"DELUSION."

An Ode to R. G. Golsby. I'm on a visit to some friends of mine whose home is midst hills and vales, and views so fine, But "Bob" proclaims a fact so strange and new; He says, "The grass here is not green but blue."

He also states as we drive o'er roads and hills That there are "cattle on a Thousand Hills." But this too is queer, to me at least, For all that I've scarcely seen an "aunted" "Beast." But then alas his eyes may be dim! G perhaps his glasses don't suit him; For he has certainly made some remarks that don't tally, He said that the Grass was green in my Valley."

So any one that knows about Natures Growth Would declare that "All Grass was green," on Oath. But every one "These Days" must have some "Fad," And so long as nothing but "Blue Grass"—That not so bad. And here's hoping that ere he travels from his home, And again to the "Lovely Green Valley" may roam, That his glasses or his eyes which ever it may be Can be adjusted so that he can see as others see. For every one thinks "My Valley," so beautiful, And all can not be so untruthful, So it is his eyes, as can be clearly seen; For he can't see only "Blue Grass" and never Green. A Guest from the "Valley of Virginia."

MRS. JOHN LINDSEY

On Saturday night, June 14th, one of Marion's truest Christian characters passed from suffering on earth to her heavenly reward. Mrs. Beuna Vista Lindsey, wife of John Lindsey, after an illness of two and a half years, died quietly in her little cottage home. In the fall of 1921 she suffered a severe stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered, although she was able from time to time to move about the house and attend to certain household duties. For the greater part of the time however she was an invalid confined to her chair or to her bed, but a bright and cheerful invalid, uncomplaining, brave and happy in her faith. Her many friends delighted to visit her. She was in her 69th year. She was born in Smyth County and spent her life in her native county. In her eighteenth year she was married to John Lindsey and for more than fifty years was to him a true helpmeet and loving wife. They had but one child, Stephen Lindsey, who grew to manhood but preceded his mother to the grave by fifteen years. His widow, Mrs. J. P. Wymer, now living in Marion was like an own daughter to Mrs. Lindsey. The funeral was conducted in the home Monday June 16th at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Her pastor, Rev. G. A. Wilson, Jr., assisted by Rev. J. R. Edwards of the Baptist church conducted the services. The room where the body lay was a mass of beautiful flowers; old hymns beautifully sung, emphasized the sentiment expressed in her last words: "I am going home to rest." The house and porch and yard were filled with friends attending the service. The body was laid to rest in the town cemetery.

Death of E. H. Buchanan.

Edward H. Buchanan one of the best known citizens of our town and county died at his home here in the early morning of June 10th after a short illness. He suffered a stroke of paralysis a few years ago and had never fully recovered from its effect, but had been able to transact his usual business.

Mr. Buchanan was born in Rich Valley in 1857, the son of Thompson and Lucy Buchanan and was the descendant of Capt. John Buchanan one of the pioneer settlers of Smyth County. He connected himself in early life with the Presbyterian church of which his father and grandfather had been Ruling Elders, and when office he himself held for a number of years prior to his death. He was devoted to his church and a strict observer of its ordinances. For some years he was engaged in farming having inherited a portion of the valuable estate on which he was born and reared, but about fifteen years ago he sold his farm and moved to Marion where he purchased the old Judge Richardson home then occupied by the late George W. Wright, and has lived here ever since with the exception of three or four years spent in Americus, Ga., where he was employed in the dairy business. In early manhood he united in marriage with his cousin, Miss Birdie Buchanan, daughter of Hayton Buchanan of Buchanan's Cove, by whom he had four sons all of whom survive him. After the death of his first wife he married Miss Margaret Allison of Pulaski County who survives him.

Mr. Buchanan was a man of genial, courtly manners always dignified and attentive to others. He bore the affliction which came to him in later life with manly fortitude and without complaint. Some years ago he was appointed by Judge Preston W. Campbell, now a member of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, then Circuit Judge of the Judicial District, Commissioner of accounts for Smyth County and he performed the duties of this important office with ability and fidelity, until the date of his death. He had many devoted friends and if such a thing can be said of anyone—no enemies. His life was clean, his motives pure, his character spotless. His death was unusually regretted by the citizens of our town and county.

Funeral services were conducted by his pastor Rev. Goodrich Wilson, assisted by his fraternal of Lynn Commandery, Knights Templar of which he was honored member, in the Presbyterian church at Marion, and his remains were then conducted under Masonic escort to the cemetery of Pleasant Grove church near his old Rich Valley home where his ancestors and relatives rest.

SHOT TO DEATH BY POSSE IN A SIX HOUR BATTLE Martinsburg, W. Va., June 22.—G. E. Spight, a farmer wanted in connection with the killing of U. C. Crawford, a state policeman, was shot to death by a posse today during a gun battle lasting for more than six hours. Spight had barricaded himself in a barn and was found fatally wounded, with seven bullet wounds in his body, when a part of the posse rushed the barn. He died a few minutes later. Lieutenant M. B. Lilly, a member of the posse, was slightly wounded in the face when struck a glancing blow by a bullet. No other member of the posse was injured, although officers declared hundreds of shots were fired during the battle. Spight was treated today after the posse, under command of Sheriff William Dean, and composed of twenty state policemen and 100 citizens, had circled the mounts of Berkeley County for 24 hours hunting for him. The man, armed with a rifle and pistol, took refuge in a barn and when he refused to surrender, the battle began. After hours of firing, Lieutenant Lilly headed a squad that rushed the barn and found Spight fatally wounded. He declared his intention to surrender but died a short time later. Spight was charged with having killed Trooper Crawford last Friday night when officers went to arrest him on a charge of having threatened to kill a county auctioneer who had been ordered to sell Spight's property for a debt. ### GROUP GATHERING

Last Sunday morning at 10:00 A. M. six union Sunday Schools, and three Denominational Schools, met in the beautiful sugar orchard of Mr. Wards at Sugar Grove, Va., where they were assembled in one big session of Sunday School.

Possibly one of the most interesting features of the program was the teaching of the Sunday School lesson by most efficient teachers to be found anywhere. The Bible Class was taught by Mr. Robt. McDonald, Marion, Virginia, who held his class of more than 200 spell-bound throughout the lesson period.

The adult class was taught by Mr. John R. Collins of Marion, Virginia, who with his wonderful methods of teaching young men and women, had full control of the large class he taught. The Junior Class was taught by Mr. John E. Crymes, Supt. of the Southern District of the American S. S. Union, Chattanooga, Tenn. He knows just how to get the attention of everyone. The little children were taught by our beloved Rev. Marrell of Cedar Springs, who knows the parables and stories to convey the Bible Lesson to the young minds. The Rev. A. E. Browne, missionary of the American S. S. Union, Mountain City, Tenn., brought us wonderful message from Gods Word at the eleven o'clock hour. Dinner was served.

On account of the rain our program was taken to the Baptist church, whose doors were open to our disposal. Brother Crymes presented the work of the American Sunday School Union, followed by round table.

The program was interesting throughout the vote was unanimous to have a group gathering next year. E. L. DOUGLASS, Missionary, American S. S. Union.

Phillippie-Wolfe Wedding.

On Thursday, June 19th at high noon Miss Helen Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. M. Wolfe of Marion, Va., became the bride of Mr. William Phillippi of Chicago, Ill.

The entire lower floor of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe was tastefully decorated, the living room was a bower of evergreens, potted plants, pink peonies, white roses and mountain laurel, on either side of the side of the arch, where the couple plighted their troth burned thirty cathedral candles.

The dining room was tastefully decorated in pink, peonies and evergreens. In this room the numerous bridal presents were displayed.

As the guests arrived they were greeted at the door by Miss Lora Hester and Mrs. J. A. Thompson. At high noon, Mrs. Max Marks delighted her hearers with two songs "Love Sends a little Gift of Roses" and "I Love You Truly," Miss Roxie Francis at the piano then started Lohengrins wedding march.

The first of the bridal party to enter the room was little Miss Eunice Marks carrying the ring in a white rose, Miss Horinda Wolfe, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and wore a becoming gown of orchid georgette crepe over pink satin and carried pink rose buds. The groom and his best man, Mr. Reba Atkins came through a side door and waited the appearance of the bride. Little Miss Jean Alyn Marks preceded the bride scattering rose petals in her path.

The bride entered on the arm of her mother, who gave her away in marriage, Rev. Schuler, grandfather of the groom, performed the impressive ring ceremony of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Phillippi was becomingly attired in a blue coat suit with accessories to harmonize in grey and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Her mother wore a black satin crepe with touches of coral and gold. Her flowers were the Marshal Niel. The little Marks sisters looked like fairies dressed in pink and blue organdie dresses with hats to match.

Mrs. Phillippi is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. M. Wolfe and her many friends in Marion who sincerely regret that she will not reside among them.

Mr. Phillippi is the son of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Phillippi of Littleton, Ill. He has many relatives in this part of Virginia. Mr. Phillippi holds a responsible position with the Western Electric Co., and has built a lovely home in Downers Grove, Ill., where he and his bride will live. The happy young couple left on train No. 12 for Chicago where they will remain until Monday morning. From there they will motor through Illinois and Indiana visiting relatives in Littleton and elsewhere.

On Wednesday evening, following the wedding rehearsal, Miss Wolfe entertained her young girl friends and a few of the bridal party.

Old fashioned games were played and the feature of the evening was cutting the brides cake. The cake was made and decorated by Armand Hicks of Bristol as a gift to the bride and contained the various symbols. Miss Virginia Seaver cut the ring, Mr. Schuler cousin of the groom cut the bachelor button, Miss Elizabeth Pendleton cut the thimble, Mrs. Z. M. Wolfe cut the dime and Mr. Reba Atkins cut the needle.

TRAIN WRECKES A TRUCK

Last Saturday as Mr. R. S. Sprinkle, Jr., was crossing the Norfolk & Western Railway tracks of his way home for his dinner, his big 5-ton Republic truck was struck by passenger train No. 12, east bound and literally demolished. As we hear the report the electric signal at the crossing was not working and did not announce the approach of the train, nor did the engineer blow for the crossing; the view in the direction of the approaching train was blocked by some box cars standing on the track. The first intimation Mr. Sprinkle had of the train's approach was a warning call from Mr. Long, who saw the danger; the train was too close to permit of the truck getting across, and Mr. Sprinkle jumped from the cab of the truck just in time to save himself. The engine hit the truck about the radiator, and what it did for the truck was a plenty the motor being badly smashed.

Mr. Sprinkle requests us to say that while his big truck is put out of commission that he is still in the drayage business, has other trucks and can attend to all business entrusted to him as promptly as ever. He is to be heartily congratulated on his escaped from personal injury.

MUSIC ROUNDS OUT CHILD'S CHARACTER

Music is not merely a privilege to be enjoyed by those children whose parents may happen to be in a position to pay for their training and for the necessary instrument. Music is the child's birthright. Music was created for him, for it was here when he arrived. Music was in the world before the coming of man. It was here in the singing birds, in the rustling of the leaves, in the whisperings of the winds, and in the running streams.

Only two per cent of the children are tone deaf, the other ninety-eight per cent have some musical capacity in varying degrees naturally, but they all have it. Some will take more readily to mathematics than others, who again may become more efficient in literature, in history, or in languages.

But because all children have not the same capacity in these subjects there is no reason for keeping a knowledge of these and other subjects from them. The parent is anxious that the child shall have some musical instruction, but not necessarily with the idea of making a professional of the child, but for the rounding out of his character and for all the mental and physical advantages that musical instruction provides.—National Bureau for the Advancement of Music.

NATIVE MEZZO SOPRAMO SINGS AT CHAUTAUQUA

Among the several musical attractions on this year's Chautauqua program to be presented during the week of June 20-26 in Roanoke, none seems to hold greater popularity with audiences than Louise Stallings, an American mezzo soprano who has been credited by critics since her debut a few years ago with possessing voice and personality to carry her far and successfully as a concert singer.

Miss Stallings lays proud claim to rural origin and this direct contact with nature may have much to do with her powers to interpret moods in song, since this particular art and nature have much in common.

The young singer has been heard often since she ascended the professional stage, always with pleasure for her audiences and she is very well and favorably known by radio fans. It is understood her program is designed to satisfy all tastes in song and her initial appearance here although under a "big top" may be looked forward to as a musical treat. Louise Stallings will sing at the Marion Chautauqua beginning the 27 of June.—Roanoke Times.

A COMMUNITY MEETING.

Arrangements have been made (if the weather is fair) to hold a religious service for the people in the neighborhood of Debor's school house next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The service will be held under the trees near the site where the old school house stood. Rev. E. H. Copenhaver will be in charge. At the close, the matter of conducting a Sunday School in the community and holding occasional preaching services will be considered. A fine meeting is expected. Everybody is urged to attend and to help make next Sunday memorable in that neighborhood. All are requested to bring their hymnals and to join in making the hills and hollows reverberate with the melody of sacred song.

He was shot through the body and its was found necessary to remove parts of the intestines as a result. # STYLE

IT isn't so easy to explain style. The jazz ideas don't make style. On the contrary, style is that something in clothes that gets over the impression of correctness. You see it in the lines. In the cut. In the position of the buttons. In the shape of the lapels. In the width of the trousers.

When we say that Griffon Clothes is style, we mean good style—dignified style—dressy style.

Why don't you take a look at the suits styled in the Griffon manner?

THE PLATFORM OF 1924

As Adopted by Republican National Convention at Cleveland, June 12

I—The Preamble

We, the delegates of the Republican party, in national convention assembled, bow our heads in reverent memory of Warren G. Harding. We nominated him four years ago to be our candidate; the people of the nation elected him their President. His human qualities groped the affections of the American people. He was a public servant, unswerving in his devotion to duty. A staunch Republican. He was first of all a true patriot who gave unstintingly of himself during a trying and critical period of our national life. His conception and successful direction of the limitation of armaments conference in Washington was an achievement which measurably advanced the world along the path toward peace.

As delegates of the Republican party we share in the national thanks giving that, in the great emergency created by the death of President Harding there stood forth fully equipped to be his successor one whom we had nominated as Vice President—Calvin Coolidge. As Vice President and as President, by word and deed, he has justified the faith and confidence which inspired his selection. He has put the public welfare ahead of all other consideration. He has given to the people practical idealism in office. In his every act he has won, without seeking, the applause of the people of the country. The constantly accumulating evidence of his integrity, vision and singleminded devotion to the needs of the people of the nation, strength and inspires our confident faith in his continued leadership.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by the Woman's Auxiliary and the Sunday School Rich Valley Presbyterian church.

Inasmuch as God has removed from our midst and fellowship one of our most faithful and beloved workers, namely, Mrs. Mary Louise Hays, the Women's Auxiliary and the Sunday School adopt the following memorial resolutions:

That in the death of Mrs. Hays the Society has lost a faithful member and an efficient officer; the Sunday School an earnest and consecrated teacher.

That the community has lost a woman whose influence for good was far reaching and whose devotion to the highest ideals of the Christian life was positive and unflinching.

That an assurance of sympathy and personal interest in the Christian welfare of her family is extended to her husband and children.

That the following Scripture is especially appropriate to her memory: "Blessed be the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

MARION PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The authorities of the Marion Schools have just recently received a report from the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, which should be very gratifying to the patrons in Marion and the County. The list of the members of the Association in Virginia are forty-one private schools, academies and public high schools, and the Marion High School stands tenth in this list of all of the schools in this state belonging to this Association. Any students graduating from this school are given recognition for their work in any of the schools of the southern states. This report should be an incentive for the patrons to add to the schools and supply equipment and things necessary for properly conducting laboratory work in several sciences, making additions to the schools' supplying proper physical education and helping the schools to continue their growth and keep abreast with the requirements constantly being added to and demanded.

A more detailed report with statistics will be published later.

He banked his Money, He became a Partner.

Big business men are always on the lookout for young men who have the qualifications for big positions. The main thing they want to know is: "Does he have the MONEY SENSE?" That question can only be answered in one way: by a Pass Book showing REGULAR deposits. The routine of the business man can be taught, but the value of money he must learn for himself with his own money.

We will welcome you.
