blood caused by an excessive secretion of bile. This causes fevers of a bilious character, and we regret to say in some places, it has proved very fatal. We therefore offer this gratuitous advice to those not yet afflicted. Keep your liver in a healthy condition, and your blood rich and pure. Good blood means good health, whilst bad blood bad health. Hart's Blood and Liver Pills are entirely vegetable and are just the pills needed at this season of the year.

The Ladies Appeal!

TO THE VOTERS OF SMYTH COUNTY!

Through the Ballot Box it is Your Privilege to Speak Against This Gross Evil of Intemperance.

To the voters of Smyth county we appeal for protection from Intemperance, the insidious enemy which is degrading and devastating so many of our homes! If cohorts of human foes menaced us with rapine, conflagration and death, how safely might we rely upon the men of our beautiful Southwest Virginia to defend us against the ruthless approach; legions, full panopied for the conflict would spring as by magic, from our mountain fastness ready to pour out their hearts blood, if need be, to seal their loyalty to noble sentiments of chivalry, honor humanity and justice—O, men of Smyth county, be not then deaf to our cry for help, for deliverance, in this midnight hour of suspense when our spirits faint under the knowledge of helplessness and danger under the knowledge that hordes of crime begetter not the lives only, but the priceless souls, also—the temporal and eternal happiness of those dear to us; that an incarnate demon, brandishing the torch of unquenchable flames, rages around our dwellings; that a noisome pestilence preys upon the pride and beauty of our country! To you, under God, we look for succor since judicial skies are as brass above us, judicial powers are allied with the invader against our sorrows and our prayers. The very laws of our county have fostered the monster, Intemperance, and his vicious army; established protected their dens of death exposed the treasures of our homes to their rapacious machinations and commissioned them to war against us under shield of court, juries and executive clemency! Through our legislators knew that the land, like the Trojan plain is a vast battle field "rough with the corpses of the slain," they have, hitherto, refused to identify themselves with the wronged; refused to interpose legislation offensive to the destroyers of souls; have ignored the signals of distress, the myriad watchfires marking the prayerful vigils of Temperance organizations, the countless "lamps lighted to warn the night of error into day"—none have come to our relief. Offers of compromise have mocked us, and promised but to perpetuate our sorrows. As the Jews doomed by the machinations of son of Hamadathra so have we been made to feel the relentless hatred of the powers allied against us till now a voice, as from Heaven, proclaims our right to self-protection—not by means of bloodshed, but through the subtle influence of that boon of freedom and freemen, the Vote of the People! O, who would prostitute this God given right in the support of laws, or practices which enslave, which desolate, our homes? "In this contest, Neutrality is Treason," and Men of Smyth county, it is your high privilege to aid in purifying, rescuing our country from riotous crime and pollution! Through the ballot box, it is your privilege to speak authoritatively against the gross evils of Intemperance which shock us, and to heal the diseases of our government and country. The dictates of conscience, humanity and self-interest must prompt you, surely, to refuse all compromise with the workers of iniquity who, in defiance of the curse of God and the tears of His creatures would dare to put the cup of intoxication to his own and neighbors lips. Rise in judgment against them, redeem the fleeting hours of life by "Voting for rights you ought to defend—Virtue and Temperance bravely befriending!"

Let it never be charged against us, again, that we have legalized a curse that our hands have helped to unbar the gates of Hell! If the cup of madness is sipped, let it be done in secret, by those who love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil altogether. We can close the dens of death, destroy the foul miasmas of Intemperance by your aid. "O, help us ye old men, who have little to live for but to do good; help us, ye young men, whose manhood should be devoted to making the world better and happier, and not to the accumulation of wealth to be squandered in places of dissipation; help us for the sake of your mothers, wives, sisters, children, who in most cases are the greatest sufferers; help us, ye drinking men for your present life is miserable and your only security is in removing temptation by absolute prohibition. And May the God of our fathers, help us continue the war upon the murderers of our hopes and happiness till none shall be left to advocate the cause of Intemperance. "Surely, neither cowardise, nor indifference, will tempt you as it did Pilate of old to leave suffering Innocence in the power of a raging mob! You cannot wash your hands of responsibility for that Day will come the King of Kings, the Judge of the quick and the dead, shall make inquisition for blood—aye, and more than all, for souls! Then the All-Father shall have them in derision who have here denied the claims of brotherhood, who have here, laughed at the necessities, the calamities of the afflicted and erring. O, "let the voice of faction be hushed; united be the true men of all parties in rebuking and displaying from power those who have been swift to vilify, degrade, or oppress; shake off apathy, rise in might and with united effort establish Temperance and Purity. This can, this must be done by that silent, but potent weapon, the ballot!"

"A weapon that comes down as still As snowflakes fall upon the sod But executes a freeman's will As lightning does the will of God!"

- Mrs. E. F. Sheffey, N. L. Look, C. Gibbons, C. F. Lincoln, C. E. Maury, D. C. Miller, V. S. Haller, Fannie Pruner, A. H. Campbell, W. C. Seaver, Miss Sallie Dickey, and other ladies of Marion.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker Mouth. J. S. Pendleton.

A Big "4."

Two of our county officials and two portly butchers, thinking that as they had control over both man and beast, undertook the task of disposing the inmates of an humble residence by offering their services to move their effects on the outside, which was done only in part, for our accommodating friends left in the house an excellent broad-axe, a loe handle, a few case knives, and two sets of genuine teeth and a pot of boiling water. One of the party is thinking of preaching in the future, the second party has some blue spots on the right side of his face, and the swelled bumps on the third parties head will not likely prove dangerous, and the fourth party has a little hair left on his well formed skull. Probably they will interview a life insurance agent before another removal. Their next appointment has not yet been announced.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, seer. Weymouth, plying between Annapolis and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner.

Temperance Column.

April 8, 1886.

D. C. MILLER, EDITOR.

We give the space in our column this week to the communication written by a lady, who is one of our most zealous temperance workers. We hope our noble women will take right hold of this subject and urge the voter to do his whole duty, while he has such an opportunity to vote for humanity and good order.

SISTERS IN THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

We hope to find many sisters in this great work of temperance reform. There has been no occasion heretofore for awakening a very deep feeling in this cause, in our little county; so as you read the heading of my remarks, you may say it does not mean me. But my dear, kind christian sister it does mean you. The time has come for all christians to be aroused to the importance of this great work; for much is at stake. We know that there among the religious denominations of our town and county real genuine working christian ladies. Do you not think that you ought to; what is your christian duty, to work in this great cause now, at this critical point in our county affairs? Should this question of license or no license be lost now, O! what a shame to our county! What a downfall to the Temperance cause—a cause dear to my heart—and let us all go to work and make it a living acting principle of our lives. Let us not sit still with folded hands and think our duty is done, when we say we hope the Prohibitionists will carry the day; but let us go to work now, to day. We have only two weeks to work in our county before the election takes place; but if all the working ladies of our church societies will unite under the banner of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, as the christian ladies of other towns and cities all over our land have done, then we shall accomplish much for our county, state, and Masters cause. God will help us in this work; we cannot for a moment doubt that he is answering the prayers of his children in this "Union" throughout our country; for they have accomplished a great deal of good. It is true that a few of our leading citizens, and even church members, will say that Prohibitory laws do not accomplish the work that is aimed at, but this is not the facts in the case. Such laws have resulted in good, and will accomplish much more good in the future, when all the christian people of our land will have taken hold of the work. The Prohibitory laws are yet in their infancy, but the time will soon come when the Temperance question will be the leading topic of the day; and then this great Government of ours will reach forth her mighty arm, and in a few fleeting years; stills, grog shops, dram drinking and drunkards will be things of the past. Do you think of it young mothers and sisters, what loads of care and anxiety will be removed from your shoulders? If you have not thought before; think now, think long, and then I am sure you are willing to concentrate all your energies to this great and noble cause; which calls to us from many sources. From the lips of the poor afflicted wife of a drunkard, she says—help my poor husband, he is in the hands of the demon and cannot himself. Even the drunkard himself says put it out of my sight, out of my reach, I have no power left in me to resist. These are not fancies, but facts, several drunkards have told me that they would certainly vote Prohibition. Some will ask what can I do! when shall I begin? Now, is the time, this very moment right at your own fire side, in your parlor, or on the street. Ask your father, husband, sweetheart or friend how he is going to vote on the 20th. If he does not say for Prohibition, or rather Local Option; there is work for you. See what a victory you can win. Yes, let us talk temperance to everybody; let the sentiment be so strong that our friends and our countrymen would be ashamed to let us know that they would cast their vote to license saloons in our much loved county, where we have had none for so long. Let us work to keep down such nuisances, they are stumbling blocks to our husbands who try to lead christian lives, and traps to ensnare our boys; yes, our own beloved boys, who some of us may think, could not fall so low as to be a drunkard; but this is a sad mistake some of the noblest and best have gone to perdition through a glass of wine. Let us work and pray to keep our county from the saloon and the rum mill.

A TEMPERANCE WOMAN.

Let all temperance workers be up and doing from now till the sun goes down on the 20th of this month. We must win. The drinking man, the church member—all, except those who are directly in the traffic, will heartily endorse and approve our course. So let us press forward to victory.

Has opened Law Offices at Richmond, Virginia, Rooms 3 and 4, Rieger Building, Corner 6th and Bank Streets and Wytheville, Virginia, where he will attend to all business connected with his care in the several Courts, State and Federal, of Virginia, and in the Supreme Court of the United States at Washington.

Post-Office address, Richmond. His four year official life in Richmond as Attorney General of the State has made him familiar with the practice of all the courts, and with special reference to the State. He has especial advantages in the defence of Treasurers, Clerks, and other indebted to the State, and in prosecuting claims of all kinds against the State. He has reliable associates at different points in Virginia, and will give strict attention to the collection of all claims entrusted to him. His facilities for practice in the Supreme Courts of Appeals of Virginia, and in the United States Courts are good, and his charges will be reasonable.

THE HOME AND FARM.

APRIL.

April is a busy month from Prince Edwards Island to Puget Sound. When spring comes in the high northern latitudes, it is upon us at once. It is winter one day and almost summer the next.

HOUSEHOLD.

Clean tea or coffee cups with scourer. It makes them look as good as new. Apples keep best in a temperature as near as the freezing point as possible without actually freezing.

A rat-proof corn-bin may be made by lining the inside of an ordinary bin with No. 4 wire.

Fashion Notes.

Bourette gingham are shown. Flowers are arranged as bouquets and aigrettes.

Blue is reinstated and is seen in all materials.

Amber is said to be the most popular of the yellows.

Pongee silk embroidered with chenille is a novelty.

Plain and figured velvets have illuminated effects.

Gilt beads give place to those of copper and bronze.

The Japanese craze has impregnated the spring goods.

Surahs and Phalames in velvet trims continue in favor.

Cream, ecrú and gray crochet laces are used for dress trimmings.

"Arrangements in stripes are as varied as during the past season.

Jet panels have designs of wheat with rich cut pendants like wheat ears.

Entire skirt fronts of embroidery and bead work come among importations.

Ivory white vests are worn with velvet and blue wool basques of dark colors.

Mohair trimmings have dots of tinsel through the centre, and are edged with tinsel.

Blue striped seersuckers again make their appearance, and form a very neat costume.

Norfolk bodices are again worn, as well as position bodices, which are short on the hips.

Duchesse lace over white satin duchesse is a popular bridal dress among the daughters of wealth.

Rough cloths of every kind, but particularly boucle and boutonniere stuffs, are the favorites for spring jackets.

French percales are shown in beautiful designs and colorings. They are in plain and coral stripes and set figures.

"Have another oyster? Do, they are real natives." "Natives, indeed! was the wry-faced reply; 'the last I had was a settler.' 'Be patient with the living,' advises a writer. This sounds like good advice. Patience would be wasted on a dead man.

THE CENTURY.

FOR 1885-86.

The remarkable interest in the war papers and in the many timely articles and strong serial features published recently in the Century has given that magazine a regular circulation of

MORE THAN 200,000 COPIES MONTHLY. Among the features for the coming volume which begins with the November number, are:

THE WAR PAPERS BY GEN. GRANT AND OTHERS. These will be continued (most of
